TO U. S. TO INVOKE PACT AS TO ITALYEmperor Points Out That Mussolini Has Renounced War as Instrument of National Policy.NOTE AWAITED
AT WASHINGTONMatter Must Be Handled With Care—Treaty Has Already Caused Two Diplomatic Disputes.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Secretary of State Hull said today that until the State Department has studied the text of the appeal of the Emperor of Ethiopia for invoking the Kellogg-Briand peace pact in its dispute with Italy, the United States will take no action.

William Perry George, Secretary of the American Legation in Addis Ababa, has informed the department of the oral and written plea for the United States to bring about a peaceful solution, but the formal note has not been received.

Explaining that George had been instructed to cable the text here, Hull declined any comment concerning this Government's reaction to the Ethiopian plea.

He said no other country had made overtures to this Government on the question, and the United States had not consulted any other Government.

The State Department, he added, had no information of the shipment of war munitions to Ethiopia by any American firms, but is now compiling a clarifying statement of American policies concerning arms embargo questions which will soon be available for general reference.

He said the preparation of this statement was undertaken some time ago and was in no way connected with the Ethiopian situation.

It is admitted here that the Ethiopian appeal must be handled with extreme care.

The United States has twice invoked the pact and each time regarded the matter as a diplomatic controversy.

Soviet Russia expressed its disapproval of American action in blunt language when Henry L. Stimson, then Secretary of State, called on the Soviet Union and China to live up to their obligations under the treaty and end hostilities on the Manchurian border in 1929.

Two years later Stimson invoked the pact in an attempt to stop Japanese-Chinese hostilities. Japan disapproved the diplomatic intervention, completed the conquest of the Manchurian Provinces, and then sponsored the creation of the Empire of Manchoukuo. The United States and other nations, with the exception of El Salvador, have since refused to recognize the Manchoukuo Government.

Note Says Italy Is Threatening Independence of Ethiopia.

By the Associated Press.

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, July 5.—Ethiopia, in a note delivered to William Perry George, the United States Charge d'Affaires here, asked the United States to invoke the Kellogg-Briand pact, under which Italy renounced war as an instrument of national policy.

The five-page communication, citing the massing of men and munitions in African colonies as evidence that Italy has warlike intentions, urged that the United States seek to make Italy adhere to the pact.

The note repeated the determination of Emperor Haile Selassie to defend the integrity and independence of his empire by legal means in an effort to settle the issues peacefully.

Tracing the development of the Italian-Ethiopian controversy from scattered border incidents to a major problem, the note contended that Ethiopia's independence was now being threatened with conquest by Italy.

Simultaneously with delivery of the note, Ethiopian authorities disclosed that they were having difficulties in obtaining munitions from European manufacturers.

They asserted that Denmark refused to deliver munitions after accepting an offer; the Skoda Works of Czechoslovakia refused to deliver artillery after taking an order; and French munitions factories declined Ethiopian orders.

Belgium, they said, put an embargo on export to Ethiopia of 7,000,000 cartridges after delivering the first shipments of an order for 10,000,000.

Marry His Secretary.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, July 5.—George Washington Hill, 51 years old of New York, a widower and director of the Henry Clay & Bock Co., limited, and Mary Barnes, 39, have given notice to the London register office of their forthcoming marriage.

Hill was accompanied to London by his daughter, Gertrude.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 5.—The mother of Mary T. Barnes today identified the George Washington Hill planning a London marriage as the 51-year-old millionaire president of the American Tobacco Company. Miss Barnes, Hill's bride-to-be, is his secretary.

Her mother, Mrs. Bridget Barnes, said, "I knew the marriage was coming."

Hill's first wife, who died about eight years ago, was the former Miss Aquinas M. Heller. They had two children.

He succeeded to the presidency of the American Tobacco Co. on the death of his father, Percival S. Hill, in 1925. Forty-two years old, he was one of the youngest executives of a large corporation in the country. He had gone into the office of the company in 1904, on leaving Williams College. In 1931 his income from the business was about $2,283,000.

It was under his direction that the company launched an advertising campaign which boomed cigarette sales, particularly among women, but resulted in a controversy between his firm and candy manufacturers over the slogan, "Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet."

Hill, who originated the slogan, in a magazine article defended the campaign and said it had increased sales of candy as well as cigarettes. He told how the idea came to him—as he waited at a traffic signal in New York and saw a stout woman munching on a chocolate, while a slender blonde took advantage of the delay to light a cigarette.

Hill, according to another writer, "determined to teach a nation of maidens and maidens that if they did not want to fall before the most horrible and dreaded of all fates—to get fat—they must smoke instead of eating candy." Hill said slender women began eating candy to put on weight.

24 INJURED WHEN TRAIN HITS WASHOUT IN MONTANAGreat Northern Transcontinental Flyer Derailed—Four Cars Turn Over.

BAINVILLE, Mont., July 5.—The Great Northern Railway's Empire Builder, transcontinental passenger train, plunged into a washout and was derailed early today, injuring 24 persons, at least two seriously.

Eight cars of the 16-coach train jumped the tracks, four of them rolling over. The engine remained upright.

The accident occurred at 2:20 a. m. shortly after a cloudburst washed away a thousand feet of track. First reports were that a wall of water swept down a hill, just ahead of the westbound flyer, preventing the operation of the block signal system.

The train, traveling at a moderate rate of speed, lurched to a jolting stop. The passengers said many persons, sleeping at the time, were hurled from their berths. The injured were taken to Williston, N. D., about 60 miles from here.

All main line traffic on the Great Northern was tied up in this vicinity.

Apparently Shot With .22

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBIA, Mo., July 5.—Without apparent motive, a definite suspect, or clues pointing to any logical explanation of the murder, Columbia officers today sought solution of the killing Wednesday of Mrs. Eula Northcutt, 38-year-old wife of the Boone County Superintendent of Schools.

The newest development in the case was a search by police for an unidentified woman who was believed to have been at the Northcutt home shortly before the killing. This woman, police asserted, was heard talking to Mrs. Northcutt about 11 o'clock by witnesses officers refused to name. A man, also as yet unidentified, police learned, was a caller at the Northcutt home around 10 o'clock.

Nature of Mrs. Northcutt's death, Coroner Ed G. Davis and other Boone County officers asserted, precluded any possibility of accident or suicide. Shot through the top of her head with a .22 caliber bullet, Mrs. Northcutt's body was found about 12:30 p. m. by her husband, Charles E. Northcutt, facing up with the feet out the front door of their West Side Columbia home.

Rifle to Be Tested.

Police announced an attempt is to be made to determine whether parts of a small bullet removed from Mrs. Northcutt's head were fired from a .22-caliber single-shot target rifle found by police at the Northcutt home Wednesday. The rifle and bullet are to be sent to St. Louis for ballistic tests. Northcutt said the rifle, found in a garage behind his home, was one which he had not used recently, but kept for shooting sparrows. Chief of Police William H. Sepp, who has been in Buffalo, N. Y., all week in an attempt to extradite a man he identified as George Farmer, wanted for robbery of the Hallsville, Mo., Bank of Boone County in November, 1931.

Questioned by police for more than an hour late Wednesday night, Northcutt was able to give but little information in addition to the story he had told earlier of his discovery of his wife's body. Northcutt, who had talked by telephone to his wife at 11 a. m., said he found the body on his arrival home for lunch.

No Suspicions at First.

The school head asserted he first believed his wife had died from natural or accidental causes. The body had been removed to a funeral home here before, as the result of suspicions aroused by the unusual appearance of the wound, an autopsy was ordered by Coroner E. G. Davis.

Dr. M. Pinson Neal of the University of Missouri School of Medicine, autopsy surgeon, found several small pieces of bullet lead and a small bullet jacket which had mushroomed to the size of a dime. The wound, directly on top of and in the center of the skull, was about four inches deep and without powder burns.

Beneath Mrs. Northcutt's right arm was found a mop and a broom. From this officers theorized that the only reasonably possible manner in which the killing could have been accomplished was the firing downward from a stairway in the front room of the Northcutt home into Mrs. Northcutt's head as she stooped to mop or sweep.

ALLEGED EXTORTIONIST KILLED BY CUBAN OFFICERSHe and Four Others Said to Have Been Trying to Collect $25,000
From Merchant.

By the Associated Press.

CAMAGUEY, Cuba, July 5.—An alleged extortionist, Jorge Garcia, was shot and killed today by army intelligence men when he and four companions assertedly tried to collect $25,000 from Manuel Lopez, Camaguey merchant.

The other four men, allegedly engaged with Garcia in a plot to kidnap Lopez's daughter, escaped under fire.

A threatening letter received by the merchant was turned over to the army intelligence men who concealed themselves around the park where the pay-off was to be made.

When Garcia and his companions appeared and took from Lopez what they thought was the money demanded, agents stepped forward to arrest the group. Garcia opened fire, but missed and was killed by the Government men. With the return fire the others fled.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—The Treasury reports that the mints during the fiscal year just ended had a domestic output of 608,414,207 coins valued at $39,131,127. This compared with 46,834,250 coins in the 1934 fiscal year, with a value of $3,499,125.

The largest calendar year production in the last decade occurred in 1929 when the output was 385,582,950, with a value of $54,225,400. This, however, included gold coinage, since abandoned. The gold coins were largely responsible for the high value.

In addition to the domestic coinage for the last fiscal year, the mints produced 68,500,401 pieces for several Latin-American governments.

The total number of coins included 412,266,000 pennies, 61,982,003 nickels, 69,413,000 dimes, 40,905,252 quarters and 18,212,395 half dollars.

A steel tower of the St. Louis Gas & Coke Corporation was wrecked by dynamite last night on the East Side levee, about a mile north of Eads Bridge, and two 33,000-volt cables stretching to the St. Louis side snapped and fell into the Mississippi River.

The cables carried power to the plant of the Laclede Power & Light Co., at Main and Mullanphy streets. The latter company is affiliated with the Laclede Gas Light Co., where a strike of mechanical department employees has been in progress since March 28. The St. Louis Gas & Coke Corporation is a former affiliate of the Laclede companies, but is now in Federal receivership operating under the jurisdiction of Federal Court.

Two explosions, heard over a wide area at 9:15 o'clock, smashed the concrete foundations of the structure, which was about 175 feet high, and it crashed to the levee a mass of tangled steel. The heavy cables fell into the river.

Lines Fall Across Cottage.

In falling, the tower cut through four cables carrying power from the Cahokia plant to the Union Electric Light & Power Co. to Granite City and Alton. These lines fell across the river-bank cottage of Sam Hart, a short distance to the south. Hart and his wife, 80 years old, were standing alongside their home when the explosions occurred. Mrs. Hart was thrown against the wall, suffering shock and injuries which confined her to her bed today.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 5.—A Fourth of July crowd saw another chunk of Table Rock blasted away at Niagara Falls.

The first chunk, about 50 feet long, 20 feet deep and seven feet wide was blasted away as crowds lined the railings on both the Canadian and the United States sides of the gorge. From the point on the United States mainland and Terrapin Point on Goat Island.

Engineers filed 48 holes, 20 feet deep in the rock, with 144 pounds of dynamite and 432 pounds of powder. Nine pounds of powder and three of dynamite were placed in each hole.

Most observed the second blast.

Ellison C. Kaumeyer, general manager of the Parks Commission, and John L. Gardner, blasting engineer, said it would be necessary to blow another chunk from the rock tomorrow, when it would be decided whether to carry the Table Rock still farther back.

MAID TELLS ON BOSS;
NO CASE, SAYS JUDGEHusband's Misconduct Wife Doesn't Know About No Ground for Separation.

By the Associated Press.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 5.—A husband's affair with his wife's maid, if conducted discreetly and quietly, does not warrant legal separation on the ground of adultery, Supreme Court Justice Raymond E. Aldrich ruled today.

Justice Aldrich's finding was made in granting separation on ground of desertion to Mrs. Etta S. Miller from Robert McWilliam Miller, Manhattan attorney.

Mrs. Miller had alleged her husband had been unduly attentive to her French maid, Mlle. Marguerite Jeanneret, who, testifying in Mrs. Miller's behalf, admitted misconduct with Miller for six months.

"I believe," ruled Justice Aldrich, "from observing her (Mlle. Jeanneret) on the stand and the surrounding circumstances that her statement of her relations with the defendant is true."

"But those relations were of a clandestine nature, quite concealed from the plaintiff (Mrs. Miller) and unknown to the public. In my opinion such evidence does not measure up to the test of adultery as ground for separation under decisions of the Court of Appeals."

The Court, however, found that Miller had abandoned Mrs. Miller and their two small children, Patricia Ann, 9, when he walked out of the 13-room home at New Rochelle, in 1933.

He awarded Mrs. Miller $50 a week alimony, although she had asked for $1000 a week.

In making the award, the Court took judicial notice of an alleged interest Miller had in Countess Emilie Birli, former hotel operator at Lumberville, Pa., saying, "the real truth of the matter is that the defendant became more interested in the witness, Birli, than in his wife and children."

"Things finally reached the point," Justice Aldrich went on, "where he was perfectly willing to abandon his wife and children for the opportunity of unlimited association with this other woman."

Observing their relations were not "above reproach," the Court said, however, they did not appear to be "of such a public nature, or so flaunted in the face of the plaintiff and her friends and associates that the Court would be justified in granting a separation on this ground."

MAXIMUM HOURS ON WORKS
JOBS CUT TO 140 A MONTHHopkins Makes Some Exceptions; Relief Wage Scale Ranges
From $19 to $94.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Administrator Harry L. Hopkins today reduced the maximum hours of labor on Works Progress Administration projects to 140 a month, a little more than the PWA limit.

When $19 to $94 wage relief wage scales were announced recently, maximum hours were placed at 40 a week, or 180 a month.

Hopkins ordered a maximum of eight hours a day and 70 in any semi-monthly period. He made an exception, however, "in the case of an emergency involving the public welfare or the protection of the work already done on a project," and in exceptional cases where it would not be "feasible or practical" to limit hours to 140 a month.

The PWA maximum was continued by Hopkins at 130 a month, with clerical employees to work eight hours a day and 40 a week.

Bars Interference by Employers—Board of Three Set Up.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—The Wagner labor disputes bill, intended to guarantee to labor the right to bargain collectively, was signed today by President Roosevelt.

The bill, designed to supersede the now dead section 7A of the National Recovery Act, would set up a new National Labor Relations Board of three members, yet to be appointed.

It gives the labor organization chosen by a majority of employees in a plant the right to speak for all of the employees, and forbids employers from interfering with the self-organization of employees.

The Labor Board may order employee elections if there is a dispute over what organization or individual represents a majority of employees in a plant for collective bargaining.

The President in a statement described the bill "as an important step toward the achievement of just and peaceful labor relations in industry."

He explained that the new National Labor Relations Board provided by the legislation would serve purely as a quasi-judicial body to assure employees the right of collective bargaining.

Statement by President.

The statement by the President follows:

"This act defines, as a part of our substantive law, the right of self-organization of employees in industry for the purpose of collective bargaining, and provides methods by which the Government can safeguard that legal right."

"It establishes a National Labor Relations Board to hear and determine cases in which it is charged that this legal right is abridged or denied, and to hold fair elections to ascertain who are the chosen representatives of employees."

"A better relationship between labor and management is the high purpose of this act."

"By assuring the employees the right of collective bargaining it fosters the development of the employment contract on a sound and equitable basis."

"By providing an orderly procedure for determining who is entitled to represent the employees, it aims to remove one of the chief causes of wasteful economic strife."

"By preventing practices which tend to destroy the independence of labor, it seeks, for every worker with its scope, that freedom of choice and action which is justly his."

Purpose of Board.

"The National Labor Relations Board will be an independent quasi-judicial body. It should be clearly understood that it will not act as mediator or conciliator in labor disputes."

"The function of mediation remains, under this act, the duty of the Secretary of Labor and the conciliation service of the Department of Labor."

"It is important that the judicial function and the mediation function should not be confused."

"Compromise, the essence of mediation, has no place in the interpretation and enforcement of the law."

"This act, defining rights, the enforcement of which is recognized by the Congress to be necessary as both an act of common justice and economic advance, must not be misinterpreted."

"It may eventually eliminate one major cause of labor disputes, but it will not stop all labor disputes."

"It does not cover all industry and labor, but is applicable only when violation of the legal right of independent self-organization would burden or obstruct interstate commerce."

"Accepted by management, labor and the public with a sense of sober responsibility and of willing co-operation, however, it should serve as an important step toward the

THREAT OF SPLIT IN ADMINISTRATION OVER POWER ISSUE

Division of Forces in Congress Emphasized by Row in House Over Lobby Inquiry.

BLANTON ATTACKS SENATE PROPOSAL

Rankin Replies, Says Investigation Will Disclose 'Saturnalia of Propaganda and Money.'

By MARQUIS W. CHILDS, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Democrats in the House managed in a 10-minute session today to become involved in a quarrel over the power issue which threatens to split administration forces in Congress.

Today's quarrel was over the proposed investigation by both houses of the utility and White House lobbies and the part they played in influencing passage of the holding company bill of the "death sentence" provision on which President Roosevelt has insisted.

Representative Blanton rose to ask for unanimous consent to extend his remarks criticizing the proposed Senate investigation because it would cost $250,000. This brought an immediate challenge from Representative Rankin (Dem.), Mississippi, who has been President Roosevelt's staunchest adherent throughout the power fight.

"It will take a thorough investigation to show that the House doesn't know already," Rankin said, gesturing angrily at Blanton. "It will show a saturnalia of propaganda and money and influence."

"Why the Senate can't find out anything that the House doesn't know already," Blanton replied.

Charge of "White Wash."

The House investigation into the lobbies on both sides of the utility issue will be conducted by the House Rules Committee, of which John O'Connor (Dem.), New York, is chairman.

It has been charged that the House investigation would be a "white wash." Hearings are to begin Monday although Speaker Byrns said today that he expected the first meeting would be given to preliminary arrangements.

Senator Blanton (Dem.) of Alabama in a speech of the Senate investigation into lobbying, with particular reference to the utility lobby. He is one of the most capable men in the Senate and conducted a long and searching investigation into the system of ship and air mail subsidies. It is generally recognized that he will not pull his punches if the Senate authorizes the investigation he has requested.

The proposed Senate investigation has been reported favorably from committee and is now before the Audit and Control Committee which must pass on the appropriation requested. Black has said that he wants to begin hearings at the earliest opportunity, that there is no statutory crime of bribery in New Jersey; that there was no evidence of entering with intent to steal and petit larceny is not a felony.

Investigation into the White House and utility lobbies followed charges made by Representative Brewster (Rep.), Maine, that Thomas Corcoran, an important member of the White House "brain trust" and one of the authors of the original holding company bill, had told him that he did not vote for the "death sentence," Maine would not be granted Federal funds for the Passamaquoddy Bay power project. This brought immediate counter charges, with Representative Rankin insisting that the utility lobby also be investigated.

Republican members of the Rules Committee, led by Representative Mapes (Rep.), Michigan, insist that they will compel Chairman O'Connor to call all White House aides who have lobbied for the "death sentence," including, besides Corcoran, Charles West, former Congressman from Ohio and chief liaison officer between the White House and "The Hill," and Emil Hurja, assistant to Postmaster-General Farley as patronage dispenser for the administration.

Fight Over TVA Amendments.

The brief quarrel today was a forecast of what may be expected when the House meets again on Monday to take up the TVA amendments. Here, too, the power issue is sharply to the fore and the same bloc of Democrats, which includes such diverse elements as the delegation from Tammany Hall in New York and old-line Democrats from the deep South, have made it plain they will not support the administration.

The TVA amendments, as passed by the Senate, would circumvent the decision of Federal Judge Grubb at Birmingham, Ala., who ruled that many of the TVA's activities were unconstitutional. Besides, this, the Senate amendments to the TVA act would give the valley authority increased powers to disseminate.

tribute Government-generated electricity and would make an additional $500,000 available to the TVA for expansion.

A bitter fight on TVA is expected. Chairman McSwain of the House Military Affairs Committee insists that the House will vote for the amendments approved by his committee, greatly curtailing the functions of the TVA. The issue is almost identical with that which was fought out in passage of the holding company bill last week. As on that question, the conservative Democrats in the House propose to crack down on the action taken by the more liberal Democratic majority in the Senate.

Heat Cuts Attendance.

As Washington sweltered under a blazing sun, with humidity of tropical intensity, it was plain that Administration leaders would have no easy task. It will be increasingly difficult even to compel a sufficient attendance on the part of the Democratic majority as the summer deepens and temperatures mount.

Only a scattering handful were present for today's session, the majority having taken advantage of the Fourth of July holiday to seek cool refuges at the beaches scattered along the Atlantic Coast northward. The House transacted no business and, as soon as the spat between Rankin and Blanton subsided, voted to adjourn.

HAUPTMANN LAWYERS FILE SUPPLEMENTAL BRIEF FOR HIM

Attack Conviction on Five Points, Including Alleged Invasion of Constitutional Rights

TRENTON, N. J., July 5.—Attorneys for Bruno Richard Hauptmann today filed a supplemental brief, prepared by leave of New Jersey's high court, attacking Hauptmann's conviction for the murder of baby Charles A. Lindbergh Jr., on five points.

The points are: That the summation of Attorney-General David T. Wilentz in the trial of Hauptmann was so prejudicial that it warranted reversal; that there was material variance of the theory of death injected into the case on the summation of the Attorney-General; that the defendant's constitutional rights under the fourteenth amendment were controverted; that there is no statutory crime of burglary in New Jersey; that there was no evidence of entering with intent to steal and petit larceny is not a felony.

PARDON BOARD WILL HEAR PLEAS FOR 3 YOUNG KILLERS

Attorneys, Relatives and Friends of Dedmon, Krul and Balling to Appear Monday.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 5.—The State Pardon Board agreed today to hold a hearing Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock to consider pleas for clemency for Van Buren Dedmon, John Krul and Edward Balling, under sentence to die in the electric chair soon after midnight Monday for the murder of William C. Moss in East St. Louis.

Attorneys, friends and relatives will appear before the board to urge that their sentences be commuted to life imprisonment. The board will consider its decision in executive session and will make a recommendation to the Governor.

The three condemned youths, who are at Chester penitentiary, have had two reprieves. Moss, a street car motorman, was shot and killed in a holdup last Feb. 22. They were found guilty and sentenced to die on April 14.

JOHN J. BERNET, C. & O. RAILROAD HEAD, DIES

Chief Adviser to Van Sweringen Brothers Also President of Pere Marquette.

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., July 5.—John J. Bernet, president of the Chesapeake & Ohio and Pere Marquette Railroads and chief adviser to the Van Sweringen brothers, died today at his home after a short illness. He was 67 years old.

He suffered a general breakdown two weeks ago, but even intimate friends did not realize the seriousness of his condition.

Funeral services will be held Monday.

He was born at Brant, N. Y., near Buffalo, Feb. 9, 1868, and had a public school education. When ready to go to work he went into his father's blacksmith shop, which had been set up at a country crossroads. One day as they worked at the forge, the elder Bernet paused as he allowed his hammer to come to rest on the anvil. Looking at his son, as if with a tinge of regret, he said: "It's no use, John, you'll never make a blacksmith. Your close isn't good enough to finish your iron properly. Go try something else, you'll never do here."

The boy wandered over to a railroad switch stand of the old Lake Shore & Michigan Southern and became fascinated by the ticking of the telegraph instrument. He was given an opportunity to learn it and when he had mastered the art of sending and receiving by code he learned upon his railroad career.

From that point his progress was rapid. In succession he became a telegraph operator, train dispatcher, train master, assistant superintendent, division superintendent, general superintendent and then vice president of the New York Central Lines west of Buffalo, that system having acquired the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern.

In 1916, Orris P. and Mantis J. Van Sweringen of Cleveland bought the Nickel Plate road running from Buffalo to Cleveland. They began looking for the best man to run their railroad and make it pay dividends and found him in Mr. Bernet.

ETHIOPIA APPEALS TO U. S. TO INVOKE PACT AS TO ITALY

flot between Ethiopian and Italian forces on the border of the Italian Colony of Eritrea were reaching this capital.

The rumors said that Italians crossed the Eritrean border and disregarded orders from Dejaz Ayale, Ethiopian Provincial Governor entrusted with frontier defense to withdraw. Heavy casualties were said to have been incurred and the Italians were beaten back in the resultant battle.

An Italian Government spokesman said at Rome that Ethiopia's appeal to the United States under the Kellogg Pact would not change Italy's attitude toward the African Empire. The spokesman said that, for the moment, no official notice would be given the appeal.

ROBBED OF $340 IN HOLDUP

Sam Cusumano Says Armed Man Jumped Onto His Truck.

Sam Cusumano reported to police that he was robbed of $340 shortly after noon today by an armed man who jumped on the running board of his truck at Broadway and Cass avenue.

He said he was on his way to deposit the money at the Cass Bank and Trust Co., Cass avenue and Thirteenth street, for his father, Joseph Cusumano, a fruit merchant at 1426 North Tenth street.

After taking the money, the robber ran north on Broadway, he said.

FIRE DESTROYS WAREHOUSE NEAR M'KINLEY BRIDGE

Fire of undetermined origin early today destroyed the warehouse of the Theiling-Lothman Manufacturing Co., 8700 North Broadway, and a $35,000 stock of doors, sashes and other millwork.

23 Pieces of Equipment Fight Early Morning 3-Alarm Blaze at Theiling-Lothman Building.

The total damage was estimated by Fire Chief O'Boyle at $50,000. The brick building, on the east side of Broadway, immediately south of the approach to the McKinley Bridge, formerly was used by the Public Service Co. as a car barn.

For a time after the blaze was discovered, at 1:45 a. m., by a policeman stationed on the bridge, wooden portions of the bridge approach were threatened. Streams of water were poured on the bridge, and on piles of lumber in the yard of the Charles Naber Lumber Co., just north of the bridge.

A coal bin of the Public Service Co., east of the burning building, was soaked with water to keep the flames from spreading there.

Three Alarms.

Three alarms sent 23 pieces of fire-fighting equipment to the scene. Water was poured on the roof from one of the department's water towers. Two aerial trucks were used for a time, but the wind from the north and east whipped the flames out toward the extension ladders up which firemen had climbed, and these trucks had to be withdrawn.

Five streams of water were poured into the flames from the vehicle deck of the McKinley Bridge approach. Traffic over the bridge was interrupted for 2 until 4 a. m. When a part of the north wall of the burning building collapsed some of the debris fell on the roadway of the approach. The east wall was leveled, part of the south wall fell, and the roof collapsed.

Six hours after the fire was discovered, the charred ruins still were smoldering. Firemen directed several streams of water into them.

Vehicle traffic on Broadway between Mallinckrodt street and Bremen avenue was re-routed during the early business hours today to Ninth street, a block west. Broadway street cars were re-routed over the Beaufort line until 5:45 a. m., when they returned to their own tracks.

One fireman, Private Peter Zoeller of Engine Co. No. 41, was slightly injured. He ran a nail into his left hand but after treatment at City Hospital returned to duty.

Offices of the Theiling-Lothman firm are at 3810 North Broadway, a block from the burned warehouse. The company has been in receivership for three years.

EYE OF OPTICAL SCIENTIST BLINDED BY JULY 4 ACCIDENT

Firecracker Is Set Off Unexpectedly, Injuring Dr. Henry F. Gage of Corning, N. Y.

By the Associated Press.

CORNING, N. Y., July 5.—Dr. Henry Phelps Gage, nationally known optical scientist and chief of the optical laboratory at the Corning Glass Works, will lose the vision of his right eye as the result of the accidental explosion of a firecracker, Dr. Arthur Smith, Elmira eye specialist, said today at Arnot Ogden Hospital in Elmira.

Dr. Gage was watching a display of fireworks and it is believed the trail of fire from a skyrocket set off an abandoned firecracker, which exploded, striking the scientist in the eye.

Two pens were used by the President in signing the bill. One was sent to Senator Wagner of New York, author of the bill. The other went to President Green of the American Federation of Labor.

MAN IS SHOT, SAVES $3000

Secretary of Detroit Concerned Wounded by Robber.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, July 5.—Bruno Lorkowski was shot and seriously wounded today in a frustrating attempt of an armed robber to escape with the $3000 payroll of the Oldberg Manufacturing Co.

Lorkowski, secretary to the president of the company, was confronted by the robber as he returned from the bank. Robert Collette, also an employee of the firm, rushed out and grappled with the robber. As they rolled on the ground, the robber fired several shots. One of them struck Lorkowski in the body. The robber fled. Police arrested a man a short distance away.

ADDIS ABABA, July 5.—Ethiopia has no aggressive intentions against her neighbors. That is my answer to accusations that we are seeking an outlet to the sea by violent means across neighboring colonies.

It is a fact that Ethiopia needs an outlet to the sea, but we shall obtain it by agreement with one or another of our neighbors by ordinary diplomatic means.

The accusation has been made that Ethiopia refuses to collaborate with European powers, mainly Italy.

Ethiopia does not refuse to collaborate with any country, but collaboration does not mean to abandon sovereign rights.

Attitude Toward Foreigners.

It has also been brought to my attention that I am accused of dislike of strangers, cultivation of territorial and political ambitions against adjoining colonies and also inciting African people to revolt against Europeans.

Foreigners like Americans and Europeans established in Ethiopia for a long time are better able to appreciate the reception and hospitality they enjoy in Ethiopia.

Concerning exciting African peoples against Europeans, this is an idea that hasn't even skimmed my mind.

It has come to my notice that Ethiopia is still accused of maintaining a slave trade.

The laws published by the Government to attain abolition of slavery applied normally, and the accusations against Ethiopia are calumny today multiplied by Italy for political aims.

The slave trade exists no more. "With what intention has Ethiopia started reorganization, modernization and development of her army?" it has been asked.

The answer is: Reorganization of the Ethiopian army is a necessity in view of such collaboration brings no prejudice toward the political independence and territorial integrity of Ethiopia, the same idea held by Menelik (former Emperor).

Ethiopia has her own civilization, deeply rooted and different from Western civilization.

It is difficult and even dangerous to use violent, rapid methods because it is impossible to superimpose one civilization on another.

Perhaps certain of our European friends consider our progress slow, but those who know the mentality of our people will understand the importance of the reforms accomplished.

Question of Collaboration.

In connection with our program of reforms, we are ready to accept collaboration with foreign powers, when and if such collaboration brings no prejudice toward the political independence and territorial integrity of Ethiopia, the same idea held by Menelik (former Emperor).

ALCOHOL TAX UNIT
SUPERVISOR RESIGNS

F. Farley Makes No complaints but Blames Politics for His Action.

James F. Farley of Wichita, Kan., announced here today that he had resigned as district supervisor of the alcohol tax unit for Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas and had been succeeded by T. Burkett of Little Rock, Ark., who has been head of the "Little Rock division."

Farley said he resigned effective Aug. 15, but took a 15-day leave of absence. He declared there had been no complaints against him in department, but blamed politics for his retirement. Senator Robinson of Arkansas promised the place Burkett a year ago, Farley asserted. The situation has been complicated by the fact that Kansas is and Arkansas was. Farley announced the service Aug. 16, 1935, on the unit's office was here. The position pays about $5000 a year.
He announced also that Sam-ley, formerly prohibition administrator here, had been reduced last year from a job as head of the division of the unit at $4000 a year to an inspectorship at $3200.
Burkett is father-in-law of Wilson Stone Madden, former proprietor of a downtown tavern here and unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Comptroller in 1933.

CRIST SELLS SHARES IN SELF

MAYOR MAKING WARD SURVEY TO LINE UP FRIENDS

Some Employees Embarrassed by Questions, Being Loyal to Dickmann and Committeemen, Too.

FORCED TO GIVE UP
ONE OR THE OTHER

Administration Plans Clean Sweep of Those Owing Their Jobs to Hostile Party Leaders.

An exhaustive political survey of each of the city's 28 wards is being made by Mayor Dickmann and his political advisers as part of the Mayor's plan to rid the administration of all employees appointed through Democratic City Committee members who are unfriendly to the Mayor.

The Mayor's procedure is to confer with pro-Dickmann employees in each of the wards seeking to ascertain who are the particular friends and followers of the hostile committee members. As has been told, it is Dickmann's intention to dismiss practically all of the employees allied with unfriendly committee members and, in some cases, hostile members of the Board of Aldermen.

Many of the city employees summoned to confer with the Mayor and themselves in a difficult situation, for they are friendly with both the Mayor and their committeeman and committeewoman who may be fighting the Mayor. If these employees wish to retain their jobs, they must align themselves with the Mayor and sacrifice their allegiance to their committee friends.

40 Slated to Go.

Notices of dismissal have been prepared for about 40 employees, increased since the row between the Mayor and the committee began. Many of these employees owe their jobs to the influence of Justice of the Peace Jimmy Miller, Fourth Ward boss and Committeeman, and the Mayor, as has been told,
plans to rid the administration of virtually all of the 240 persons for whom Miller obtained jobs.

Miller issued the following statement on the Mayor's plan to dismiss his followers:

"The reported dismissal by the Mayor of city employees who were indorsed by me will not injure the party in the Fourth Ward. It will seriously affect the employees who may be discharged and their families. I am afraid many of them will have to go on relief. I feel sorry for them because they have been loyal party workers."

"The Fourth Ward has been hard hit by the depression and I believe we have as high a percentage of relief cases and unemployment as any section of the city. When the Mayor was elected I tried to get as many jobs as I could for the unemployed Democrats. I did not want a places paying large salaries but greater number of places paying smaller salaries."

"The Fourth Ward was Democratic before I was born and I do not believe anything the Mayor does to injure the party can take the Fourth Ward from the Democratic column. The people of my ward are for the party rather than individuals."

Clean Sweep.

While it is expected that the bulk of the dismissals will be in Miller's ward, it is known that the Mayor plans to make a clean sweep of the employees in all wards where committee members have been fighting him. Another ward where a large number of dismissals is expected is the Twenty-fifth, where both Harry J. Cantwell, committeeman, and Mrs. Anna Donegan, committe-woman, are members of the anti-Dickmann faction.

One of the Mayor's advisers have maintained that the plan to dismiss those who fill the places of those who are discharged, the Mayor will be building up a much stronger organization than he has had since his election in April, 1933, as the employees who are being dismissed owed their allegiance, in the last analysis, to the committee members who obtained jobs for them rather than to the Mayor.
The new appointees can be expected to be loyal to the administration.

NEGRO WOMAN IS FOUND
FATALLY STABBED IN HOME

Two Wounds in Right Side of Head; Common Law Husband Sought for Questioning.

Mrs. Laura Washington, 23 years old, a Negro, was found stabbed to death yesterday morning in her home, 914 Cass avenue. She was found in bed with two stab wounds in the right side of her head.

The woman's mother, Mrs. Sallie Porter, who lives in the back of the house, told police she was talking with her daughter when her daughter's common law husband came home early Wednesday night.
She said she left them and retired.
Yesterday morning she found her daughter dead, she said, and a dresser drawer, in which the daughter kept her money, was open and empty. Police are seeking the man for questioning.

Woman Shot to Death in Home

MRS. CHARLES L. NORTHCUTT.

COLUMBIA POLICE
SEEK MURDERED
WOMAN'S VISITOR

hearing several voices about 11 a.
m. at the Northcutt home, but saw nor heard nothing unusual. The Reeders and other neighbors, however, pointed out that continuous explosion of fireworks and other Fourth of July fireworks in the neighborhood made impossible the attachment of any special significance to the discharge of a firearm.

A confusing element in the case is that the room where the body was found showed no evidence of any disturbance or struggle, yet blood was scattered from one side almost to the other. Several spots were on the floor near a chair in the corner formed by the front staircase and back wall. One small pool and two smaller splashes were at the door and three flecks of blood were found about halfway up the screen door. A freshly made hole toward the top of the screen about the size of a dime was another puzzling clue.

The doorway where Mrs. Northcutt's body was found opens onto a porch inshrined in shrubbery.

Husband's Statement.

"I see only two possible explanations for my wife's death," Northcutt said. "Either she was hit by a stray bullet or some one slipped into the house and shot her without her ever being aware of an intruder. Even the fringe on the rug where she lay was in order just like she kept it. There was a little pile of lint by her. She had just finished cleaning my white shoes for the trip we planned to make yesterday to Hannibal."

"Neither of us was ever threatened. The past four or five years have been the happiest of our life.
She was always going about to public meetings. If she had been threatened or afraid, she would have told me about it and wouldn't have done that."

Had Been Married 16 Years.

Northcutt said that from 11 o'clock—the time his wife called him and also the approximate time she phoned a neighborhood grocery—she was in his office with J. W.
Wilson, retired orchardist, until about 12:10 p. m. when he left.
Northcutt went home, he said, by way of a poultry house where he purchased a chicken his wife had requested in her telephone call, arriving finally about 12:30 to find his wife's body.

Northcutt for the last 17 years has been county superintendent of schools. The Northcutts had been married 16 years. Mrs. Northcutt was district committeewoman of the Missouri American Legion Auxiliary, former president of the Columbia Legion Auxiliary and a former music student at Christian College here.

Friends and neighbors of the Northcutts described them as a "devoted couple" and recounted today that the Superintendent of Schools and his wife had been planning a trip to Hannibal, where they were to attend a Fourth of July house show and picnic. Northcutt said his wife had been in good health and spirits lately, and only Tuesday had gone for a two-hour horseback ride.

Funeral services for Mrs. Northcutt will be held at the Missouri Methodist Church here at 2 p. m. tomorrow. Burial will be in Memorial Park Cemetery here. Mrs.
Northcutt is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jennings, Woodlandville; her husband and four brothers, and a sister.

EASTMAN NAMES
18 RAILROADS TO BE INVESTIGATED

Frisco and Missouri Pacific Are on List for Financial Inquiry Ordered by Senate.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Eighteen railroads were selected today by Joseph B. Eastman, Federal Co-ordinator of Transportation, for an investigation of railroad financial affairs ordered by the Senate.

The Senate directed an inquiry into financing, reorganizations, mergers, acquisitions and dispositions, insolvency, credit and securities operations and activities, financial policies and railroad holding companies and subsidiaries.

Eastman named the following roads: St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Co., Chicago, Rock Island &
Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Chicago & Northwestern, Chicago, Milwan-kee, St. Paul & Pacific, the Kansas City Southern, Chesapeake & Ohio, Erie, New York, Chicago & St.
Louis, Pere Marquette, Chicago & Eastern Illinois, Pennsylvania Railroad Co., Wabash, Delaware & Hudson, Illinois Central, Southern Railway Co., Central of Georgia and the Florida East Coast Railway Co.

"The object of the investigation," Eastman said, "is not merely to exploit certain possibly malodorous or questionable transactions but to appraise general railroad conditions with a special reference to the conduct of financial matters and the part which financial influence plays in railroad management, purposes and policies, all with a view to correcting any conditions either by legislation or otherwise which may be found to be in need of correction."

"In other words, the investigation will have the wholesome object of bringing representative conditions to light and showing those who use or invest in the railroads either that these conditions need

Inasmuch as the financial affairs of the railroads and their re-apparently to play an important part in the investigation it is de-

MAN WHO CUT WRISTS AFTER QUARREL WITH WIFE DIES

Roland Otto, East St. Louis, Succumbs to Infection in Wound.

Roland Otto, 1727 Lincoln avenue, East St. Louis, who cut both of his wrists with a pocketknife last Thursday, following a quarrel with his wife, Cathryn, died today at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis, of an infection which set in the wound on the left wrist.

According to his father, Fred Otto, an East St. Louis policeman, his daughter-in-law came to see him after the quarrel. He said he went to see his son and found him with both wrists cut. He took him to the hospital. Roland Otto, 31 years old, was a buyer for an East St. Louis packing firm.

Funeral services will be held at 8:30 a. m. Monday from Sacred Heart Church in East St. Louis, with burial in Mount Carmel Cemtery.

FURNITURE FACTORY STRIKE OF 60 WORKERS SETTLED

International Co. Said to Have Recognized Union as Collective Bargaining Agency.

Settlement of the strike of 60 members of the Upholsters' Carpet and Linoleum Mechanics' International Union employed at the International Furniture Co. plant, 1113 South Twelfth street, was announced today by Louis Solomon, president of Local Union No. 25.

The workers went on strike May 21 in protest against wage reductions. The company considered moving the plant to a nearby small town.

The strike settlement, it was announced, provided that employees return to work without discrimination, that the union be recognized as a collective bargaining agency and that working conditions remain unchanged. A six-month contract provided for submission of controversies to an impartial mediation board.

National Theater Chartered.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—President Roosevelt today signed a bill authorizing Federal incorporation here of the American National Theater and Academy for the purpose of developing the drama. The organization is backed by a group of theater and art patrons, including prominent persons in Philadelphia.
The measure does nothing more than grant permission for a Federal charter.

ive of financial interests which have been most closely associated with the railroads.

"The two leading interests to be considered in this connection are J.
P. Morgan & Co. and Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and affiliated financial institutions. There are others such as Speyer & So. and Dillon, Read & Co., which have played lesser parts."

TWO MEN, YOUTH DROWN ON OUTINGS

Eugene Kramer, 25, Eugene
Lear, 27, and Louis Gavron, 18, Lose Lives.

Three persons were drowned yesterday while on holiday outings.
They were:

Eugene Kramer, 25 years old, 5734 Roosevelt place, who was drowned in the Big River at Cedar Hill, Jefferson County.

Eugene Lear, 27, 330 East Adams avenue, Kirkwood, who lost his life in a swimming pool at Willer's Grove, near Festus, also in Jefferson County.

Louis Gavron, 18, McKinley
High School student, 2007 Sidney street, who was drowned in a lake near Panama, Ill.

While eight other members of his party were dressing or straggling out of the river shortly after 5 p. m., Kramer said to his companion, Miss Dorothy Horan, 4544 Chouteau avenue, "I guess I'll take one more dip."

Three Attempts Rescue.

An athlete and able swimmer, he dived into the water and Miss Horan turned to talk to a friend.
A moment later a man called out,
"There's someone struggling in the river." Miss Horan summoned Kramer's brother, Charles, his brother-in-law, Charles Gellhauser, and his fellow-employee at the United Drug Co., William Reeder.

Although they were already dressed they plunged into the water, but Eugene Kramer had disappeared. The body was recovered with grappling hooks, near the spot he had dived into unusually deep water above a dam.

Kramer was a member of the Irish Village soccer team, which won the championship of the Municipal League last season. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Kramer, with whom he lived;
five brothers and five sisters.

Lear had gone to Willer's Grove for a holiday outing with Arthur Dunn and Mrs. Dorothy Wood.
Dunn and Mrs. Wood left the pool late in the afternoon and did not miss Lear until they returned after dressing.

They notified life guards, who recovered the body a short time later and used an inhalator without success. Lear, they said, was a proficient swimmer.

He was employed by the Wagner Electric Co. and was secretary of the Wetzel Memorial Baptist Sunday School. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lear, with whom he lived, a brother and four sisters.

Gavron Exhausted, Sinks.

With his father, Metro Gavron, former Panama coal miner now employed by the Scullin Steel Co.,
Louis had been visiting in Panama.
He went swimming in the lake with four young men.

Attempting to swim out to a large log 200 yards from shore, Louis became exhausted half-way, shouted for help, and sank. One of two youths on the log, Everett De Right, swam to the spot where he went down, but became exhausted himself after several dives and had to be rescued by the others. He was not revived until an hour later.

and EUGENE LEAR.

P. S. CO. TO PAY BACK
INTEREST ON BONDS

Court Authorizes Remittance of $1,503,162; Urges Speedy Reorganization.

Payment of $1,503,162 in past due interest on bonds of the Public Service Co. was authorized today by Federal Judge Davis. This includes two semi-annual interest payments, those of July 1, 1933, and Jan. 1, 1934.

In issuing the order for payment, Judge Davis attached a memorandum directing the attention of the company, its bondholders and creditors to the necessity for speedy reorganization. The company is now in the hands of Henry W. Kiel as trustee, under the amended bankruptcy law. The primary purpose of the recent amendment, Judge Davis pointed out, was to facilitate prompt reorganization of companies in financial difficulties.
Judge Davis referred to a dispute between committees for the holders of United Railways 4 per cent bonds and the 5 per cent bonds of the City & Suburban Railroad Co.
The committees, he said, should make an effort to settle their dispute, so that a reorganization plan can be drawn. The dispute concerns the respective interests of the two types of bondholders in the property acquired by the Public Service Co. through its purchase of the People's Motorbus Co.

Of the interest authorized for payment today $715,760 will go to the holders of $17,894,000 of United Railways 4s, and $240,000 will go to banks which hold $6,000,000 of those bonds. Holders of the $3-263,000 of the City & Suburban 5s will get $122,362.

There is in addition $10,626,000 of the United Railways 4s which are held by banks as collateral for loans made to the Public Service Co.
The validity of these bonds, which had been reacquired by the company before being used as collateral, is the subject of a suit pending in Federal Court. Judge Davis directed Kiel to earmark a fund of $425,040 for the payment of interest on these bonds if they should be held to be valid.

Gavron's body was recovered last night.

Besides his father, Gavron is survived by his step-mother, a sister, Helene, a brother, Metro Jr., and a stepbrother and sister. Panama is 50 miles northeast of St. Louis.

TWO MORE QUIT BOARD OF SOCIETY FOR BLIND

John L. Bracken and J. Walter Goldstein Withdraw—Four Directors Resigned Earlier.

Two more directors of the St. Louis Society for the Blind, John L. Bracken and J. Walter Goldstein, have resigned following the dismissal of the executive secretary, Mrs. Leslie Gray. Six have now withdrawn from the board, which had a membership of 20. Bracken, who is superintendent of public schools in Clayton, said he had become a director only recently and felt that he ought not to continue his membership in view of the dissension within the board. Goldstein, who was in charge of the society's publicity, likewise had been a member but a short time. He said he thought his resignation was in order after the resignations of other members who were responsible for his membership on the board. The board divided on the question of whether a trained professional social worker should be employed as its executive secretary. James C. Jones, an attorney, who was elected president last week, announced before the election that if he were chosen he would insist on dismissal of Mrs. Gray.

JOBLESS BANK CLERK KILLED BY AUTO GAS

Philip H. Reither, Missing Since Tuesday, Found Dead Under Car.

The body of Philip H. Reither, 47-year-old former bank employee, 6112 McPherson avenue, who had been missing since Tuesday, was found yesterday morning beneath his automobile in the garage of a house he owned at Ashby and Emerson roads, St. Louis County. Death, occurring about two days ago, was due to carbon monoxide poisoning, authorities said. The ignition switch of his automobile was on, but, gasoline exhausted, the motor had stopped. Doors and windows of the garage were closed. No notes were found.

Belief that Reither had ended his life because of despondency over inability to find employment was expressed by Coroner Tiernon after an inquiry. E. J. Costigan, Reither's brother-in-law, president of Whitaker & Co., investment brokers, recalled that Reither had been in low spirits, but said he had not threatened suicide.

Reither lost his position at the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. about two years ago and had not been employed since. He was teller at the State National Bank for 24 years, until that institution merged with the Mississippi Valley bank, about six years ago. His wife, Blanche, and two children survive.

NIGHT CLUB DANCER ADMITS KILLING HUSBAND WITH KNIFE

Chicago Police Quote Her as Saying She Grabbed Weapon From Him.

CHICAGO, July 5.—A confession by Mrs. Marjorie Rose, 22-year-old night club dancer, that she killed her husband, Walter 24, a cook, by "hitting him" with a butcher knife during a struggle in their apartment is announced by Police Capt. William O'Brien.

Rose was found dead early yesterday amid the overturned furnishings of their home. Officers uncovered a butcher knife, with a 10-inch blade, with which he had been stabbed.

After several hours' questioning of Mrs. Rose, Capt. O'Brien quoted her as saying: "We were quarreling and he said 'You won't be dancing on your toes much longer. I went to a tavern, got a drink and came home. He got a knife and started chasing me. I scuffled with him and he twisted my wrists. But I finally got the knife away. I said, 'Now it's my turn; may the best man win.'"

O'Brien said Mrs. Rose then related she swung the knife at her husband, "hitting him." An autopsy revealed the blade was driven deep into Rose's chest, penetrating the right lung. Mrs. Rose's right hand was cut and her body was dotted with bruises and minor cuts.

HUNTING FOR PANAMA FLYERS

Navy Planes Seek Two Officers Missing Since Wednesday.

COLON, Panama, July 5.—Intermittent rains with attendant poor visibility hampered a country-wide search today for Lieut. Winston F. Graham and Second Lieut. George R. McMahon, France Field pilots lost in an observation airplane since Wednesday afternoon.

Navy planes have been sent down the coast line as far as San Blas and 24 miles to sea. Eighteen planes from Albrook Field and seven from France Field have flown over the entire isthmus as Air Corps officials now believe that the missing plane, carrying only three and one-half hours' fuel supply, might have been swept by a storm Wednesday across the boundary of Costa Rica. The theory is that the two flyers got into difficulties in the rugged country west of Chame Point on the western slope while the mountain peaks were obscured by the storm.

U. S. FOREIGN TRADE SHOWS UNFAVORABLE BALANCE AGAIN

May Is Second Consecutive Month That Imports Have Exceeded Exports.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—United States foreign trade was shown today by Department of Commerce figures to have resulted in an unfavorable balance for the second consecutive month. May imports exceeded exports by $5,100,000.

Exports, which usually decrease 1 per cent from April to May, were about 1 per cent greater in value. Imports, which usually decline about 6 per cent, showed no change. Exports were valued at $165,457,000 in May, compared with $164,188,000 in April and $160,197,000 in May, 1934.

General imports totaled $170,559,000 compared with $170,580,000 in April and $154,847,000 in May, 1934.

TWO ARRESTED FOR SHOOTING OF JUDGE ON GOLF COURSE

Youth Says He Fired From Ambush; Transient Accused of Selling Pistol.

By the Associated Press.
CASSVILLE, Mo., July 5.—A second arrest in connection with the shooting of Probate Judge Dan Meador on a Monett golf course, a week ago was made yesterday following the confession of Lawrence E. Coffey, 18 years old.
Searching through Coffey's suitcase, they found several detective stories, a cap and rubber gloves. The youth, they said, confessed he fired on the judge from ambush with robbery as his motive. He is in jail here facing charges of assault with intent to kill.

Menett police arrested Albert Bailey, a transient, who, they said, had sold Coffey the pistol used in the attack.
Coffey was arrested late Wednesday night. Deputy Sheriff Gladden Dougherty said the youth told him he gave up his plan to rob the Probate Judge because he lost his nerve.
The arrests of Coffey and Bailey followed receipt of information from Jeff Spain and Ralph Goldsborough that they had happened upon the pair the Saturday before the shooting in a quarry near Monett's city park and engaged in target practice with them.

FIVE PERSONS ARE KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Two Children of Mr. and Mrs. James Goodwin, East St. Louis, Meet Death as Car Upsets.

Three St. Louisans and two children from East St. Louis were killed in automobile accidents over the holiday. Four of the fatalities occurred on highways.

Helen Mary, 5, and Welma Ann, 3 years old, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James Goodwin, 312 1/2 Converse avenue, East St. Louis, were killed when the family automobile ran down an embankment and overturned on Highway 21, about 10 miles north of Potosi, Mo.

According to Washington County authorities, the machine swerved off the road, struck a culvert and rolled down the embankment. The children, their skulls crushed, died a few minutes after they were taken from the wreck. The parents, badly shaken, were taken to East St. Louis by friends, who were following in another machine. The party was returning home from an outing in Carter County.

The scene of the accident is about 60 miles south of St. Louis.

St. Louis Woman Killed in Head-on Collision

Mrs. Earl Whiteside, 31 years old, 1923 South Eleventh street, was killed and her husband and three children and four other persons were injured in a head-on collision between two automobiles on Highway 61, near Festus, Mo., yesterday afternoon.

Whiteside, a toolmaker, was driving toward St. Louis. According to witnesses, a southbound machine driven by Youdas Potter, 2808 Henrietta street, swung out of the line of traffic and the two automobiles crashed. Mrs. Whiteside was pronounced dead at Festus. Earl Whiteside Jr., 2 years old, is in Alexian Brothers' Hospital, suffering from fractures of the jaw and shoulder. Whiteside and the other children, Hubert, 8, and Virginia, 4, were cut and bruised.

Miss Shirley Launis, 4372 Flora place, riding with Potter, suffered fractures of the collarbone and pelvis. Potter and two others, Ora Baker, 3507 Caroline street, and Nelson Douglas, 6218 Virginia avenue, were cut and bruised.

Driver Killed When Roadster Overturns Near Litchfield

Ernest Platt, 25, 3861 Aldine avenue, was found dead in his overturned roadster on Illinois Highway 16, near Litchfield, Wednesday night.

Authorities were unable to find witnesses, and the cause of the accident was not learned. The machine apparently had rolled over several times. Platt, a paperhanger, is survived by his wife, parents, four sisters and three brothers.

Man Struck and Killed by Auto at Grand and Utah

A man killed by an automobile at Grand boulevard and Utah place Wednesday night was identified yesterday as Gus Reimann, 68, of 3651 Connecticut street. Identification was made at the Morgue by his wife, Mrs. Louise Reimann.

He was hit by an automobile driven by Fred Naumann, 18, 3535 Virginia avenue, who was driving east across Grand boulevard. Naumann told police the automatic signal was in his favor, and Reimann became confused and stepped in the path of the machine.

Four Women Hurt in Accidents on Illinois Highways

Three women were injured yesterday when the automobile in which they were riding collided with another car on Highway No. 50, six miles east of French Village, Ill., near East St. Louis. They were Mrs. Caroline Bohn, Fort Wayne, Ind., skull injury; her daughter, Mrs. Erna Dederer, broken shoulder and broken collar bone, and Miss Sylvia Kasten, Carlyle, Ill., cuts and bruises. They were taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Belleville.

Miss Emma Roussio, 2228 North Fifty-eighth street, East St. Louis, suffered bruises when the automobile in which she was riding turned over last night on Highway No. 13, six miles south of Belleville.

Man and Woman Hurt When Auto Upsets at House Springs

Mrs. Edna Stone, 49, and Louis Nitche, 55, both of 6138 Wagner avenue, Wellston, were seriously injured when an automobile in which they were riding left the road and turned over in a ditch on State Highway 30 at House Springs yesterday.

They were taken to St. Anthony Hospital, where Mrs. Stone was found to have a skull injury and severe contusions, and Nitche head injuries and a fractured left arm. Miss Mary Stone, of the Wagner avenue address, who was driving, was not hurt.

The accident occurred when the automobile swerved from the pavement at a turn and skidded on gravel into the 15-foot ditch. The point, unprotected by a barricade, has been the scene of several accidents.

Opponents of Birth Control

MRS. ALICE T. LENNON (left) of Woodcliff, N. J., mother of 10 children, and MRS. MARGARET F. SULLIVAN of Union City, N. J., mother of 3. Both were delegates to the national convention of Catholic Daughters of America, which opposed the legalization of information on contraception. Both condemned the Federation of Women's Clubs for favoring the dissemination of such information.

CATHOLIC DAUGHTERS ASSAIL BIRTH CONTROL

Convention Denounces Women's Clubs and University Women for Advocating It.

By the Associated Press.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 5.—The Catholic Daughters of America, which opposed the national convention of Women's Clubs and the American Association of University Women for advocating birth control. Both the federation and the university women went on record recently as favoring the legalization of instructions for preventing conception.

Advocates of the dissemination of birth control information, the Catholic Daughters' resolution said, are "un-American and unpatriotic, aiming at the depopulation of America and preparing the way for a childless America, to become the prey of the populous and prolific nations of the East." It said: "The stand of the National Federation of Women's Clubs and the Association of University Women was 'a direct insult to the rank and file of the decent and virtuous women of America.'"

Attacked as Unpatriotic.
"Their pronouncements are likewise branded as immoral and conducive to the spread of impurity within and without the family unit of society, as un-American and unpatriotic," the resolution continued, "and, finally as unsocial and inhuman, inasmuch as the attack of the artificial birth control propagandists is aimed primarily at the poor and underprivileged classes, the victims of the unjust and greedy plutocratic domination of the economic order."

The convention endorsed the Legion of Decency's campaign for better motion pictures. A resolution said pictures now are "definitely cleaner" than when the legion first began its work, but urged "vigilance must be maintained." Mrs. Elizabeth Collins of Sacramento, Cal., regent, declared movie stars "whose lives are an open scandal . . . should be blacklisted by producers, exhibitors and the public."

Other Resolutions.
The convention adopted resolutions urging the re-registration of all aliens who have permitted their citizenship papers to lapse, requiring all teachers in public and private schools to take an oath of allegiance to the Constitution and the American flag, urging an adequate national defense and demanding the suppression of communist-supported publications which advocate the overthrow of the Government.

The convention unanimously re-elected all national officers, headed by Miss Mary C. Duffy, of Newark, N. J., supreme regent. Newly elected directors are: Mrs. H. P. Broussard of New Orleans and Mrs. Lulu Spilde of Springfield, S. D.

ACCUSED OF KIDNAPING SISTERS

Idaho Youth Said to Have Locked One in Auto, Attacked Other.

RUPERT, Idaho, July 5.—Officers in Southern Idaho are seeking a young man who, it is alleged, abducted two sisters, 10 and 14 years old, and, after driving several miles across the desert, locked the younger one in his automobile and attacked the elder.

Gilbert Grisham, section foreman at Kimama, brought the girls back to Rupert. Sheriff W. F. Manifold said the youth had threatened to hold them for ransom, but released them on being told that their father could pay nothing. Their names were withheld by officers here.

Boy Drowned at Jefferson City

JEFFERSON CITY, July 5.—Clifford Cardwell, 15 years old, was drowned yesterday when swimming in a creek near the city park tennis courts. The body was discovered an hour later. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Cardwell of this city.

ST. LOUIS YOUTH KILLED IN UTAH TRAIN WRECK

John Duchon Loses Life in Derailment; Companion, Raymond Byrd, Injured.

John Duchon, 19 years old, 1426A Chouteau avenue, was killed, and Raymond Byrd, 1515 Chouteau, was seriously injured when a freight train on which they were returning from Cool Spring, Nev., was wrecked Wednesday near Provo, Utah, according to word received here.

Two other persons were killed and seven injured. Byrd was said to have suffered a fractured spine. Officials of the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad said 23 cars of the 56-car fast train were derailed when an axle broke.

Duchon resided with his brother, Anthony, and sister, Angeline. He and Byrd, son of Mrs. Effie Toombs, went to Nevada six weeks ago to join Byrd's older brother, Frank, who works on a ranch. Duchon and Raymond Byrd had recently written that they would return home soon.

Duchon's father, Milo Duchon, 71, a former Catholic priest in Austria, ended his life by gas a year ago. Thirteen months before that his wife died of injuries suffered in a fall down steps.

TRUCK DRIVER IS FINED $100

Machine Ran Into Parked Auto; Carelessness Charged.

William Clark, a truck driver, 3450 California avenue, was fined $100 for careless driving and leaving the scene of an accident today by Police Judge Simpson.

Clark was arrested last week when a woman who had seen his truck back into and damage a parked automobile in the 3800 block of Missouri avenue and drive away, gave his license number to the police. He testified he drove on after the accident when his helper on the truck assured him no damage had been done.

HOLT ASSAILS LIBERTY LEAGUE

Youngest U. S. Senator Addresses Democrats at Topeka.

By the Associated Press.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 5.—United States Senator Rush D. Holt, West Virginia's 30-year-old lawmaker, told young Kansas Democrats here last night that America "is getting away from individualism, and I'm glad of it."

"I'm a system where one must be rugged to exist. All others are ragged. The most dangerous influence in America today is the American Liberty League. It howls when money is spent for government, but never chirps when millions are spent for armaments. That's because the latter means money for the Du Ponts."

CONVICTS ABDUCT 4 IN AUTOS

Armed Arkansas Fugitives Wreck Two Cars in Flight.

By the Associated Press.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 5.—Two armed convicts still were at large today after abducting four persons and wrecking two automobiles.

The men, who identified themselves to their victims as trusty guards from Tucker Prison Farm, stopped Harvey Hewitt and W. M. Stewart near Pine Bluff and forced them to ride with them. When the car broke down, the convicts held up Harry Crow and W. A. Mercer and went on, taking all four with them. Hewitt and Stewart were released and the second car was wrecked in a ditch. The fugitives then stopped Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Williams and their small daughter, forced them out of their automobile and continued in it without their captives.

ONLOOKER KILLED, YANKED 2000 FEET IN AIR BY BALLOON

Fred Cardoni of Detroit Unable to Hold on After Grabbing or Becoming Entangled in Guide Rope

WIFE SEES SUDDEN ASCENT AND FALL

Pilot Jumps in Parachute and Lands Safely After Accident at Michigan Beach Resort.

By the Associated Press.
ST. CLAIR SHORES, Mich., July 5.—Fred Cardoni, 30 years old, of Detroit, mingling with a holiday crowd at Jefferson Beach yesterday, was snatched 2000 feet into the air by the guide rope of a stunt balloon and then plunged to his death, unable to hold on until rescued.

William T. Henderson, Toledo balloonist, and parachute jumper, jumped after Cardoni and landed safely with his parachute. He told his story of Cardoni's fall to Sgt. Harvey Champaine of the St. Clair Shores Police a few minutes later.

"The balloon shot up about 2000 feet when I turned from my perch and saw a man hanging by the rope a few feet below me," he said.

"What are you doing here," I asked.

"He tried to answer me but I couldn't hear him. I thought he said something about being tangled in the rope. I told him to wrap the rope around his feet and I would try to get him down."

"He shouted at me, wanting to know how long it would take. I told him about 15 minutes."

"I can't hang on that long," he yelled back, and then let go."

Police said the accounts of how Cardoni was pulled into the air by

KILLED BY STING

MRS. DOROTHY STANGL.

STING OF INSECT FATAL TO WOMAN

Blood Poisoning Results From Injury Received at Picture Show.

Blood poisoning which resulted from the sting of an unidentified insect caused the death at City Hospital Wednesday of Mrs. Dorothy Stangl, 24 years old, a factory worker of 4246 North Twenty-first street.

While attending a neighborhood motion picture show June 26 with her husband, Joseph, a machinist, she was bitten on the upper lip. Swelling was rapid and a physician was called. He attended her several times a day for the next four days.

Mrs. Stangl was taken to City Hospital July 1 and treated for blood poisoning.

The balloon varied, but the most of the witnesses said Cardoni grasped the trailing guide rope just as the balloon started up. It left the ground with terrific speed and Cardoni had no chance to let go before he was yanked up 2000 feet. His wife, Mary Cardoni, witnessed the accident.

Plane Crashes at Oklahoma City, Killing Pilot.
By the Associated Press.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., July 5.—Harry Hentschel, 30 years old, an airplane mechanic and pilot, was fatally injured yesterday when his small plane crashed in a pasture 100 yards from the municipal airport shortly after he had taken off. Hentschel died in a hospital of a skull fracture and internal injuries.

Witnesses saw the plane take off, suddenly lose speed and fall from a height of about 50 feet. Hentschel came here last December from Wichita, Kan.

Chicago Youth Killed, Companion Hurt in Bumped Plane.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 5.—Goddard Nelson, 19-year-old National Guardsman, was killed and his companion severely injured yesterday at suburban Belmont when the airplane in which they were stunting over a Fourth of July celebration crashed within 200 feet of a crowded swimming pool.

Nelson was dead when taken from the wreckage of the plane. His injured companion was Otto Drolshagen, who had rented the plane at the Municipal Airport a short time before.

Officials of the Monarch Air Service, owners of the plane, said Drolshagen had only a student license, which did not permit him to fly passengers.

Pennsylvania Pilot Killed in Crash During Air Circus.
By the Associated Press.
ELIZABETHTOWN, Pa., July 5.—Birtino Marchetti, airplane pilot, was killed yesterday during an air circus. Marchetti's plane went into a tail spin 500 feet in the air and crashed to the highway.

EMPLOYERS OBJECT TO JOB OFFICE CHANGE

St. Louis Organization Protests Against State Taking Over Agency.

The Industrial Relations Club of St. Louis, with a membership including executives of large employers, today made public a letter it had sent to Frank Persons, director of the United States Employment Service at Washington, protesting against transfer of control of the Missouri State Employment Service office at 1806 Washington avenue to Mrs. Edna Cruzen, State Labor Commissioner.

Mrs. Cruzen took charge of the office Monday, replacing Leo McCarthy, who had been manager while the office was under control of the non-partisan Citizens' Committee, now disbanded because the city refused to supply it with further funds.

In its letter, signed by M. N. Whitcomb, president, and N. H. Davis, secretary, the Industrial Relations Club said that the experience of its members in dealing with the employment service while it was under control of McCarthy and the Citizens' Committee had been that the bureau maintained at all times "the highest degree of efficiency."

TRINITY PARISH BUYS CHURCH OF REDEEMER

Unannounced Purchase Price
Will Go to Episcopal Diocese Endowment Fund.

Purchase of the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, Washington boulevard and Euclid avenue, by the Trinity Episcopal parish was announced yesterday by the Rev. Stephen F. Bayne Jr., rector of the Trinity Church, 4005 Washington boulevard. Services this Sunday will be held at the Church of the Redeemer, but week-day services and other church activities will continue at the old church for several weeks until moving to the new quarters is completed.

The Church of the Redeemer, abandoned by the congregation shortly after Easter, was placed in the hands of the Missouri diocese of the Episcopal Church. The property was purchased from the diocese by the Trinity Church Vestry, lay governing body. The Redeemer parish, after 40 years of service, decided to abandon it as many of its members had moved away and joined other churches. More than 50 members of the Redeemer congregation are expected to affiliate with the new Trinity Church.

The purchase price was not announced. Funds will be provided by the Trinity parish and will go to the diocese endowment fund for the aid of other churches of the diocese.

Trinity Church has one of the oldest parishes of the Episcopal diocese in Missouri, having been founded in 1855. Its first church was erected about 80 years ago at Eleventh street and Washington avenue. Other churches later were occupied at Washington avenue and Twenty-eighth street and Channing and Franklin streets. The present church was acquired in 1910. It will be sold.

The Rev. Hon. Bayne, formerly a teacher in the General Theological Seminary of New York, was installed as rector of the church by Bishop Scarlett in December, 1934. He succeeded the Rev. James Boyd Cox, who served the parish 24 years.

The Redeemer Parish was founded about 40 years ago, and following a merger with the St. James Parish in 1897, the present church was built. The Rev. Edmund Duckworth was rector for many years. Following his death five years ago, the Rev. Sumner Walters was installed as rector. The Rev. Mr. Walters resigned his rectorship early this spring to accept a parish in California.

WOMAN KILLED, MAN SHOT IN HOME OF HIS MOTHER

Hornell (N. Y.) Police Report It Is Case of Murder and Attempted Suicide.

HORNELL, N. Y., July 5.—Mrs. Margaret Burrows, 21 years old, was shot and killed here yesterday, and Gordon Bunce, 27, seriously wounded in what police said was a murder and an attempted suicide.

Bunce, father of several children, admitted the shooting. Chief of Police Howard M. Travis said.

Police said the shooting occurred at the home of Bunce's mother, Mrs. Lillie Bunce. According to the police version, the shooting followed a half-hour argument at the Bunce home, during which Bunce accused Mrs. Burrows with whom he had been keeping company, of associating with other men.

Mrs. Burrows was estranged from her husband.

FUND RAISED TO PUSH BRIDGE TAX CLAIM

St. Clair County to Spend $15,000 to Try to Collect
From St. Louis.

The St. Clair County Board of Review has completed collection of an expense fund of $15,000 to be used in an effort to uphold in court its $3,000,000 assessment on the Illinois end of the Municipal Bridge. Contributors to the fund were the City of East St. Louis, $5699.37; East St. Louis School Board, $6325.68; East St. Louis Park Board, $1471.83; East Side Levee Board, $1503.12. The fund will be distributed $5000 for attorney fees, $5000 for engineering fees and $5000 for miscellaneous expenses.

Each body has contributed an amount proportionate to the tax revenue that will accrue to it if the Board of Review is successful in upholding its assessment. The additional annual tax income of the contributors if the assessment is upheld will be $38,400 for the city, $40,000 for the School Board, $9400 for the Park Board, and $9800 for the Levee Board.

The assessment on the Municipal Bridge was raised from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 for 1931 and 1932, but the City of St. Louis paid taxes on only $1,000,000 and filed a tax objection suit to prevent collection of the remainder. The suit was upheld in the St. Clair County Court.

In 1933, the Board of Review raised the assessment to $3,000,000, and the City of St. Louis again paid on $1,000,000, or $54,772 and filed a second tax objection suit, making a deposit or 75 per cent of the remainder, which is $109,526. It is to combat this suit that the $15,000 has been raised. It will be used to employ expert witnesses and make a complete appraisal of the structure. The date for the hearing has not yet been set.

CHEMISTS EXAMINE AMOUNT OF GAS LET INTO SEWERS

Since Strike Drip Valves and Mains Have Contained Large Quantities of Water.

Twenty chemists working under the direction of E. L. Kliner, the Health Department chemist, are examining the liquid pumped from drip valves of the gas light system to determine if a dangerous amount of explosive gas is being dumped into the sewer system.

In the past, when the drip valves contained only a small amount of moisture, the gas company emptied the contents into a portable tank. Since the strike of union gas workers drip valves and gas mains have been found to contain large quantities of water, which has been pumped into the sewer system.

Preliminary examination of drip valve contents showed the presence of volatile matter. Director of Streets and Sewers McDevitt said every precaution would be taken to prevent an explosion in the sewers and that his department would supervise the pumping of drip valves if it was found necessary for public safety.

MISSOURI TO GET PRISONER

Bank Robbery Suspect Denied Writ of Habeas Corpus at Buffalo.

By the Associated Press.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 5.—Robert J. Byrne, 39 years old, who said his home was in Chicago, was ordered returned to Columbia, Mo., to face a bank robbery charge.

Byrne sought release on a writ of habeas corpus, insisting he was in New York at the time of the robbery. During hearing on the writ, he admitted that he was a "bunco man."

Ildore Schiff, employee of a hotel, testified the guest book showed Byrne registered Nov. 7, 1931, and left Dec. 2, 1931. "This man could have registered at the hotel and then gone out to Missouri," the Court said in refusing the writ.

Consents to Undergo Operation.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., July 5.—Senator James Couzens will go late today to the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., for an operation. He has been in a hospital here several weeks under observation for a kidney ailment.

TRANSIENT KILLED WHEN HIT BY TRAIN IN FOREST PARK

Frank Gilly Struck When Walking on Tracks Near Lindell-Union Underpass.

A man identified through papers as Frank Gilly, 55 years old, a transient, was killed last night when he was struck by a Wabash passenger train in Forest Park.

Papers in his pockets led to identification by the janitor of a West End apartment house with whom he was acquainted. Gilly, who was lame, was walking on the tracks near the underpass at Lindell and Union boulevards when he was run down by the outbound train. The body was taken to the Morgue.

LOUISIANA MOB BEATS NEGRO

Charge of Assault on White Woman Is Dismissed.

By the Associated Press.

VILLE PLATTE, La., July 5.—Adam Avie, Negro, accused of assault on a white woman, was severely thrashed by a mob which spirited him from jail late Tuesday. He had first been reported lynched. Sheriff Charles Picou cleared the mystery of the Negro's whereabouts when he announced that Avie was alive, in Ville Platte and free of the assault charge. The Sheriff said the mob, reported to have numbered about 12 persons, smashed the lock of the jail. No participants have been arrested.

FEW BADLY HURT WITH FIREWORKS IN CITY THIS YEAR

Of 468 Persons Treated in St. Louis and County Hospitals, Only Two Remain for Longer Care.

Independence day was celebrated in St. Louis yesterday in traditional fashion but with fewer serious accidents from fireworks than usual, only two of 468 persons treated in city and county hospitals remaining for more than brief treatment.

Out of 265 persons treated at city hospital for powder burns and other injuries from fireworks, only two, Robert Rooney, 34 years old, a cook, 738 South Broadway, and James Muldoon, 6-year-old son of Mrs. Evelyn Muldoon, 3717 St. Louis avenue, remained overnight. Rooney suffered an eye injury when a torpedo was thrown from a passing car. The boy suffered a burn on the left arm near bruises incurred in a scuffle several days ago. Most of the cases were minor burns, quickly attended to, anti-toxin being administered as a precautionary measure against tetanus. Emergency treatment was given 24 persons at City Hospital No. 2 and nine at the North End Dispensary. At St. Louis County Hospital 31 patients were given first aid. The others injured were given emergency treatment at various private hospitals in the city and county.

20,000 at Air Show.
A crowd estimated at 20,000 turned out for the military air show at Lambert-St. Louis Flying Field; about 35,000 visited the Zoo and the fireworks display at Francis Field, Washington University, for the benefit of Clayton police and fire departments drew a crowd of about $500. Thousands of others spent the day at nearby beaches and resorts, public parks in the city were crowded and picnics sponsored by various organizations were well attended.

The crowd at the flying field began assembling early and about 10,000 spectators were on hand when the first event, a seven-plane formation flight by 35th Division, Aviation, Missouri National Guard, took to the air under the command of Maj. Phil Love.

As the program continued the crowd increased, many of the spectators remaining for the exhibitions at night. Traffic was directed by radio from an airplane which flew above the highways leading to the field and communicated with traffic officers.

The aerial program included parachute jumping and sham artillery firing directed by radio from an airplane. One of the night events consisted of dropping and diving a plane equipped with bright fares.

Visiting Picnickers.
The holiday throng at the zoo included many out of town parties, some bearing picnic baskets. At the fireworks display at Francis Field, the south side of the field and many spectators stood to the end of a long exhibition.

Many cars were parked along Lindbergh boulevard, in St. Louis county, their occupants viewing the fire of distant fireworks. Spectators could be seen from the celebration at Francis Field and from St. Louis and Bellevue country clubs, as well as from numerous private displays.

Home fireworks were numerous except in Kirkwood where fireworks were forbidden by ordinance. Police there received scores of telephone calls from parents asking if their children could shoot firecrackers but they seemed just as pleased when informed they could not do so. Only three violations were reported.

C. M. T. C. Holiday.
Jefferson Barracks was visited yesterday by families of many of the 1419 youths attending the Citizens' Military Training Camp there. About 800 visitors, most of them from Illinois, inspected the camp.

The student soldiers were given a holiday yesterday but got down to work today. Rifles and machine guns were issued to 12 companies, all but two of them rifle units. Intensive drill began this morning.

68 Arrested for Speeding.
During a 26-hour period ending yesterday morning, police arrested 68 motorists for speeding, according to Capt. Charles H. Loepker, head of the traffic division. Two were charged with driving at a speed of 70 miles an hour, the others between 60 and 35 miles an hour.

Bernard Kearns, a salesman, 7510 Parkdale avenue, Clayton, suffered a laceration of the left side when he was stabbed late Wednesday night by a Negro who had volunteered to assist him to free his parked automobile which had locked bumpers with another machine.

The Negro attempted to back the other machine and became very angry when Kearns, fearing the bumpers might break, asked him to stop backing. The Negro struck him with a knife and fled. Kearns was treated at City Hospital and sent home.

GAS FUMES KILL TEXAS FISH

10,000,000 Pounds Destroyed Near Corpus Christi.

By the Associated Press.
CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., July 5.—The theory a subsurface explosion that released a powerful gas killed millions of fish found on the shores of Padre Island was advanced here today by State investigators.

Bob Farley, Deputy Game and Fish Commissioner, estimated 10,000,000 pounds of fish was destroyed along a 40-mile strip. Choking gas fumes were still evident near the scene yesterday. There are many oil and gas fields along the gulf coast and numerous sulphur deposits.

HOOVER URGES PRESERVATION OF PERSONAL RIGHTS

Former President Tells Fourth-of-July Audience
There Is a World-Wide Attack on Liberty.

By the Associated Press.
GRASS VALLEY, Cal., July 5.—Preservation of individual liberty is the mission of America, former President Herbert Hoover declared here in a Fourth of July address.

Returning to the scenes of his early career as a student mining engineer, Hoover praised the American concept of liberty as voiced in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution and warned his audience that a worldwide attack upon individual liberty had reached a crisis.

"America has today a transcendent mission to civilization far beyond our own safety," he declared. "It is our high duty to hold bright the light of individual liberty. From that light alone can come the material and spiritual redemption of mankind."

Liberty Lost Elsewhere.
The former executive asserted individual liberty already had ceased to exist in "whole nations," with populations totaling 500,000,000 suffering from "discouragement and disillusion" and "with a sort of slave psychology, men would rather be safe than free. And it has turned out they are not safe," he added.

America's safety from attacks upon liberty, he said, "lies in holding fast to the fundamentals of the great constitutional charter of our liberties." He continued:

"That is no mere legalistic phrase."

ment. It is an immortal expression of the spirit of men who would be forever free. It is the invisible sentinel which guards the door of every home from the invasion of coercion, intimidation, and fear. Its great list of freedoms should be a part of our daily thought, third only to the 10 commandments and the sermon on the mount.

"It is not reactionary to hold fast to these fundamentals, to oppose tyranny, and to support liberty. We realize that life is different in 1935 from 1776. The functions of government must always be expanded to restrain the strong and protect the weak. That is the preservation of liberty itself."

Time for Progressive Action.
"These are times for genuine progressive action—that we recover prosperity and that we secure the better distribution among all the people of the abundance which has been the product of our system of liberty. But there are things that must be permanent if we would attain these purposes. The first of these is liberty."

"In this crisis of liberty and this darkening eclipse of human freedom through the world, America has today a transcendent mission to civilization far beyond our own safety. It is our high duty to hold bright the light of individual liberty. From that light alone can come the material and spiritual redemption of mankind. The Fourth of July, amid a threatened world should bring rededication to the proposition that the freedom won for men shall not be dimmed in America, nor shall this light to the world be extinguished."

House of Commons Attacks Somaliland Move—Eden and MacDonald Explain.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, July 5.—Capt. Anthony Eden's tentative proposal to cede part of British Somaliland to Ethiopia in an effort to settle the Italo-Ethiopian controversy was assailed from both sides of the House of Commons yesterday.

Members normally Government supporters joined the opposition in firing sharp-toned questions at Malcolm MacDonald, Secretary for Colonies, and Eden, Secretary for League of Nations Affairs, regarding the latter's effort to induce Ethiopia to make concessions sufficient to placate Benito Mussolini.

J. P. Dickie, National Conservative, asked if there had been any negotiations with the Governor of Somaliland on the proposal to change their sovereignty. MacDonald admitted there had not.

MacDonald emphasized that Eden's proposal was only tentative; that it had never been suggested British territory should be ceded unconditionally; that Eden had made it perfectly clear one of the conditions of the proposal was that grazing and watering rights of tribes in British Somaliland should be respected and that the chief port of British Somaliland was not affected.

Eden explained that the "tentative" offer was an effort to settle the Italo-Ethiopian problem "which His Majesty's Government regards with grave concern."

Italy Has Little Fear Over Report of Economic Blockade.

ROME, July 5. — A Government spokesman said today Italy had little fear that England would impose an economic blockade to prevent war between Italy and Ethiopia. He said that the prominence given in the Italian press to English newspaper comment on this topic did not indicate the Government's opinion.

The spokesman pointed out that the talk of an economic blockade had not yet reached an official stage even in England and dismissed reports that Italian and Ethiopian forces had been engaged in battle as unconfirmed rumors.

Dispatches from London yesterday quoted well-informed quarters in denial of reports that Great Britain was urging an economic blockade against Italy to avert war with Ethiopia.

FIVE-TERM EX-CONVICT GETS 25 YEARS MORE

Hicks W. Clayton Pleads Guilty of Robbing Silva (Mo.) Postmaster.

Hicks W. Clayton, 24 years old, who has already served terms in five penal institutions, pleaded guilty today of robbing the Silva (Mo.) postmaster of $87 at the point of a shotgun and was sentenced to 25 years in Leavenworth Prison by Federal Judge Davis.

Clayton was charged in the indictment with threatening Postmaster Murray Randall with a deadly weapon and the 25-year sentence was mandatory. The robbery occurred last Jan. 26.

More than 50 robberies since the first of the year extending from Arkansas into Iowa were admitted by Clayton. Postoffice inspectors said, but he was charged only with the Postoffice holdup. Using stolen automobiles, he said, he usually crossed a State line when he was pursued.

Robert H. Bondurant, 20-year-old assistant postmaster at Hunter, Mo., pleaded guilty of having stolen $8060 from registered mail sacks and was sentenced to five years in Leavenworth.

Bondurant had been paroled June 1, 1934, by Gov. Park to the postmaster at Hunter from a two-year burglary sentence at Alcoa Farms. His mail thefts were detected last May after he disappeared from Hunter, only to be arrested a short time later while walking with a woman companion on the crowded midway of the Memphis Cotton Carnival.

About $4000 of the money was recovered, but the rest Bondurant had squandered in a week's spending spree on a trip to Florida, during which he bought the woman $500 worth of clothes and a wedding and engagement ring.

Edward J. Amlett, who liked to spell his name backward and call himself "Prof. Tolma, the Oriental mystic and fortune teller," pleaded guilty of defrauding an Illinois farmer on relief of more than $100 and was sentenced to two years in Leavenworth and fined $100.

Almott had encouraged Charles E. Wilston of Bushnell, Ill., in his belief that there was a pot of gold hidden on his farm and had told Wilston that his "charm" would help find the gold. Wilston mortgaged his furniture, sent money from his relief allowances to Almott by mail, and faithfully burned a candle in a red glass, but the gold was never found. Postoffice inspectors found Almott in St. Louis.

Zita Billings pleaded guilty of forging narcotic prescriptions and was sentenced to two years in the Federal Women's Penitentiary at Alderson, W. Va.

DRIVER WHO TORE UP TICKET FINED $50 ON PARKING CHARGE

Then Other Officers Arrest Him for Not Answering Another Summons.

"That's what I think of your ticket," a young man who said he was Milton Saldofsky of Pine Lawn told Patrolman Mikusah two weeks ago, tearing up the smudgy yellow slip and throwing it at his feet. Mikusah had given him the ticket for parking four hours in front of 716 North Eleventh street.

"Better be in court," Mikusah warned.

But there was no answer when the case was called. Mikusah watched his beat for the machine and last week he saw it and waited until the driver appeared. The policeman then took him to the station and placed him under bond for appearance in Judge Vest's court Wednesday.

On a plea of guilty, Saldofsky was fined $50. He tried unsuccessfully to change his plea to not guilty when he heard the amount of the fine.

Detectives Reinwald and Mortarity happened to be in court when Saldofsky's name was called. Hastily running through their note books, they nodded at each other. As Saldofsky left the courtroom, still protesting against a $50 fine for merely stopping his machine too long in one place, they arrested him for not answering a summons given him a month ago for failing to stop at a boulevard.

Man Killed by Bomb.

HACKENSACK, N. J., July 5.—Antonio Patone, 44 years old, of Garfield, died in Hackensack Hospital today of injuries received when a bomb exploded in his hand while he visited friends at Lodi. Both arms and one leg were torn by the blast.

AAA COTTON POOL DIRECTOR DEFENDS CONTROL PROGRAM

Oscar Johnson Tells Arkansas-Missouri Ginner Association "This Industry is Overgrown."

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., July 5.—Declaring that "your best friend is the farmer," Oscar Johnson of Washington, director of the AAA cotton pool, defended the administration's cotton control program in speaking here Wednesday before cotton ginner from Missouri and Arkansas. Johnston said the program has reduced the surplus "carry-over" of cotton from 12 1/2 million bales in 1932 to nine million at the present time as he addressed members of the Arkansas-Missouri Cotton Ginners Association.

"This industry is overgrown," Johnston said in stating that further "plowing under" will be necessary not only of cotton, but of gins, oil mills and cotton buyers. He said there is little hope of an increase of export of cotton.

"A battleship may soon be necessary to protect our lands to increase production while the United States battle with the largest surplus ever known," said Johnston in speaking of American interests "dabbling" with Brazilian cotton industry. Cotton control will be continued until the American surplus is destroyed, he emphatically stated. Johnston said the four and a half million bale surplus this year will be in the hands of the producers and the farmers.

HAUPTMANN JURORS TO GET $258 EACH FOR SERVICES

Usual Rate of $3 Doubled Because They Were Locked Up Each Night.

TRENTON, N. J., July 5. — The Hauptmann jurors will receive double pay—$6 a day for 43 days' service—in the trial which resulted in the conviction of Bruno Hauptmann of the murder of the Lindbergh baby.

After 20 weeks of waiting while the Legislature passed a supplemental appropriation bill to cover additional trial expenses, the Comptroller's office forwarded to Sheriff John H. Curtiss of Juniata County, a check which included $258 for each of the 12 jurors.

The usual rate of $3 was doubled because the jurors were locked up each night.

Other bills of the Hauptmann trial are being paid daily from the $75,000 special appropriation. The total cost of the trial, paid by the State, was $125,000.

SENECA HOLDUP SUSPECT NOT MAN WANTED IN LUEK CASE

Identified as George Ralston, Not Lloyd Doyle; Latter Also Sought for Bank Robbery.
JOPLIN, Mo., July 5.—Wayne Slankard, Newton County Prosecuting Attorney, has announced that a man held in jail at Neosho is not Lloyd Doyle, who is wanted in connection with the kidnapping of August Luek at Alton, Ill., in 1933. At the same time Slankard announced that a photograph of Doyle had been identified by R. L. Hughes cashier of the State Bank of Seneca, as one of three men who robbed the bank. Officers said they had been searching for Doyle in this area for several weeks. The man held at Neosho, suffering from a bullet wound in the left arm, gave the name of George Ralston. He was arraigned on a charge of first degree robbery in connection with the bank holdup. Mr. and Mrs. Epp Melton were arraigned on charges of being accessories after the fact. All were remanded to jail in default of bond. Hughes also identified Ralston tentatively as one of the Seneca bandits, Slankard said.

Last of Byrd's Penguins Dies.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 5.—Lena, the last of six Empress penguins purchased for $5000 by the Chicago Zoological Gardens from Admiral Byrd's Antarctic expedition, died Wednesday. Like her companions, Lena was the victim of a fungus infection of the respiratory tract. Zoo Director Edward H. Bean said he believed the birds were unable to build up a resistance to the temperate zone air.

DREWES MOVES TO SEMIFINALS IN MUNY TENNIS TITLE TOURNEY

Ted Drewes and Robert Norton, O'Fallon Park players, continued their winning ways and entered the semifinal round of the twenty-second annual Municipal tennis championship on the Jefferson Memorial courts yesterday. Drewes won from Wilbur Lindauer, 6-3, 6-0, while Norton eliminated Bud Fischer, 6-3, 6-2.

Richard Philpot sprang a surprise by defeating John Aschbacher in a third-round encounter, 6-2, 6-2. Aschbacher had previously eliminated Ted Heuermann and was expected to advance yesterday.

Only two matches will be played this afternoon. William Bell will oppose Ward Parker in one, while Frank Keaney meets Philpot in the other. Both are quarterfinal round singles matches.

Play in the doubles is now in the semifinal round. The four teams who survived yesterday's play are Drewes and Krueger, Bell and Petrik, Parker and Wayne Smith and the defending champions, Norton and Heuermann.

Entries for the Municipal women's tennis championship will be received at the sporting goods stores and the Park Department up to 4 o'clock today. First-round matches are scheduled to start tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Ruth Prosser will defend her title in the singles and with Mercene Weiss in the doubles.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.
SINGLES.
Third round—Frank Keaney defeated John Runk, 6-1, 6-2; Richard Philpot defeated John Aschbacher, 6-2, 6-6, 6-2; Ward Parker defeated James Lieber Jr., 6-3, 6-4.

Quarter-final round—Ted Drewes defeated Wilbur Lindauer, 6-3, 6-0; Robert Norton defeated Bud Fischer, 6-3, 6-2.

DOUBLES.
Second round—Bell and Petrik defeated Rayon and Singer, 6-1, 6-2; Posker and Posker defeated Neuman and Argo, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Quarter-final round—Drewes and Krueger defeated Keaney and Travis, 6-3, 6-0; Bell and Petrik defeated Philpot and Eschbach, 6-3, 6-4; Norton and Heuermann defeated Aschbacher and Kelly, 6-1, 6-1; Parker and Smith defeated Posker and Fischer, 6-3, 2-6, 6-2.

Robert Weinstock, University City High School player, won the Triple A Club invitational high school tennis championship for the second successive year when he defeated Richard Tindall, St. Louis University High School representative, on the Triple A courts yesterday afternoon, 6-3, 6-1.

The winner of the Class A singles was Dave Chopin, St. Louis University High School player, who defeated Bruce Seddon Jr. of Country Day School, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

Sam Stone defeated James Johnson in the feature of yesterday's matches in the Forest Park Tennis Club close tournament on the Jefferson Memorial courts, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3. Ward Parker also gained the second round by defeating A. Simon, 6-3, 6-4. Kurt Dietz-Felbing defeated Jack Bachman, 6-1, 6-2, in one second-round contest, while F. Rumbaoa won from J. Boris, 6-2, 6-0. Rumbaoa, a player from the Philippine Islands, was eliminated in the third round by Neal Crasnick, St. Louis District boy champion, by a 6-3, 6-3 score.

DREWES MOVES TO SEMIFINALS IN MUNY TENNIS TITLE TOURNAMENT

Ted Drewes and Robert Norton, O'Fallon Park players, continued their winning ways and entered the semifinal round of the twenty-second annual Municipal tennis championship on the Jefferson Memorial courts yesterday. Drewes won from Wilbur Lindauer, 6-3, 6-0, while Norton eliminated Bud Fischer, 6-3, 6-2.

Richard Philpot sprang a surprise by defeating John Aschbacher in a third-round encounter, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2. Aschbacher had previously eliminated Ted Heuermann and was expected to advance yesterday.

Only two matches will be played this afternoon. William Bell will oppose Ward Parker in one, while Frank Keaney meets Philpot in the other. Both are quarterfinal round singles matches.

Play in the doubles is now in the semifinal round. The four teams who survived yesterday's play are Drewes and Krueger, Bell and Petrik, Parker and Wayne Smith and the defending champions, Norton and Heuermann.

Entries for the Municipal women's tennis championship will be received at the sporting goods stores and the Park Department up to 4 o'clock today. First-round matches are scheduled to start tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Ruth Prosser will defend her title in the singles and with Mercene Weiss in the doubles.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.
Third round—Frank Keaney defeated John Bunk, 6-1, 6-2; Richard Philpot defeated John Aschbacher, 6-2, 0-6, 6-2; Ward Parker defeated James Lister Jr., 6-1, 8-6.
Quarterfinals—Ted Drewes defeated Wilbur Lindauer, 6-3, 6-0; Robert Norton defeated Bud Fischer, 6-3, 6-2.

Second round—Bell and Petrik defeated Ray and Singer, 6-1, 6-2; Fowler and Fischer defeated Newman and Argo, 3-6, 8-6.
Quarterfinals—Drewes and Krueger defeated Keaney and Travis, 6-3, 6-0; Bell and Petrik defeated Philpot and Aschbacher, 6-3, 6-4; Norton and Heuermann defeated Aschbacher and Kelly, 6-1, 6-1; Parker and Smith defeated Fowler and Fischer, 6-3, 6-2.

Robert Weinstein, University City High School player, won the Triple A Club invitational high school tennis championship for the second successive year when he defeated Richard Tindall, St. Louis University High School representative, on the Triple A courts yesterday afternoon, 6-3, 6-1.

The winner of the Class A singles was Dave Chopin, St. Louis University High School player, who defeated Bruce Seddon Jr. of Country Day School, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

Sam Stone defeated James Johnson in the feature of yesterday's matches in the Forest Park Tennis Club close tournament on the Jefferson Memorial courts, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3. Ward Parker also gained the second round by defeating A. Simon, 6-3, 6-4. Kurt Dietzschberger defeated Jack Schuman, 6-1, 6-2, in one second-round contest, while F. Rumbach won from J. Boris, 6-2, 6-0. Rumbach, a player from the Philippine Islands, was eliminated in the third round by Neal Crasineck, St. Louis District champion, by a 6-3, 6-3 score.

Tomorrow's Schedule.

Open Date for Cardinals; Reds Here Tomorrow

TODAY was an open date for the world champion Cardinals, but the team was not idle. They were in St. Paul, Minn., to play an exhibition game with Marty McManus' Saints.

The Redbirds will return home tomorrow morning and in the afternoon will open a series with the Cincinnati Reds at Sportsman's Park.

Swim Aces Begin National Title Event, Tonight

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, July 5.—Jack Medina's reign as king of the swimmers at a mile, 880 and 440 yards, will be seriously threatened tonight when the husky Seattle record-holder faces Ralph Flanagan of Miami and other performers in the opening of the National A. A. U. men's outdoor swimming championships.

Under the lights of the Detroit Boat Club pool tonight, Flanagan will make his best bid to dethrone Medina. The two stroked mile heats in the qualifying trials yesterday and Flanagan was clocked in the best time, 21:43.3. Medina made the distance in 21:54, one second ahead of another threat, Norris Hoyt of Yale.

The A. A. U. championships will run three days, and tonight's program calls for competition in the finals of the mile free style, 220-yard breast stroke, the 100-meter free and the 10-meter spring board diving.

The 220-yard event will bring out another title defender in Jimmy Gilhula of the Detroit A. C. The big threats to his title reign are expected to be John Macdonis of Providence, R. I., Paul Wolfe of the Los Angeles A. C. and Tex Robertson, a teammate and recent University of Michigan star.

The 100-meter free style has drawn a fast field in Art Highland of the Chicago Lake Shore A. C., the defending champion, Peter Fick of the New York A. C. and Charley Flachman, also of the Lake Shore. The diving event will be a big test for Dick Degener of Detroit, the present title holder. Three top notchers will be bidding for his crown, including Al Greene of Chicago, Johnny Riley, Los Angeles, and Elbert Root of Miami.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Bringing in the Sheaves.

JOE LOUIS may not be champion, but there is every reason to believe that his financial harvest for the next few months will be greater than that of the title-holder, James J. Braddock. Already he has been matched for what promises to be a park-filler, the bout with King Levinsky, Aug. 7, at Comiskey Field, Chicago.

Levinsky goes big in Chicago. His luster and ballyhoo may have been somewhat dimmed; but there is still a large and admiring following of the boastful King-fighter. Even at popular prices the bout will draw a big gate, at a minimum risk, as fights with Lasky and Baer, have shown that Levinsky is about as washed up.

Following that battle Mike Jacobs of the Twentieth Century Club plans to keep his contract as busy as possible and there isn't much doubt that a big fight in September will also be arranged, if Baer or Schmeling is willing. Louis can fight frequently before big houses; and this manager promises to arrange for, believing that boxers deteriorate through inaction. Joe's earnings before Jan. 1 should reach $100,000.

It Isn't Being Done.

BRADDOCK the champion, in the meantime, will be showing in exhibitions, and stage appearances, neither of which will draw

ALLISON AND VAN RYN MOVE TO THE FINAL IN DOUBLES

By the Associated Press.

WIMBLEDON, England, July 5.—Fred Perry, dashing British star of the courts, captured the All-England tennis championship for the second successive year today, defeating Baron Gottfried Von Cramm of Germany, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4 in the final round.

Although Von Cramm battled the Briton every inch of the way, he never had a chance against the black-haired champion. At every vital point, Perry had the shots he needed to win and Von Cramm consistently was caught flat-footed by the Briton's smashing drives.

Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn of the United States continued their march through the men's doubles by defeating the crack English pair of G. F. Hughes and C. R. D. Tuckey in a semifinal match, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2. Hughes and Tuckey have been named to represent Great Britain in the Davis Cup challenge round.

Perry, a heavy favorite from the start, lived up to his reputation as the world's greatest amateur. He dominated the match throughout and always looked like the certain winner.

Von Cramm, first German to reach the finals since Otto Froitzheim was beaten by the great Australian, Norman Brookes, in the 1914 championship round, definitely was outclassed by a player who could make no mistakes today.

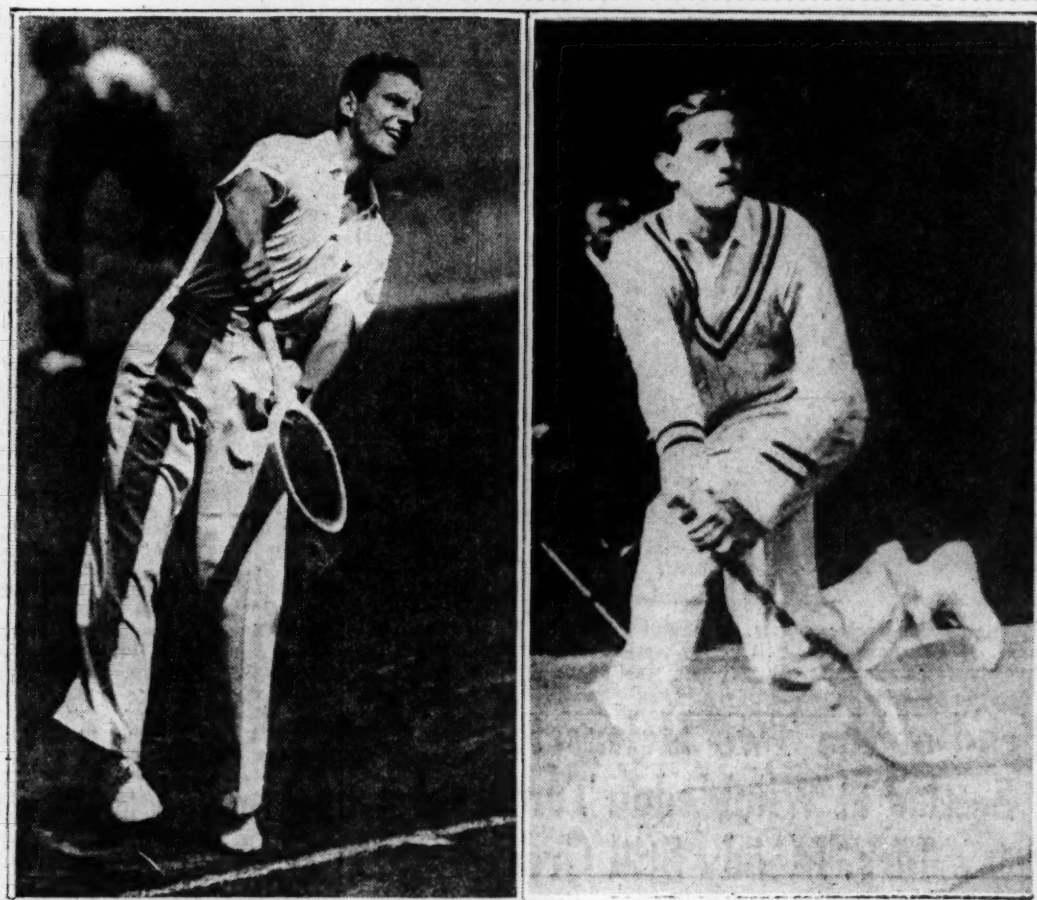

Perry's victory enabled Great Britain to salvage one of the two major Wimbledon titles. The other, the women's singles championship, definitely is lost to the home land for the finalists tomorrow will be America's two great feminine aces, Helen Jacobs, United States champion, and Helen Wills Moody, former world's title-holder.

Perry, first playing-through men's champion in Wimbledon history to successfully defend the crown, lost his own services once and appeared able to crack Von Cramm's delivery whenever he wished.

Von Cramm was good enough to make it a spectacular all-court match but he couldn't equal Perry's strategy in the clutches. Once established at the net, Perry was nearly invulnerable. Von Cramm, on the other hand, whenever he attacked, was easily beaten.

Cuyler Signs to Play With Reds

By the Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, July 5.—Cast off by the Chicago Cubs, Hazen (Kiki) Cuyler signed today with the Cincinnati Reds.

Given his unconditional release by the Cubs last Wednesday, the 36-year-old outfielder promptly declared himself as fast as any man in the big league despite his years, and announced he would sell his services "to the highest bidder."

He reached agreement today with General Manager Larry MacPhail after making known he had bids from the Reds, the Dodgers, the Braves and the Yankees.

Though signing him, the Reds will not let any present member of the team go, since his acquisition brings the squad up to the 23-player limit.

Hemsley Added to American League All-Star Squad

DETROIT, July 5.

ATCHER ROLLIE HEMSLEY of the Browns today was notified that he would be one of the catchers on the American League all-star squad in the game at Cleveland Monday.

Hemsley replaces Bill Dickey of the Yankees, who is injured. J. M. G.

GREENBERG HITS TWO HOMERS TO RUN HIS SEASON TOTAL TO 25

By James M. Gould.

Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

DETROIT, July 5.—Rogers Hornsby's Browns lost to the champion Detroit Tigers this afternoon in the opening game of a series of three.

The score was 16 to 1.

The after-holiday crowd was estimated at 7000 paid, with some 5000 women guests of the Tigers.

The umpires were Summers, Marberry and McGowan.

The game:
FIRST INNING—BROWNS—Lary filed to Fox. Burns struck out. Owen threw out Solters.

TIGERS—Fox doubled off the left field fence on the first pitch. Walker sacrificed. Van Atta to Burns. Gehring hit to Bejma and Fox was apparently trapped between third and home. After the ball had been handled by Bejma Hemsley and Burnett Lary got into the play and made a wild throw to Van Atta who was covering the plate. Fox scoring and Gehring going all the way to third. Greenberg hit over the scoreboard in left center for his twenty-fourth home run of the season and scored behind Gehring. Goslin walked. Rogell singled to left, Goslin stopping at second. Van Atta was taken out and Coffman went in to pitch for the Browns. Goslin and Rogell worked a double steal. Hayworth walked, filling the bases. Owen filed to West, Goslin scoring and Rogell taking third. Sorrell forced Hayworth, Lary to Bejma.

PERRY KEEPS WIMBLEDON CROWN, DEFEATING VON CRAMM

TITLE HOLDER WINS STRAIGHT SET TRIUMPH OVER GERMAN

tempted to rush to the net, more often than not was passed cleanly down the sideline.

18,000 in stands.

Perry and Von Cramm came on the court and posed for photographers for five minutes before warming up.

More than 15,000 spectators were in the stands as Perry broke in through the German's service in the first game at 4-1 and then held his own to lead, 2-0.

Playing masterful tennis on vital points, Perry held his own second service at 9-7 and then broke through Von Cramm again in the fifth game to lead 4-1.

Perry quickly ran out the set with the loss of only one more game. He was proving too smart for the German after games reached deuce, pulling Von Cramm to the net and then passing him easily.

The point score of the first set: Perry—4-2 9-6 5-40—6 Von Cramm—11-4 7-3—30—2

Perry, winning the second game of the second set at love on service, brought gasps of amazement from the crowd by the ease with which in two strokes he worked the German out of position and passed him in exactly the same fashion in three successive rallies. With both holding service, the games went to 2-2.

Perry Wins Second Set. After games had reached 3-3, Perry rushed to the net like a swooping hawk and broke the German's service at love. Von Cramm rallied, however, cracked Perry's service, forcing the champion to net three straight balls off his backhand, and draw even at 4-4. Perry then steadied, broke Von Cramm's service again for 5-4 and then served out the set behind two aces.

The point score of the second set: Perry—3-4 4-2 4-4—3-6 Von Cramm—5-5 14-0 11-2—2-4

Third Set. Some of the finest tennis of the tournament kept the crowd on its feet in the early stages of the third set with games going to 2-2. Perry went to 10-8 to hold his second deuce as Von Cramm fought back doggedly to stave off defeat.

Perry broke the German at 6-4 in the fifth game and then held his own service at 8-6, to forge into the lead in games, four to three. Almost every point brought fireworks as the two champions alternated in going to the net.

Games went to 5-3 behind services. Perry had match point in the ninth game but Von Cramm produced three blazing serves, two of them aces, to save the game.

It only delayed the issue, however, for Perry served out in the next game. Von Cramm knocked the deciding point over the base line after a long rally. The crowd gave the German a big hand as he walked off the court.

Point scores of the third set: Perry 2-3 (10) 6-8 0-4 4-5—6 Von Cramm 4-15 8-6 4-16 3-42—4

The first completed match of the day saw Adrian Cusack of Australia and Jadwiga Jedzejowska of Poland defeat Vivian McGrath and Joan Hartigan of Australia, 2-6, 6-3, 6-1, in the quarterfinal round of mixed doubles.

In women's doubles, Mme. Rene Mathieu of France and Hilda Krahwinkel Sperling of Germany, seeded No. 2, gained the semifinals at the expense of Mme. Joanne Sigart de Meulmeester of Belgium and Mrs. P. D. Howard of Great Britain, 6-4, 6-6.

Negro Bout Signed. Matchmaker Benny Kessler, whose amateur boxing card next Wednesday night at the West Side Park will be featured by six matches between Missouri and Arkansas fighters, last night signed Bill Henley and Bob Saunders, lightweights, to meet in one of the three Negro bouts. Another Negro match already closed will be fought by "Snowball" President and Archie Moore, welterweights.

High Temperatures Improve Fishing Conditions in State. By the Associated Press. JEFFERSON CITY, July 5.—Improvement in fishing conditions over the State were reported today as temperatures bounded sharply upward and skies and "fishing holes" cleared.

Small tributary streams and lakes are attracting a majority of anglers at present, the State Game and Fish Commission said, but larger bodies of water rapidly were clearing. The Lake of the Ozarks and Lake Taneycomo were reported clearing on the arms and at upper coves where fresh water streams enter the main body.

Live bait was recommended by the commission at virtually all of Missouri's best fishing places. Good catches of crappie on the lower Osage below Bagnell Dam also were reported.

Seeks Fifteenth Munny Title—He Has Won Eleven Straight!

Ted Drewes, perennial champion of the public courts, is favored to win his fifteenth municipal championship this week. If he succeeds it will be his twelfth consecutive victory in this event. Drewes several times has also won the national municipal championship.

Mrs. Moody 2 to 1 Favorite to Win From Helen Jacobs

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 5.—If the bookmakers are right and if the other women tennis stars who have played the two California Helens are right, Mrs. Helen Willis Moody should be avenged, Saturday, for her defeat at Forest Hills two years ago to Miss Helen Jacobs.

Immediately after Britain thrilled to the news that the bitter rivals were to meet for the third time in a Wimbledon final, bookmakers laid 2 to 1 on Mrs. Moody.

"I think Helen Moody will win," predicted Dorothy Round, last year's champion.

Katherine Stammers, the only Briton who has ever defeated Mrs. Moody, agreed. "But only just!"

"Mrs. Moody seems to have found her form again, but Miss Jacobs's game is very strong. There is very little between them, but I choose Mrs. Moody," said Suzanne Lenglen.

Feud of the Two Helens to Be Settled at Wimbledon Tomorrow: Mrs. Moody Still Great Player

By John R. Tunis.

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 4.—Helen Willis and Helen Hull Jacobs, who celebrated America's Independence day with a parade into the final round of Wimbledon's fifty-fifth women's singles tennis championship, tomorrow will settle a feud that flared in the summer of 1933.

The battle of America's Helens, Austin and Von Cramm, kept going deuce a possibility, but an improbability by critics, became a certainty on Wimbledon's packed center court today when Miss Jacobs's crushed Hilda Krahwinkel Sperling of Denmark, the favorite, 6-3, 6-0, and Mrs. Moody defeated the youthful Joan Hartigan of Australia, 6-3, 6-3.

America's victorious march continued in the morning as Helen Willis Moody, who showed herself a true champion, and began hitting slashing drives into Miss Hartigan's weak left corner, slowly and gradually winning points and wearing the little Australian down with blistering rallies.

Miss Hartigan might have turned the tide late in the second set. With Mrs. Moody leading, 4-3, she had two game points in the eighth, but the Californian's steadiness and the speed of her fine drives drew errors and saved the game. After that it was all over. Miss Hartigan wilted completely, her game sadly disrupted at the end.

Both Helens Deserve Credit. I consider great credit due to both Americans for their plucky fight into the finals through a field of the best women players in the world. Mrs. Moody, if not in the form of five years ago, still is a great player. It will be the third meeting of these rivals in a Wimbledon contest. They met in 1929 and again in 1932, and each time Mrs. Moody won in straight sets.

Budge and Mako had a close shave against Wood and Maier. The Californians' better service returns won two rapid sets, but then they became careless. Mako was especially unsteady off the ground and the Spanish-American combination took the next two sets to even the match. Mako found his touch in the fifth set, however, and began volleying at his opponents' feet, holding the lead after an early break through Wood to take the match.

Allison and Van Ryn were rarely in danger but still are far from the great tournament winning combination. Allison still is below best form and very uncertain on overhead shots, but Van Ryn played a splendid game. The South African team, overawed by the occasion, lost heart after the second set and made it rather easy for the Americans.

Mrs. Moody at Her Best. The Mrs. Moody-Miss Hartigan match produced much better tennis. The 19-year-old Australian ace produced a ferocious, flat forehand, perfectly controlled and hit with great speed. Mrs. Moody responded to the challenge, wearing down her youthful opponent's brilliance with superior ground strokes and fine court-covering.

Miss Hartigan, smacking forehand "rives down the line, caught a 3-1 lead in the first set. Mrs. Moody, however, sensing danger, kept her returns deep, drawing errors by hard drives pitching into Miss Hartigan's backhand corner, and won five straight for the set.

The 19-year-old Australian, displaying the same coolness under fire that Budge exhibited against the English golf star, and Walter Hagen, veteran American campaigner, were beaten 4 and 3 by Mortie Dutra and Al Watrous in a best ball exhibition match yesterday.

With a par-breaking 70 for Dutra, he and his teammate turned in a splendid game. The South African team, overawed by the occasion, lost heart after the second set and made it rather easy for the Americans.

PERRY, AUSTIN, HUGHES, FORM ENGLAND'S DAVIS CUP TEAM

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, July 5.—Crack teams to contest for the Davis and Wightman cups were named yesterday by the British Lawn Tennis Association.

England's representatives in the Davis cup competition will be Fred Perry, the No. 1 ranking player; H. W. (Bunny) Austin, ranked second; G. P. Hughes, ranked third; and C. R. D. Tuckey, a youthful sensation, ranked tenth.

The new doubles combination, Named to the Wightman cup team, which goes to America to compete for the cup at Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 16-17, were Evelyn Dearmon, Dorothy Round, Freda James, Nancy Lyle, Katherine Stammers and Mrs. Phyllis Mudford King.

All the Davis cup selections are holdovers except the 25-year-old Tuckey, who will team with Hughes in the doubles. Perry and Austin again will play the singles matches.

The new doubles combination, with Tuckey replacing Harold G. N. Lee, has been playing sensationally this season and has fought its way to the semifinals of the all-England championship now under way at Wimbledon. The Britishers must play Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, the American pair, for the right to enter the finals.

The only surprise occasioned by the selections was the failure of the Lawn Tennis Association to include Miss Mary Hardwick on the Wightman cup team. She has been one of the most consistent performers among the women this year and a few weeks ago came within two points of defeating Mrs. Helen Willis Moody, former British and American champion, in the St. George's Hill tournament.

The injury to Earl Averill's fingers by an exploding firecracker caused wide comment in fandom. If it had been "Dizzy" Dean they would simply have shrugged it off.

The comeback of Wild Bill Hahlman made the return of Jim Braddock look like a commuter dropping off the tail end of the 5:15 to take a short cut home.

Wild Bill didn't give a single base on balls but in order to validate his title he hit one batter.

Branch Rickey was so overjoyed that he said he would send Ray Harrell to Rochester. Now if Paul Dean turns in a swell game the outgoing train will be loaded with second-string pitchers going in all directions.

Cardinals Win Twice From Cubs, Move Into Second Place

By James M. Gould.

Of the Post-Dispatch Staff.

CHICAGO, July 5.—The world champion Cardinals today were sojourning in the American Association after having celebrated the Fourth of July here yesterday by walloping the Cubs twice and taking over possession of second place. And so, for winning from the Cubs by scores of 5 to 3 and 6 to 4, the Redbirds were rewarded by a night journey to St. Paul with the glorious opportunity of playing Marty McManus' club today. They return home tomorrow to open a series with their former cousins, the Cincinnati Reds.

The champions had to work hard for both games yesterday. They went 12 innings to get a decision in the opener and there were times in the second affair when defeat was fairly close. Walker started No. 1, but was relieved by "Old Pop" Haines after the seventh, French and Root working for Charley Grimm. All tied up at 3-3 when these two right-handed veterans took command, it so happened that Root was the older time to come first. Haines was bothered at times, but came through splendidly.

Also Haines had a share in winning on the offense. In the twelfth, with one down, Durocher singled and "Pop" went across when Orsatti shot a single—his fifth hit of the game—to center.

No. 12 for Dizzy Dean. J. Herman Hanner Dizzy Dean annexed his twelfth victory of the year on the aftermath. Dizzy wasn't as a matter of cold fact, very "hot" because the Cubs slapped him for 11 hits at odd times but, in the sixth inning, the Cub infield gave a beautiful exhibition of how not to function and the Birds put over three runs on one hit. The Cubs could crowd only four errors into this session, which it might be remarked, is some crowd.

The three runs the Birds got were needed, because the Cubs kept plugging away and always were in the running. Warneke, charged with the defeat, was in tough luck for he gave up only five hits in the eight innings he toiled.

DISCOVERIES TO MAKE NEXT START AT EMPIRE TRACK JULY 13

VANDERBILT AGE HAS BEEN EASY WINNER IN HIS LAST 3 RACES

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 5. — Discovery, the chestnut colt that couldn't catch up with Cavalcade as a three-year-old, is building up a runaway record on the turf this year.

In his last three races, the Al-Fred G. Vanderbilt chestnut colt has won by a total of 44 lengths on both muddy and fast going tracks. He won the Aqueduct Handicap by eight lengths, the Detroit match race by 30 and the Stars and Stripes Handicap at Arlington Park yesterday by six lengths despite the fact that he was pocketed much of the way.

Discovery's share of yesterday's purse was $9000, but he must have received that much worth of satisfaction to boot as the sweltering crowd of 30,000, which backed him to a prohibitive favorite, gave him a big cheer.

Owner Vanderbilt planned to ship his stake winner to Empire City today for another big race there, July 13.

Empire Track Opens.
NEW YORK, July 5.—With another successful meeting terminated at Aqueduct, the metropolitan district racing scene shifted today to Yonkers, where a "new" Empire City track, improved by "Young Jim" Butler, is ready for the horse, flesh and patrons. One innovation is the installation of raised platforms, with railings around them for the bookmakers, in addition to larger stalls for display of the odds. Applications have been received for 1600 horses at Empire City, but only 800 stalls are available. Outstanding establishments which will be represented include those of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, E. R. Bradley, C. V. Whitney, Samuel D. Riddle, Joseph E. Widener, W. M. Jeffords, Mrs. Payne Whitney and G. D. Widener.

FRATERNITY MEN WHO MADE FUN OF HITLER ARE PENALIZED
 Chapter at Heidelberg University Loses Charter for Two Years at Nazis' Order.
 HEIDELBERG, Germany, July 5.—For making merry during Reichsführer Hitler's May 21 Reichstag speech and discussing how Der Führer eats asparagus, the Heidelberg University chapter of the Borussia Fraternity has been suspended for two years.
 In pre-Nazi days, such entertainment during initiation was considered mild, but university disciplinarians agreed that now it constitutes a violation of the students' obligation to the people, the State and the university.

JENKINS CONDEMNS PEABODY CONTRACTS
 "Just $20,000,000 in Velvet" Wrapped Up in Deal With Utilities, He Says.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
 CHICAGO, July 5.—"Just $20,000,000 in velvet" is wrapped up in the $100,000,000 coal contract made by the former Insull-controlled public utilities with the Peabody Coal Co. was charged before the Public Ownership League of America.
 The attorney also declared that the city of Chicago had been remiss in its duties to its citizens in failing to intervene in behalf of the electricity consumers.
 David F. Taber, attorney for the Commonwealth Edison, objected to the "velvet charge" of Jenkins but Commissioner Harry Barr received the statement and said that he would reserve decision.
 The contracts made under the direction of Samuel Insull in 1928 cover a period to 1955 and give the Peabody Coal Co. a monopoly on the coal sales to the utilities at 15 per cent plus cost. The contracts have been opposed by the Illinois Power & Light Co., whose attorney, Charles C. La Farge, declared that the contracts were written with "deft and subtle hands." The Progressive Miners of America also oppose the contracts. The fight has been in public hearings stage for more than a year.
 In his petition Attorney Jenkins asserted that the utilities are paying exorbitant prices for coal to the Peabody company, while the same company is selling at lower prices to other consumers. Jenkins demanded that the commission call for questioning the purchasing agents of Swift & Co., Armour Co. and the International Harvester Co.
 Jenkins said: "It is difficult to tell by the alleged original contracts what prices are paid the Peabody Co. for coal by the utilities. It is easy to see $20,000,000 in velvet in the $100,000,000 deal."

AGED WIDOW FOUND DEAD
 Mrs. Ellen McConachie of Sparta, Alone When Stricken.

Sparta, Ill., July 5.—Mrs. Ellen McConachie, 83 years old, widow, was found dead in her home here Wednesday morning. Coroner C. A. Jackson said she had been dead a week. When the coroner reached the home where she lived alone he found her crouched at the foot of the staircase. She was last seen alive June 26.

She is survived by two sons, Lynn S. McConachie of Chaffee, Mo., and Edward McConachie of El Paso, Tex.; a daughter, Mrs. Ethel Laferriere of Santa Barbara, Cal., and a sister, Mrs. Minerva Pillers of Sparta. Funeral services will be held Friday.

GERMAN AIR CORPS OFFICER SENTENCED TO BE BEHEADED

Reported to Have Been Convicted of Espionage, but Name and Charge Are Concealed.

By the Associated Press.
 BERLIN, July 5.—A high officer of the Aviation Corps has been condemned to death by the People's Court and soon will be beheaded. He occupies a death cell in a Berlin prison, but his name and the official charge against him is being kept secret. It is said he was charged as a spy.

The Associated Press was informed that the two men beheaded two days ago on espionage charges had positions close to high military circles.
 Egon Bress, a naval technician of Wilhelmshaven, is reported to have concealed a secret naval code on his person. The other, Bruno Lindemann, was an army Quartermaster in whose possession it is charged was found a large sum of money for which he could not make an acceptable accounting.

For the murder of a storm trooper at Halle, Karl Jaenicke, 47-year-old Communist, was put to death today.

PEORIA MAN HELD FOR KILLING WOMAN PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Judge Tells Attorney He Has No Authority to Order Defense Fund.

By the Associated Press.
 PEORIA, Ill., July 5.—Gerald Thompson, mechanic, entered a plea of not guilty today through his attorney when formally charged with murdering Mildred Hallmark, cafeteria hostess, after attacking her.

The attorney asked that Peoria County be ordered to furnish funds for Thompson's defense. Circuit Judge Joseph E. Daily said he had no authority to grant the request. The police are reported to hold a detailed confession. The body was found June 17, half submerged in a roadside ditch running through a cemetery here.

FERRY SERVICE RESUMED ON RIVER AT ST. CHARLES

Temporary Suspension Had Been Ordered by Federal Steamboat Inspector.
 Ferry service over the Missouri River at St. Charles, made necessary by the destruction of a highway bridge span by a runaway train June 25, was resumed this afternoon after being temporarily suspended yesterday on order of George B. Gordon, Federal Steamboat Inspector.

The ferryboat Golden Eagle, with a capacity of 18 automobiles, was placed in service today, and the boat Julius S. Walsh, with a 60-car capacity, will be ready for service tomorrow following the completion of landings for the ferry on both sides of the river.

ESTATE PAYS MORE TAXES
 Christopher Winkelman Inheritance Turns in $8386 More.
 Special to the Post-Dispatch.
 JEFFERSON CITY, July 5.—The estate of Christopher Winkelman of St. Louis paid an additional State inheritance tax today of $8386 and a Missouri estate tax of $4977 to State Treasurer Nacy. The estate had paid $7596 in State inheritance taxes last December.
 Mr. Winkelman died in St. Louis on May 17, 1934. The gross inventory of his estate totaled $647,221. After deduction of certain taxes, obligations and administrative expenses, the net estate subject to the inheritance tax totaled $552,786. The bulk of the estate was bequeathed to a son and three daughters.

KILLER OF GIRL TO BE RETURNED TO DETROIT

Confessed Murderer of Lillian Gallaher, 11, to Be Tried; Wife Also Held.

By the Associated Press.
 NEW YORK, July 5.—Michigan authorities were ready today to take Merton Ward Goodrich, 27-year-old trap drummer, back to Detroit where he must stand trial for the killing of 11-year-old Lillian Gallaher. His wife, Florence, also is being returned to Detroit, charged with "acting in concert" by aiding her husband to escape. Goodrich is charged with homicide for the crime to which he confessed.
 "We do not think the murder of Lillian Gallaher, to which Goodrich has confessed, is the only crime he has committed since he was released from the Ohio State Hospital last year," said Prosecutor Duncan McCrea of Wayne County, Michigan. "There are at least six cases of little girls assaulted in Detroit which we think we can lay against this man. In addition there are several disappearances of young children about which we want to question him."
 Goodrich and his wife waived extradition yesterday and were turned over to the Detroit authorities. Although Goodrich insisted his wife knew nothing about the crime until several months ago, McCrea said Goodrich admitted he told his wife about it a few hours after the murder.
 Goodrich was arrested in Central Park Wednesday when he attempted to molest a young girl.

BRITON URGES STABILIZATION ACCORD WITH UNITED STATES

Robert Boothby, Conservative Member of Parliament, Makes Plea in British House.
 By the Associated Press.
 LONDON, July 5.—Robert Boothby, Conservative member of Parliament, urged in the House of Commons today that England approach the United States regarding monetary stabilization. He said the only way Great Britain could expand its overseas market was to get a little more order in the "chaotic currency system." He suggested Great Britain should try for co-operation with the United States "if only in the matter of temporary stabilization."
 His speech was made as the fourth budget of Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, passed its third and last reading by a vote of 163 to 11, and was sent to the House of Lords.
 Boothby declared the first step should be to use the American and British exchange equalization funds for a common object "rather than to conduct a sort of secret war."

4 YOUTHS HELD AT BELLEVILLE FOR THEFT FROM OIL STATION

Warrants for Burglary and Larceny Are Sworn Out Against Them.
 Four youths were under arrest at Belleville today charged with the theft of 17 cases of oil and 20 gallons of gasoline from the Service Oil Co. in Belleville last Tuesday night. Warrants charging them with burglary and larceny were sworn out by Assistant State's Attorney Bier.
 The youths said they were Lawrence Henry, 19 years old; Floyd Hammel, 18; Edward Kapes, 18; and Walter Klein, 22. Henry was arrested last night when police found him ready to move away an amplifier unit at the Belleville athletic field.

RETIRED MINISTER FOUND SHOT TO DEATH IN ARKANSAS OZARKS

Killed With Shotgun He Was Carrying to Farm Near Eureka Springs.

EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark., July 4.—The Rev. A. C. Edwards, retired Christian minister who had lived here for the past two years, was found shot to death on a road near the city by a group of visitors yesterday.
 Mr. Edwards had taken a shotgun on a trip to his farm, located near where the visitors found him. Both hammers of the gun were cocked but only one barrel was discharged, the load having struck his chest. Officers made no announcement concerning the death. Mr. Edwards came here from Arkansas City, Kan.

HIGH OFFICIALS OF IOWA INDICTED ON GRAFT CHARGES

Attorney-General Edward L. O'Connor and Assistant, Clyde Maley, Among 23 Formally Accused.

By the Associated Press.
SIoux CITY, July 5.—County prosecutors prepared new evidence today for the grand jury which already has indicted 23 persons, including Iowa's Attorney-General on graft charges.

After a raid on the home of Clyde Mayer, one of 18 men indicted with Attorney-General Edward L. O'Connor, and his assistant, Clyde Maley, prosecutors said letter files, check books, ledgers and seven slot machines obtained would be offered for the grand jury's inspection.

Mayer was named in grand jury testimony by a convict, Bert Rolinger, as one of the slot machine operators who paid him "protection money" which he allegedly turned over to State and Federal officers in Iowa after deducting 10 per cent.

County Attorney Maurice Rawlings said the trials of O'Connor and Maley, both of whom issued statements saying they were unjustly accused, along with the others named in the true bills would probably be held in the September court term here.

Attorney-General O'Connor pleaded not guilty at his arraignment today. He came here accompanied by Fred Free, Sioux City attorney, who arranged his $3000 bond. O'Connor appeared before Judge O. A. Wakefield. O'Connor said Maley probably would come here Monday for arraignment.

MAN, IN CAB WITH BODY OF WOMAN, ARRESTED

Arkansas Police Accuse Him of Shooting Her and Rival Near El Dorado.

By the Associated Press.

EL DORADO, Ark., July 5.—A man booked as Clyde Guiley of Farmerville was arrested in a confiscated taxicab yesterday with the body of a young woman beside him. Police accused him of killing the woman and a man following many quarrels over her affections.

Guiley, 38 years old and the father of two children, was arrested following two shootings at a highway cafe near here as he drove the cab toward Bernice, La. In the front seat beside him, dead, was Miss Clarice Moore, 22, of Huttig, Ark.

His companion, R. A. "Pap" Harper, also 22, of Strong, Ark., was found shot to death on the ground at the cafe.

Patrons and employees of the cafe told officers Guiley shot the two without warning. Deputy Sheriff Elmer Nelson said formal charges of murder would be filed against Guiley today.

Nelson said witnesses at the cafe told him Guiley appeared there in a taxicab yesterday, persuaded Miss Moore to go for a ride with him, and then as they returned without the driver, drew a pistol and shot down Harper when he approached them. Nelson said he was informed Guiley then shot Miss Moore and drove off with her body. He offered no resistance when overtaken by officers.

FOUR ARRAIGNED FOR KILLING OF HOWARD CARTER DICKINSON Man and Three Women Refuse to Plead; Habeas Corpus Hearings Delayed.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., July 5.—The man and three women who have admitted the $134 holdup killing of Howard Carter Dickinson refused to plead when arraigned today before Recorder's Judge Thomas M. Cotten. The Cotten entered not guilty pleas for them.

Murder warrants were signed a few minutes before the arraignment against William Lee Ferris, under his real name of William Schweitzer, and Florence and Loretta Jackson, sisters, and Jean Miller.

Judge Cotten set the case for examination next Friday and ordered the four held in the county jail without bond.

Arraignment forestalled hearings on writs of habeas corpus for the four. The hearings had been scheduled for today.

Ferris and the three women, all in their 20's, have confessed that they plotted the killing of Dickinson, New York attorney and nephew of Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes. Dickinson's body was found in Rouge Park June 27.

WIFE OF LINER'S CAPTAIN DIES
Mrs. Rene Pugnol, Whose Husband Is Master of Normandie, Was 51.

By the Associated Press.
ST. NAZAIRE, France, July 5.—Mrs. Rene Pugnol, wife of the captain of the liner Normandie, died after a long illness yesterday a few hours after her husband took the giant ship to sea, knowing their farewell was the last one. She was 51 years old.

Capt. Pugnol, who always hastened to his wife's bedside as soon as his ship docked at Le Havre, saw she was dying as he left to take the Normandie on its third voyage to America. He was unable to remain with her, however.

CABLED BIBLICAL NUMBERS DISCLOSE PROMISE TO WED

Groom-to-Be Replies to Ruth 1:16 With Ruth 1:17 in Exchanging Long Distance Vows

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 5.—All Miss Frances Elliott needed to cable to Rev. David Thomas Wright, at Port Elizabeth, South Africa, was "Ruth 1:16," and the young minister knew she was saying she would marry him, for Ruth 1:16 reads:

"And Ruth said, 'Treat me not to leave thee, or to return from following thee, for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge; thy people shall be my people and thy god my God.'"

And his return cable exulted, simply, "Ruth 1:17" and it reads: "Where thou diest, I will die, and there will I be buried, the Lord do so to me and more also, if I ought but death at thy hand, because I have not forsaken thee." They met, the 30-year-old pastor of the Walmer Road Baptist Church in Port Elizabeth and the daughter of two missionaries, while both were students at the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago.

FEDERAL BOARD SAYS OFFICER CAN SERVE BUT ONE FIRM WELL
Communications Commission Holds Director Should Be Active in Company's Affairs.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 5.—The Communications Commission said today that no officer or director of a company could adequately perform his duties if he held a position on the board of two or more companies.

The commission recently refused to allow 10 prominent officers of telephone and telegraph companies to serve on the boards of directors or as officers of both parent companies and subsidiaries or associated concerns.

"An officer or director of a company is supposed to act in an active, competent and intelligent interest in the affairs of that company," the commission said in its formal opinion.

"He holds a position of trust, and where he holds a position on the board of two or more competing carriers, it is evident that he cannot adequately perform his duties to the best interests of both companies."

In a special concurring opinion, Commissioner Paul A. Walker said no officer of a company should be allowed to lay plans through interlocking directorates which might "defeat effective regulation in the states."

OLIVER HERFORD, WRITER, ARTIST AND WIT, DIES

English-Born New Yorker Succumbs at 72; Author of 28 Books and Four Plays.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 5.—Oliver Herford, writer and artist and leading town wit at the turn of the century, died at his home here today. He was 72 years old.

His widow, Margaret Regan Herford, poet and playwright, was reported seriously ill.

Mr. Herford's epigrams delighted his readers and friends for years. He was the author of 28 books and four plays. Punch and other humorous publications printed his contributions.

He was born in England in 1863, the son of Dr. Brooke Herford, a Unitarian minister. He attended Lancaster College, England; Antioch College, Ohio, and studied at Slade School, London, and Julian's, Paris. He married Margaret Regan on May 26, 1904.

He was a member of the Players' Club and the National Institute of Arts and Letters. Among his books are: "Rubbishy of a Persian Kitchen," "Peter Pan Alphabet," "Kitchen's Garden of Verse," "The Herford Aesop" and "Excuse It, Please."

FORMER INSURANCE AGENT CHARGED WITH FORGERY
Indictment Alleged He Got $300 on Loan Checks of Policyholders.

Jesse N. Parker, 6730 Clayton avenue, former agent of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., was arrested yesterday on an indictment voted by the grand jury June 6 charging him with second degree forgery.

According to Assistant Circuit Attorney McLaughlin, in charge of the grand jury, the indictment charged Parker solicited loans on policies, unknown to the policyholders, endorsed three loan checks, totaling $300, and converted the money to his own use.

COUNT SENTENCED TO JAIL
Dorothy Gould's Husband Convicted of Taking Attached Goods.

PARIS, July 5.—Count Roland de Graffenried de Villars, estranged Swiss husband of Dorothy Gould, was convicted in Assises today of carrying off personal belongings which creditors had attached. He was sentenced in Police Court to two months in jail.

A divorce suit involving the Swiss Count and his American bride of 10 years ago will be heard here shortly. The Countess is the daughter of Frank Jay Gould, American capitalist now living in France, and Princess Vint. The Count's mother, the Countess de Riant, asks the custody of the two children.

200 THIRD PARTY ADVOCATES OPEN CHICAGO MEETING

Leaders Say Group's Objective Is United Left Wing Action in 1936 Political Campaign.

PRODUCTION FOR USE IS RALLYING POINT

Gov. Olsen of Minnesota Comes Out for Program—Possible Presidential Candidate.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 5.—A national conference of third party advocates, opened today with its leaders predicting they would put a "left wing" party aiming at a new social order into the political field in 1936.

"We feel that capitalism is disintegrating," said Howard Y. Williams of St. Paul, national organizer of the Farmer-Labor Political Federation, "and we are meeting to face the question of what shall replace it. We want a new party to build a new social order."

Sponsors of the movement said 200 conferees gathered at a downtown Chicago hotel at the call of an initiating committee of five members of Congress. They were described as "radicals of a typical American strain" by young Alfred Bingham of New York, son of former Republican Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut.

"Production for Use" Goal.
"Production for use" with the profit system of private industry discarded—was the goal uniting the various State groups, and on this plank they had a pledge of support from Gov. Floyd Olson of Minnesota, regarded as a possible third party presidential candidate.

"Please advise the conference," Olson wrote in a letter, "that I am completely committed to a production-for-use program, and ready to follow any movement which is designed to bring about a change from the present system to one of production for use and service."

What to call the new party, if it is launched, was one point on which the conferees were at odds. Midwesterners urged the name "Farmer Labor Party," and Easterners wanted it called "The Commonwealth Party."

Two members of the five-man Congressional Committee were on hand for the opening. Representative Thomas R. Amie of Elkhorn, Wis., sent to Congress by Wisconsin's Progressive party, was slated to head a committee on permanent organization. A "declaration of principles" will be drawn, at the end of the two-day session, by a committee under Representative Vito Marcantonio, New York City Republican.

"Exploratory" Meeting.
"I feel we should be in the presidential campaign of '36," said Williams, "and while this meeting is merely exploratory, the plan is to call a national convention this fall." Communists were barred from the meeting, its leaders said. Economic or political organizations unofficially represented included the Farmer Labor Political Federation, the National Farm Holiday Association, the Farmer-Labor Party of Minnesota, Wisconsin's Progressive party, various divisions of the Continental Committee on Technocracy; the Commonwealth Federation of New York; Washington State's Commonwealth Builders; the Socialist Party of America, and the Pennsylvania Security League.

Amie said some 30 states were represented, including all of the Midwest and Western states, except California; and many of the Eastern states. No delegates registered from the deep South.

Prof. Paul H. Douglas, who teaches political economy at the University of Chicago, was elected permanent chairman of the conference in its first business meeting. Bingham was made secretary.

Ex-Ruler of Spain Bruised on Head; Aid Suffers Fractured Collarbone.

By the Associated Press.
FOLLONICA, Italy, July 5.—Former King Alfonso of Spain was slightly injured today when the automobile which he was driving turned over while en route from Rome to Leghorn. His injuries were confined to bruises on the forehead. His aide-de-camp suffered a fractured collarbone.

Their injuries were dressed on the spot with the assistance of passing motorists and the former king and his aide were taken to Follonica for further treatment.

The accident occurred near the Pecora bridge on the ancient Via Aurelia, the automobile striking a pole after a blowout.

The injured aide-de-camp is Conte Los Andes, former Minister of Finance of Spain.

RETURN OF HAPSBURG RICHES VOTED BY AUSTRIAN LEADERS

Council of State and Cabinet Approve Measure Regarded as Step Toward Restoration of Monarchy.

By the Associated Press.

VIENNA, July 5.—A return of the Hapsburg properties to the ancient royal family—regarded as another step toward restoration of the monarchy—was approved by the Council of State yesterday.

The Council accepted the measure to "right the wrongs done the Hapsburg family," as has Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg's Cabinet. The bill lacks only the approval of the Federal diet and the President's signature to become a law, and is expected to be enacted by next Wednesday.

Foreign Minister Egon Berger-Waldeneck said no international complications would arise from the action as interested nations had already approved the plan.

The vast Hapsburg estates—castles, forests and farms—were confiscated by the Austrian republic in 1919 after a revolution brought the downfall of Emperor Carl, father of the present pretender to the throne, Archduke Otto.

The Austrian propaganda chief, Walter Adam, insisted in an address, that the new measure did not involve the question of restoration of the monarchy.

"The Cabinet action is a correction of an injustice with which no political by-play is connected," he said. "Returning the property is of little importance politically."

Minister of Defense Emil Fey was in Budapest, ostensibly to attend a funeral, and Vice-Chancellor Ernst von Starheimberg was in Venice for a vacation.

Their departures yesterday started rumors that they were planning to confer with Premier Julius Goemboos at Budapest and Premier Benito Mussolini at Rome concerning a possible restoration, but the rumors could not be confirmed.

The Hapsburg estates consist of about 15,000 acres of land, 50 castles, five apartment buildings in Vienna, vast quantities of furnishings, tapestries, silver plate and the like.

Adam said, "the confiscated properties have in recent times earned no net income whatsoever."

There are two estates near Vienna—Orth-on-Danube and the Scharfeneck—which have been producing nearly 5,000,000 quarts of milk annually, most of which has been sold in Vienna. They also have supplied a considerable quantity of firewood to the Austrian capital.

LOUISIANA HOUSE GROUP APPROVES LONG'S 26 BILLS

Committee Starts Measures, Aimed at Unfriendly New Orleans Officials, Through Legislature.

By the Associated Press.

BATON ROUGE, La., July 5.—With United States Senator Huey P. Long at the helm of the Legislature in special session, the House Ways and Means Committee this morning gave speedy approval to the 26 newest and in many respects, most stringent bills he has yet conceived.

Long walked into the committee room, and with the remark he was "representing some of my constituents," took charge of proceedings. He gleefully discussed his bills providing a fine and jail sentence for anyone using Federal relief funds for political purposes.

"Do you want to make these bills any stronger?" he asked Representative Jack Williamson of Lake Charles, only anti-administration member of the committee.

"I'd like to put in some amendments to apply to State funds," he replied. "That's already the law," Long shot back, grinning.

Long then took up the bills one by one and after his brief explanations they were reported favorably with only Williamson objecting.

26 Bills in 45 Minutes. Keeping the committee machinery working swiftly, Long drove all his measures through to favorable report in 45 minutes, or less than two minutes to the bill. It could have been done in less time had he not chosen to joke about some measures.

When Long got to the bill placing all New Orleans non-elective city jobs under the State Civil Service Commission, he expressed much regret that he couldn't make it apply to other cities of the State.

Long dumped 26 bills on the clerk's desk last night at the start of the special session—the third this year and the sixth in 12 months. Five independently sponsored measures increase the number of bills to 31.

New Measures of Long. Long's proposals would:

(1) Place all city employees under the State Civil Service Commission composed of Long's followers.

(2) Prohibit District Attorney Eugene Stanley of New Orleans, anti-Long prosecutor, from naming his assistants and placing such designation under the Attorney-General.

(3) Prohibit the City of New Orleans from levying a liquor tax or license.

(4) Make it a mandatory jail sentence misdemeanor to use any Federal relief money for political purposes.

(5) Forbid any sheriff in the State to discharge a deputy without consent of the State Bureau of Identification.

(6) Permit the State Board of Liquidation to borrow in anticipation of the revenues of the New Orleans police and fire boards to pay police and firemen.

(7) Take collection of city taxes away from city officials and transfer the function to the State Tax Collector.

At the last special session Long had the New Orleans police and firemen placed under the State Civil Service Commission. The bills to impose commission requirements on the other city employees would complete the job control campaign.

Yesterday Long sent President

STRICTER DIVORCE LAW SOUGHT IN RUSSIA

38 Marriages Broken to Every 100 Contracted in First Five Months of 1935.

By the Associated Press.

MOSCOW, July 5.—An increase in the number of divorces in Russia has resulted in a movement to make the divorce laws more stringent. It is proposed that divorces, which may be had now for the mere registration of the desire, be refused unless there is an agreement for support of the children.

More severe punishment for parents guilty of abandoning their children also is sought.

Statistics disclosed that the number of marriages broken in Moscow in May was 44 per cent greater than the number contracted. For the first five months of 1935, the number of divorces was more than 38 to every 100 marriages, compared to 37 for the similar period of 1934.

Most of the applicants for divorce in Moscow were women.

The official newspaper Izvestia asserted marriage had often become a matter of temporary convenience in Russia, citing one case where a man married merely to obtain lodging in a house where single men were not admitted.

Dispatches from Leningrad today said that in one month 1200 street

LENIN'S WIDOW URGES WOMEN NOT TO BE HUSBANDS' SLAVES

"Mother Instinct Noble," She Says, But Must Not Prevent Sharing in Public Work.

MOSCOW, July 5.—Mme. Nadejda Krupskaya, widow of Nicolai Lenin, told Russian women they must not become slaves to their husbands in a speech today before the All-Union Congress of Women Kosomols, or young Communists. Bolshevik women, she said, must take an active and independent part in public life. "The mother instinct is noble," said Mme. Krupskaya, "and we consider it a great force, but we do not want our women to devote their lives to rearing children only. We do not want this or any other aspect of their married life to separate them from public work."

She cited the Soviet laws on marriage as having freed women from bondage, recalling Lenin's declaration that marriage under the old regulations subjected the woman to the husband's will, calling it the original form of serfdom.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER
December 12, 1878Published by
The Pulitzer Publishing Company
Twelfth Boulevard and Olive Street

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

JOSEPH PULITZER.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Plea for Enforcement of Liquor Laws.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

THE time has come for the Democrats to show some courage in connection with the enforcement of the liquor laws. The Democratic party is opposed to all forms of sumptuary law. It has had its fill of prohibition. Now, as long as it is charged with the enactment, as well as the enforcement, of all laws, it should approach the problem with courage and decency as well as determination.

There are those in the Democratic party who seem to think that Jimmie Miller, et al, and their cohorts, constitute "the party," that a few down-town wards should dominate the situation, that their dictum should prevail, regardless of the welfare of the rest of the city. Their great solicitude for the poor saloonkeeper would be pathetic if it were not ridiculous. If they would think more of the women and children, more of the homes of St. Louis, more of the schools and churches, more of decent, clean neighborhoods that want to remain that way, they would improve their thinking a lot.

There are a lot of good people, not for a return of the saloon, but to remedy an oppressive situation, to kill an unjust, unfair law. We can vote again if we are forced to meet the situation. When party leaders, elected to office and sworn to their duty, openly advocate the abrogation of a State law, in violation of their oath, then it is time to get ready to vote or to fight for the preservation of our homes. Night is made hideous in a number of neighborhoods; peace and quiet no longer exist; drunken brawling, loud talking, the roar of starting automobiles and other disorders preclude the possibility of sleep and rest.

The saloonkeeper and his ally, the cheap-state politician, are endeavoring to attempt to commit suicide again, and that is just what they will do if they persist in their present attempt to ignore and repudiate any form of control. "Let them have the rope—they will soon hang themselves" might be good advice, but it is not good American advice. Rather, we should say, "Obey the law, run a decent place, or get out," and then make them do just this.

Sunday is a day of rest, a hallowed day. It should be a day of peace and quiet, not a day for drunken brawling and contempt for the law of our State. Home owners and home lovers, if they have it to do, will take care of this matter. Mr. Lister, if you have the contrary notwithstanding, if we have to fight for the sake of decency, then we are ready to fight. A TAXPAYER.

Unemployed Youth.

ONE of the most pertinent problems confronting the American people at the present time is that of the youth of this country. Each year, a half-million more boys and girls are faced with the dire necessity of finding employment. These boys and girls have reached the age at which their various abilities should be applied to productive labor. Instead, they are met with nothing but idleness on all sides.

Since there are not enough positions open for everyone, the tendency is to displace the services of the older people, and to keep the younger people from even commencing. This situation instills in the minds of these young men and women a feeling of desperation, recklessness, resentment against society and in some instances even leads to crime.

We of the S. A. S. (Sport and Social) Club, young men and women between the ages of 16 and 20, wish to offer our congratulations to President Roosevelt in creating the National Youth Administration. This marks the first definite step toward overcoming the severe crisis in which the nation's youth finds itself. The S. A. S. Club will be glad to lend a hand wherever possible in this undertaking, should the occasion arise.

THE SPORT AND SOCIAL CLUB.

Revival of the Prophets.

THE American prophet is raising his head again from the "grass roots." Henry the Ford, for instance: "If the Government would let us alone, there would be no depression."

Thus early have the seers of the 1928-32 period returned to their peculiar place in society. They can be pictured riding and whooping about the wagon train of a heroic pioneer who would tax the rich, trying to get his wagon train out of the rut.

It might be a good idea to repeat the article published in your issue of Feb. 7, 1932, "Pearls of Wisdom from Our Prophets," and give a return engagement to the stars who originally appeared in the drama of Prosperity Around the Corner. Let us forget these great actors discovered the way, and advertised it all through 1924-29, to avoid business depression, saying, "We will have no more of them."

"Then said I, Ah, Lord God, behold, the prophets say unto me, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall ye have famine."

"Then the Lord said unto me, The prophets prophesy lies in my name: I sent them not, neither have I spoken unto them: they prophesy unto you a false vision and the divination, and a thing of nought, and the deceit of their heart."—Jeremiah 14:13-14. EUGENE DAVIS.

SENATOR NORRIS' PROPOSAL.

Some six weeks ago, the Post-Dispatch declared itself opposed either to increasing the membership of the United States Supreme Court or to limiting the Supreme Court's power to review acts of Congress by requiring an extraordinary majority for invalidation. We held that both these proposals were not only against the public interest, but especially objectionable at this time, since they were being advanced as possible ways in which the Roosevelt administration might change the constitutional rules so as to gain a special advantage in carrying out its program.

Since then, Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska has introduced a joint resolution calling for an amendment to the Constitution which would seriously restrict the work of the court if it would not entirely do away with the court's power to veto acts of Congress. Because of its distinguished sponsorship, this proposal has taken its place at the top of the many plans relating to constitutional change which have been advanced both in and out of Congress since the decision invalidating the National Recovery Act.

We have long had great respect for the statesmanship of Senator Norris. We have admired his independence and have seen in his indifference to party labels the hope of a better political system. We have praised him for his long fight against the misuse of corporate power and for his laborious, single-handed victory in abolishing the lame-duck session of Congress. He has always been sincere and he is sincere in his belief that the time has come to work for the curtailment of the power of the Supreme Court. Here we disagree just as we have often agreed.

The amendment which Senator Norris proposes is admirably brief and clearly worded. It reads as follows: "The Supreme Court shall have original and exclusive jurisdiction to render judgment declaring that any law enacted by Congress in whole or in part is invalid because it conflicts with some provision of the Constitution; but no such judgment shall be rendered unless concurred in by more than two-thirds of the members of the court, and unless the action praying for such judgment shall have been commenced within six months after the enactment of the law."

This proposal would work three profound changes in our constitutional system. It is our belief that in each case the change would be unwise.

In the first place, the amendment would require suits challenging acts of Congress to be filed in the Supreme Court. Assuming that there would be no diminution in the number of suits testing constitutional questions, this would greatly increase the business of the Supreme Court, the high character of whose work has resulted largely from the court's not having to decide more important cases than it could pass on with deliberation and care. At the same time, giving the Supreme Court exclusive jurisdiction in suits testing acts of Congress would deprive the final court of the talents of the Federal district and appellate judges, through whose courts such cases now must make their way to the Supreme bench. As many jurists of high character and much learning in the law sit in the lower Federal courts, this would be a great loss to the members of the Supreme Court.

Second, the proposed amendment would require that at least seven members of the Supreme Court find an act of Congress unconstitutional if it is to be set aside. Now as a general rule, it is best to have a considerable number of Supreme Court Justices agreeing on a question; an important virtue of the NRA decision was its unanimity. But there are times when the 5-4 decision, inconclusive though it may be, has its good points. Such an alignment means that the opinion of the court is closely divided, and that the question thus decided is in a state of flux. In such instances, the minority may very well speak through a weighty dissent which may in turn prepare the way for a change in public opinion. We need only recall what "Holmes and Brandeis dissenting" has meant in the socializing of our law to realize how true this is. Looking at this part of the amendment from another angle, it would make it possible for three Justices to keep an obviously unconstitutional law from being overturned. Might that not give rise to constitutional dilemmas more grave than any we have yet faced?

Finally, the amendment would require the filing of a test suit within six months after the law's enactment; otherwise, the law would be beyond challenge. While on its face this requirement would seem to have the merit of providing for prompt judgment by the court, it is highly doubtful whether this effect would automatically follow. For example, if a President should sponsor an obviously unconstitutional law and secure its passage, he could use his executive powers to delay its operation long enough to permit a half-year to elapse before a petition charging unconstitutionality could arise from the facts of the law's operation. Manifestly, we would not want to give the executive the power to determine whether Federal laws should or should not be subject to review by the Supreme Court. Here another consideration is the fact that the test of a law is frequently the result of its application, and this effect cannot always be determined in so short a period as six months.

We repeat that we have deep respect for the views of Senator Norris. We agree with his Democratic colleague, Senator Burke, that Republicans and Democrats in Nebraska should join hands next year in returning Senator Norris to the seat he has so ably filled. But we can only conclude that in this instance he is mistaken.

Right now we could use an air-conditioned Olive street.

AS THEY SEE THE VIRGINIAN.

In the judgment of the Washington correspondent of the New Republic, Senator Clark of Missouri "is now perhaps the most effective spokesman of big business in the Senate," and "infinitely more dangerous to the liberal cause than a man like Carter Glass, for example, who betrays his reactionary prejudices with every word."

Whether popular opinion would concur in that verdict may be debatable. As regards Carter Glass, academic opinion has spoken. The Virginia Senator has been singled out by the universities for extraordinary attention. We are not sure that anyone has kept an official score, but throughout the commencement news of June, the name of Carter Glass ran with the recurrence of a theme. No other was so acclaimed. The "storied halls" were seemingly engaged in a rivalry to bestow upon him, in the way of honorary degrees, the accolade of their approval, the decoration being awarded for "integrity and courage."

Our higher institutions of learning, obviously, look at the dramatic personae of the Washington pageant through different glasses from those of the New Republic's observer in the press gallery.

GAME CONSERVATION AND SHOOTING REGULATIONS.

It is expected that Federal shooting regulations under the migratory bird treaty will be issued by the Secretary of Agriculture July 10.

The regulations are the responsibility of Jay N. Darling, chief of the Biological Survey, and of Secretary Wallace and President Roosevelt. If these gentlemen are weak enough to yield to the closed-season propaganda of the Audubon Society and other prohibitionists in the field of sport, they will deal the wild ducks, particularly, what may amount to the death blow.

The Post-Dispatch has several times told why this will be so, how it will deprive game conservation of essential funds, how it will generate rebellion among sportsmen, and how it is contrary to all experience. It will deprive the Federal Government of the duck-stamp revenues without which it is powerless to put any considerable protective force in the field. It will cripple state enforcement by depriving the states of much of their hunting license revenue. In a word, it will seek to save the game by withdrawing protection from it and turning it over to the tender mercies of pot hunters and market hunters. The outcome of that folly could not be in doubt.

If the regulations permit a shooting season and prohibit feeding of ducks and geese on hunting grounds, the consequence to the game will be much the same as if there were no open season. It will be deprived of food in the course of migrating and it will be hurried on to destruction in concentrated shooting areas of the South. The easy descent from the breeding grounds and the comparatively light toll taken in the intermediate country by men who kill only 2 or 3 per cent of all the ducks they feed and protect will have been sacrificed to an utterly false theory of conservation held chiefly by people who do not hunt ducks at all and never fed one.

We have urged Mr. Darling and those who share his responsibility not to make those mistakes. Game protection has been too long and patiently built up in the nation to be lightly struck down by such fanatical strictures. The condition under either a closed season or prohibited feeding would be analogous to that caused by prohibition. If we have not learned from this experiment that regulation is best, our experience has been in vain.

There is, additionally, a point usually overlooked. It is that mallards and pintails, the ducks mostly fed, are not scarce. They have not greatly suffered by drought and are not dangerously reduced in numbers. To put them in the same category with the redheads and canvasbacks, which have suffered from drought and are greatly reduced in numbers, is unfair to the great body of sportsmen who hunt the more fortunate kinds of ducks. This is particularly true of the Mississippi Valley. There is no reason why it should be penalized for coastal conditions as far away as Chesapeake Bay and the Texas flats.

Pressure to close the season comes chiefly from an organization of which Kermit Roosevelt is president. This is the Audubon Society. Mr. Roosevelt's father, the late Theodore Roosevelt, was a true friend of game conservation. He would have been the last man to lend himself to mistaken theories of conservation. The Audubon Society has enough to do to take care of the song birds. It has done some very excellent work in this field. The sportsmen have not interfered with its conservation policies in a field where it has had a vast experience, and they rightfully resent its interference with conservation in a field where their experience should be paramount.

The regulations will tell the tale. Either they will save the waterfowl or condemn them to death. With them, at least, it is a matter of life and death.

ALDERMANIC NULLIFICATION.

Two of the amendments to the liquor control bill that the Board of Aldermen adopted this week afford a ludicrous spectacle. One of them provides for sale of intoxicating liquor on Sunday; the other forbids sale of 3.2 beer on Sunday. Both provisions are contrary to State law. Why the majority of the Aldermen think they have power to revise an act of the Legislature baffles comprehension. In the words of State Liquor Supervisor Becker, it is "a silly proceeding that at best can be only a waste of time."

Obviously, it is Mayor Dickmann's duty to veto the bill if it is finally passed with these provisions. With any encouragement at all, the Aldermen may broaden their field of nullification next time to pass an ordinance making gold legal tender in the City of St. Louis.

MR. HALLAHAN RETURNS.

"Don't sell America short!" was the advice of the elder J. Pierpont Morgan, and if that old magnifico had lived in St. Louis, he would also have counseled, "Don't sell the Cardinals short." Certainly those are the words precedent speaks. The Cardinals never have had an easy time winning a championship. They have never outclassed the field, never made a runaway race of it. It has always been a nerve-racking battle. Pretty regularly the team has been apparently out of it, just as it is now, in the cocksure opinion of experts abroad and faint-hearted local followers. But hold!

Something occurred at Sportsman's Park on Tuesday to give the foreign experts pause and revive the wilting faith of the hometown fans. Pitcher Hallahan was the "Sweet William" of his great days when that left arm of his was gold and silver and frankincense and myrrh, and every other priceless thing. All the aspects, factors, nuances of the erstwhile invincibility were his. That is to say, he had searing speed and writhing curves and control that passed understanding, and he stood the adversaries from Pittsburgh on their piratical heads.

This sudden recovery of Mr. Hallahan's after a drearily long and baffling depression rearranges the situation. It is the pitching, if we are correctly informed, that has tripped and thrown the Cardinals in many a stout affray and shrouded the evening skies in tears and lamentation. What was to be done? There was nothing to be done. The wand of Magician Riskey had waved in vain. Hope had its back to the wall. One last, dim light still burned—the return of Hallahan to the supremacy of the yesterdays. Such a Hallahan were "an army with banners."

That is precisely what has happened. So again he it written: Don't count the Cardinals out until late September intones the dirge.

SOME REAL REGIMENTATION.

Will China Resist Japan?

Seeking new basis of relations with China, a euphemism for conquest, Japan is sure to succeed, writer says; in article written before present drive, he predicts Chinese will give in, for resistance is hopeless, and no other nation will intervene; but behind their compliance is always hope of eventually outwitting the enemy.

Nathaniel Peffer in Asia; Reprinted by Permission.

AN ATTEMPT is being made to establish a new basis between China and Japan on the central principle that China must accede to everything that has happened since 1931 and the principle by derivation that China must accept what the Japanese call "the Monroe Doctrine for Eastern Asia."

Translated, this is to say that China would at the least forswear the Manchurian provinces and Jehol and at the most accept Japanese tutelage. Thus letting bygones be bygones perhaps, and also opening for the future a new historical phase.

My guess is that the Chinese Government will consent, if submission to implied duress can be called consent. I do not see what else China can do.

Fight? With what? With ragged, disarmed troops offered by men who have never really differed more than a division, staffed by a command which has never functioned as a staff? With a few planes and half-trained pilots and armament on the scale of nineteenth-century warfare? Depend on these against one of the most powerful and technically best equipped military machines in the world?

The Cantonese troops of Tsai Ting-kai stood against the Japanese in Shanghai in 1932 for several weeks, it is true; but that was because Japan was taken by surprise. It was unable to bring itself to believe that Chinese troops would ever turn and fight. If the Japanese were to undertake a serious punitive expedition again, they would not repeat that mistake.

Faced with the forewarning that, unless it signed, the Japanese would occupy Northern China and perhaps Nanking as well, what could the Chinese Government do but sign? The past four years have shown that it can expect no help from the West. If it got none in 1931 when Europe was relatively tranquil, what can it expect now that Europe is itself a war camp at large? Are Great Britain and France likely now to squander military energy and resources in Asia?

As for the United States, it has made so many threats and issued so many injunctions in the Far East which have been allowed to stand as documentary curiosities that the Chinese—and perhaps also the Japanese, which is a dangerous factor in the situation—have come to regard it as negligible. Both may be wrong. There is a time factor in historical tendency, and the United States may just not have reached the stage for action. The immobilization of the Western world must be taken as a force making for early resolution in the Far East. Now, as between 1915 and 1918, it is Japan's golden opportunity.

This fact will make it easier for China to evade extension of its obligations. The Government will always be able to plead that it must consider public opinion, lest it provoke an uprising. And the Chinese know how to produce manifestations of public opinion as when desired.

The agreement, understanding, alliance, whatever it is called, will have to be more or less surreptitious in its working. Even in so far as it is negative, that is, a pledge of abstention of relations with the West, it will operate with difficulty. And it will not solve Japan's problem or attain the ends which Japan seeks to achieve— hegemony over China. For that Japan will still find itself compelled to use direct and forcible measures. It will still find itself compelled to take into account in its relations with China the international factors.

Its success in reducing China to a status of dependency will still depend on its ability to impose that relation against the opposition of the rest of the world.

Just that is what Japan has hoped to eliminate—the continued interference of the Western world in the Far East. Unfortunately, perhaps for the West no less than for Japan, the Western world cannot be eliminated. As geography decreed the passing of Western political and economic dominance in the Far East in Japan's favor, so history precludes the permanent elimination of the Western world from the Far East. A hundred years has established too many precedents and vested interests, both psychological and economic.

But of Japanese paramountcy in the present phase there can be no doubt. And, whether by ostensibly voluntary agreement on China's part or by the exercise of force on Japan's part, the next stage is in the not distant future, perhaps in the immediate future. In one way or another, it will be consummated by Japan as the logical sequence to the conquest of Manchuria. Nothing can prevent it now except war.

Wages and Federal Contracts

From the Business Week.

UNCLE SAM will not be No. 1 chiseler. This is the idea behind the Walsh administration bill to bind all contractors supplying the Government with goods or services to such minimum wages and maximum hours as may be fixed by President Roosevelt. Standards would be designated in the invitations to bid, either specifically or by reference, presumably, to previous NRA code requirements. Employment of child labor would be prohibited. Incidentally, this bill carries out the promise—or threat—that the President made in his first press interview after the Schechter decision.

The bill applies to all Government contracts made prior to June 30, 1937, and will also cover purchase or construction contracts made by states, cities and other political subdivisions which obtain grants or loans of Federal funds. Breach of wage and hour requirements will render the contractor liable to the Government for liquidated damages equal to the minimum wage, possibly to cancellation of his contract.

With practical unanimity, firms doing business with the Government are accepting in advance the conditions imposed by the Walsh bill by agreeing in all bids filed prior to its enactment to abide by the wage and hour requirements that may be established later. The bid price must cover such requirements. This has prompted criticism from the National Association of Manufacturers and other quarters, but the bidders have evidently decided which side of their bread is buttered.

Standards to be imposed under the Walsh bill certainly will not be higher, probably will be lower, than code provisions, according to the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, so that bids filed now will be of equal or greater advantage to the bidder than business done with the Government under the NRA regime.

END OF POOR FARMS?

From the Kansas City Journal-Post.
MISSOURI'S Assistant Attorney-General, Oliver W. Nolen, has ruled that the inmates of county poor farms may apply for old-age pensions, which will be paid after Nov. 1. It is hoped that, as a result of the ruling, the poor farm will eventually become a thing of the past in Missouri.

Indigent persons over 70 will be paid $30 a month, while married couples of that age who are living together will receive $45 a month. Under this system, perhaps many inmates of poor farms will be able to live with relatives.

The pension system will cost Missourians several millions yearly. It would be a disappointment if it did not bring an end to the poor farm, which is an expense to taxpayers and a bitterness to many of the inmates.

RELIEF CHISELERS.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.
AN EFFECTIVE method of combating relief roll chiseling would be prosecution and stiff sentences for every person found taking the dole fraudulently. Unemployment relief is too costly a burden to permit the squandering of dollars on those undeserving of public charity. Anyone accepting relief under false pretense is guilty of fraud and should be punished accordingly.

The arrest and prosecution of relief recipients who had chiseled their way to the dole list should prove effective in deterring others from looking for easy money in the public till. The authorities should make example of chiselers, with jail sentences to serve as warnings to others of their breed, to get off the relief rolls and stay off.

WASHINGTON, July 5.
ONE of the most interesting sights on Capitol Hill these days is to watch the Republicans. They wear a grin that is getting broader and broader.

Realizing months ago that the job of defeating Roosevelt in 1936 would be the supreme task, knowing the difficulty of finding an outstanding leader in G. O. P. ranks, they can now sit back with contented looks on their faces and see the presidential goal come nearer to their grasp. What spreads the Republican smile is the fact that the Democrats are tearing down their own party.

Nothing is truer than this. In fight after fight, the Democrats have proved to be Roosevelt's greatest enemy. When he proposed drastic tax increases against wealth it was the leaders of his own party in the Senate who balked.

When he launched the fight against holding corporations it was his own party in a House overwhelmingly Democratic which defeated him.

When he attempted to finish the work of banking reform, begun immediately after his inauguration, it was a little group of Democratic Senators in the secrecy of the Banking Committee who scuttled the New Deal portions of the bill. Roosevelt is still a long way from being defeated in 1936, but if he is, it will be the Democrats who will do it.

Not So Crazy.
PENNSYLVANIA'S Representative, Thomas C. Cochran, the Capital's most expert coffee power, began his public career as a special prosecutor. His first case concerned a very wealthy man, whose relatives contended had become insane.

Cochran called in an alienist to interrogate the defendant, who seemed entirely rational. "You are quite a wealthy man?" asked the physician. "Yes," was the quiet reply. "I am a millionaire." "A trillinaire?" What do you propose doing with such a vast sum of money?" "That, sir," was the instantaneous answer, "is something I shall have to consult my lawyer about before discussing."

General Johnson

Tackles Job as Relief Chief Must Be Guided by Experience

By GEN. HUGH S. JOHNSON.

NEW YORK, July 5.
IN the Civil War, a Commanding General had a Commissary Officer who bought and distributed all food for the army—an Ordnance Officer who was responsible for its arms and ammunition, and a Quartermaster whose job it was to tend to all other supplies, including shelter and transportation. The General had to see that they and a lot of other staff heads did their jobs, on top of which he had to plan his campaigns and get his orders for marches, camps and battles.

As armies got larger and larger battles began to be fought with a million men on each side instead of just 40 or 50 thousand, this planing and directing got to be a too big a job for the ablest General that ever lived—and many good fighting Generals haven't proved to be the very best planners in the world.

So the idea of the General Staff was invented. It is a kind of a synthetic brain made up of half a dozen separate brains—or pass for brains. The army still had to have departments to purchase and distribute food, arms and ammunition, but the PLANNING of all that and the job of making all the separate departments click together—the supervision and direction which one General used to do—is now done, in every big army in the world, by what is called a general staff. They plan, supervise and direct every job but they do not do the jobs themselves.

The idea has not been used in big industrial organizations very much. A sales manager still both PLANS and sells campaigns and RUNS them, while the manufacturing manager both PLANS manufacture and the general manager both PLANS and RUNS the job of both.

Spending between two and three hundred million dollars to make work the City of New York is not the biggest legislative job in the country, but "backing into it cold" finding an enormous emergency organization which "just grew" The Topsy containing many un-

WASHINGTON, July 5. ONE of the most interesting sights on Capitol Hill these days is to watch the Republicans. They wear a grin that is getting broader and broader. Realizing months ago that the job of defeating Roosevelt in 1936 would be superhuman, knowing the difficulty of finding an outstanding leader in the G. O. P. ranks, they can sit back with contented looks on their faces and see the presidential goal come nearer to their grasp.

What spreads the Republican smile is the fact that the Democrats are tearing down their own party.

Nothing is truer than this. In light after fight, the Democrats have proved to be Roosevelt's greatest enemy. When he proposed drastic tax increases against wealth it was the leaders of his own party in the Senate who balked.

When he launched the fight against holding corporations it was his own party in a House overwhelmingly Democratic which defeated him.

When he attempted to finish the work of banking reform, begun immediately after his inauguration, it was a little group of Democratic Senators in the secrecy of the Banking Committee who scuttled the New Deal portions of the bill.

Roosevelt is still a long way from being defeated in 1936, but if he is, it will be the Democrats who will do it.

Not So Crazy. PENNSYLVANIA'S Representative, Thomas C. Cochran, Capital's most expert coffee brewer, began his public career as a special prosecutor. His first case concerned a very wealthy man, who relatives contended had become insane.

"You are quite a well-up man?" asked the physician.

"Yes," was the quiet reply. "I am a millionaire."

"That, sir," was the instant answer, "is something I shall have to consult my lawyer about before discussing."

Costly Printing. TAMMANY'S swanky Representative, Sol Bloom is still pushing the fame and deeds of George Washington.

Although three years have elapsed since the close of the George Washington bicentennial, the publicity-seeking generalissimo of that celebration has invoked again the revered and illustrious name of the Father of his Country to secure appropriations from Congress.

His request is for $103,000 to post the printing and binding of 3000 copies each of the remaining 14 volumes of the writings of George Washington.

Members of the House Appropriations Committee displayed sharp curiosity about the details of this unusual printing job. Under their critical questioning the socialist Sol revealed the following interesting facts:

That 11 volumes of the "Writings" have been already published at an "average" cost of $7242 a volume.

That 3000 copies of each volume were given away and the remaining 2000 retained for sale to cover the cost of the printing.

That of these 2000 sets only 252 have been sold so far.

And finally, that only eight of the remaining 14 unpublished volumes are ready for printing, and that it will take at least two years to compile the other six volumes.

"Why," demanded Committee Chairman Buchanan, "do you need $103,000 now if you are going to take two years to complete the job?"

"Because," said Sol sternly, "I am anxious to get through with the work. I have not been away from this town for four years, winter and summer, and I would like to get through with this work."

NOTE: Aual compiler and editor of the "Writings" is Dr. John C. Fitzpatrick.

Merry-Go-Round. THE recent marriage of his daughter, Grace, makes Daniel C. Roper, conservative Secretary of Commerce, the father-in-law of a man who was once an I. The new son-in-law is Dr. Frank Bohn, now 56 years of age, and less radical than in the flaming days of his youth, when he advocated revolution, and married his first wife, actress Edna Goodrich.

NEW OPERA PRINCIPALS FOR 'VAGABOND KING'

Edward Nell Jr. to Appear as Villon, Jane Seymour as Margot.

The Municipal Opera's sixth presentation of the season, "The Vagabond King," which will open Monday night, will bring two new principals, Edward Nell Jr. and Jane Seymour, to the Forest Park stage.

Nell will appear as Francois Villon, the vagabond poet-thief who became King of France for a day. He has played the role more than 1000 times since replacing Dennis King in the part in the original New York company. Nell was seen as Villon at the Shubert Theatre in 1929. In 1931 he appeared as Karl von Dorn in the Municipal Opera's production of "Music in May."

Miss Seymour, who will be making her first Municipal Opera appearance, will have the role of Margot. She has had leading parts in Broadway productions during the past 10 years.

Other principals to appear in "The Vagabond King" are Ruby Mercer, Gertrude Nissen, John Sheehan, Roy Gordon, Jerry Coff, Charles E. Gallagher, Una, Sheila Dille, Frank Hazzard, Earle Mac Veigh, Al Downings, Marion Huntley, Victor Casmore and Julianne.

Last night's performance of "Good News," was witnessed by a holiday audience of 9000.

FORMER ARCHDUKE LEOPOLD OF AUSTRIA DIES OF STROKE

Known as Herr Wolfing Since He Renounced Title to Wed Commoner in 1902.

BERLIN, July 5.—Leopold Wolfing, the former Archduke Leopold of Austria and a nephew of Emperor Francis Joseph, died yesterday of an apoplectic stroke. He was 66 years old.

He renounced his title in 1902 to marry an actress and since then had been known as Herr Wolfing. He preferred strict privacy in his later years, participating in none of his earlier social activities.

Leopold's renunciation of his title caused a sensation. A son of Ferdinand, fourth Grand Duke of Tuscany, he sought permission of his Emperor uncle to forfeit his title to marry the commoner.

Joseph granted the request, but made it a condition that Leopold leave Austria forever.

He became a Swiss citizen. Four years later he divorced the actress. After the war, stripped of his annuities, he made a living as a cabaret entertainer in Berlin. He also wrote several books on Austrian court secrets, which earned him some money, but he died poor.

Leopold was twice married, the last time in 1932, and twice divorced.

BISHOP MURPHY TO CELEBRATE 60 YEARS IN JESUIT ORDER

Two Nephews to Assist in Solemn Pontifical High Mass at Chicago July 21.

Bishop Joseph A. Murphy of Belize, British Honduras, former professor and dean of men at St. Louis University, will celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of his entry into the Jesuit order with solemn pontifical high mass at Holy Family Church in Chicago, July 21.

Two nephews, the Rev. Thomas A. McCourt of St. John's College, Toledo, O., and the Rev. I. A. Hamill of Loyola University, Chicago, will assist in the mass. Msgr. John M. Doyle, Chancellor of the Detroit diocese, will deliver the sermon.

Bishop Murphy, one of the few Jesuit Bishops in the world, was ordained a priest 48 years ago, and was appointed Bishop in March, 1924. He was consecrated at St. Francis Xavier Church, Grand and Lindell boulevards.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 5.—Almost 54 years ago J. R. MacDonald, 68, of Seattle, and his sister, Mrs. Margaret A. Cripps, 66, Newport, R. I., said good-by in their home town of Lancaster, Ont. They did not meet again until Mrs. Cripps came here this week to attend the Catholic Daughters of America convention.

Archbishop Glennon left St. Louis last night on a trip to Ireland to visit relatives. He will sail from New York tonight on the liner Berengaria, bound for Plymouth, England. After spending a few days in England, he will stay in Ireland until Aug. 11.

HOME OF STEPHEN FOSTER MOVED TO DETROIT, DEDICATED

Composer's Daughter and Writer Attend Service on 100th Birthday Anniversary.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, July 5.—Henry Ford paid homage yesterday to the memory of Stephen C. Foster, whose songs "My Old Kentucky Home" and "The Old Folks at Home" made him the "musical father of his country."

The white cottage in which Foster was born 109 years ago today near Pittsburgh, Pa., has been brought to Dearborn by Ford and placed in the Greenfield Village Museum of Americana to be a shrine for lovers of American folk music.

Mrs. Stephen Foster Welch, only child of the composer, came to Detroit to witness the honoring of her father's memory. Seventy other descendants and relatives also were present among the 500 guests.

Harold Vincent Milligan of New York, biographer of Foster, was guest at the dedication exercises. Milligan described the folk song composer as a genius who was thwarted to some extent by the circumstances under which he lived.

"Foster was 22," Milligan said, "before there was even a piano in Pittsburgh, and that one was brought with much difficulty over the mountains. It was not the possession of the Foster family but of a friend."

Pershing Park Site Celebration. By the Associated Press.

BRIDGEFIELD, Mo., July 5.—Missouri World War veterans paraded twice yesterday in honor of their commander-in-chief, Gen. John J. Pershing, near the site of a proposed park which will bear his name. Approximately 10,000 visitors watched the soldiers march along as the temperature stood at 94.

Visits were made to Pershing's birthplace, Laclede. Pershing was not present. He is in Europe. Drum corps came from Marshall, Fayette, Trenton, Independence, Marceline and other cities. William A. Kitchen, commander of the State Legion, urged a larger army and navy in an address and denounced Communism.

SURVEY OF TREES IN DOWNTOWN AREA

Only One East of Twelfth Blvd., Excepting Those Around Old Courthouse.

With the planting of more than 200 elms, sycamores and sweetgums by the Park Department in the Memorial and Union Station plazas and around municipal buildings, the tree line of central downtown St. Louis has been advanced east to Twelfth boulevard.

Excepting the old planting of alianthus around the Courthouse at the Memorial and Union Station plazas and around municipal buildings, the tree line of central downtown St. Louis has been advanced east to Twelfth boulevard.

In the district west of Twelfth boulevard to Jefferson avenue, between Clark avenue and Delmar boulevard, only 40 trees are left besides those planted by the city. All are sycamores and alianthus with trunks of less than eight inches. Nearly all are in starved condition with rotted and broken branches.

Most of these survivors of the smoke, drought and building encroachments are in the district between Eighteenth street and Jefferson avenue. The largest group of survivors, however, seven large sycamores in good shape considering the unfavorable conditions, are in the yard of the old Campbell residence at the southwest corner of Fifteenth and Locust streets.

The next largest group is six sycamores which border the sidewalk on Twentieth street between Delmar boulevard and Washington avenue. Their roots are covered with sidewalk and street paving, which is true of all the survivors not planted in yards, and their trunks are less than five inches thick, although they appear to have been planted many years ago.

The only new planting seen in the entire downtown district east of Jefferson avenue, except that done by the city, is a poplar sapling in a yard at 2317 Walnut street, and two mulberry trees in front of a filling station at the northwest corner of Twenty-first and Chestnut streets. The three trees are full-leaved and seem to be flourishing under care of the owners.

RECIPES FOR NEXT WEEK

Devilled Tongue Mold.
Chop coarsely one pound cold boiled tongue, two hard cooked eggs, one large sour or dill pickle and one tablespoon mustard. Add one tablespoon mayonnaise and mix all well together. Meanwhile, soak two tablespoons plain gelatin in two tablespoons cold water for five minutes and dissolve it in two cups boiling water. Cool and when gelatin begins to stiffen stir it into the tongue mixture and pour all into a wet mold. Set in a cold place to harden and serve sliced and garnished with watercress and lettuce.

Cherry Punch.
Combine two cups of water and three-fourths cup of sugar and bring to the boiling point. Cook together one quart of cherries and one cup water, stirring all the while to keep from burning. Cool and strain through cheese cloth and add to the syrup. Add one half cup orange juice, one-fourth cup pineapple juice and the juice of two lemons. Add a little more sugar if the mixture is too tart. Garnish with candied cherries and pieces of pineapple and dilute with mineral water or ice water.

Gingerbread Custard.
Scald one pint milk. Beat together two egg yolks and one-fourth cup sugar and add the scalded milk gradually to the egg mixture. Pour this mixture over one cup stale gingerbread which has been broken into pieces and placed in a buttered baking dish. Place in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 30 minutes. Top with a meringue made of the egg whites beaten stiff with six tablespoons sugar and one-fourth teaspoon vanilla and brown in the oven. Serve cold.

Braised Kidneys.
Scald, skin and soak six lamb or four veal kidneys in cold water for half an hour. Slice and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Melt two tablespoons butter in a skillet, put in the kidneys and cook for five minutes. Dredge thoroughly with flour, add a little hot water or brown stock and cook for five minutes. Add more salt and pepper if needed and sprinkle with lemon or onion juice.

Tomato Aspic.
Two tablespoons gelatin. One-third cup cold water. Two cupfuls tomato juice. One medium onion, sliced. One stalk of celery. Three sprigs of parsley. Two tablespoons vinegar. Four cloves. One-half teaspoonful salt. One-fourth teaspoonful pepper sauce.

Soak gelatin in cold water for five minutes. Combine remaining ingredients and simmer for 15 minutes. Strain, add hot liquid to gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool. Pour into ring mold over cooked diced vegetables.

Pistachio Ice Cream.
One quart cream. One teaspoon almond extract vegetable coloring. One tablespoon vanilla. Mix cream, sugar, vanilla and almond. Tint delicately with green coloring and freeze.

Corn Oysters.
One cupful grated raw corn. One egg, beaten. One-half cupful soft bread-crumbs. One-eighth teaspoonful pepper. One teaspoonful salt.

Add the corn, bread-crumbs and seasonings to the beaten egg. Drop by tablespoons into hot bacon fat or drippings in frying pan. Cook until brown, then turn and brown other side. Drain on absorbent paper before serving.

Raspberry Sherbet.
One and one-half cups raspberry juice. One lemon (juice and grated rind). Two cups water. One cup sugar. One egg white. Make a syrup of sugar, water

SERVE PUFFY CHEESE SANDWICHES TO THE HUNGRY HORDES

HERE are some open face sandwiches that should go like hot cakes once you set them before hungry hordes.

Puffy Cheese Sandwiches.
Beat the white of one egg to a stiff froth and then fold in the beaten yolk. Fold in three-fourths cup of grated American cheese which has been sprinkled with a little paprika. Spread the mixture on strips of toast which have been toasted only on the under side. Put under a broiler and cook until the mixture is puffy.

and grated lemon rind. Boil five minutes. Cool, strain out rind, add fruit juice and pour into refrigerator trays and freeze until mushy. Remove from tray to chilled bowl, and fold in stiffly beaten egg white. Return to tray and stir once or twice during process.

CHICKEN SANDWICH ROLLS

Two cups cold chicken, cut in cubes. One and one-half cups diced celery. One teaspoon salt. Two hard-cooked eggs, chopped (save several slices for garnishing). Mayonnaise. Stuffed olives.

To the cold chicken add celery, salt and eggs. Moisten with mayonnaise. Cut bread lengthwise of bread.

the loaf, having it about one-fourth inch thick. Trim the crusts and place the slices of bread in a damp linen cloth so they will roll easily. Allow to stand at least half an hour before rolling them. Spread the slices of bread with soft butter, then with a layer of the salad, and roll firmly. Place each roll on a plate and garnish the top with slices of hard-cooked egg and slices of olive.

IT'S A GOOD THING... THEY STAY CRISP!

PREPARE for a delicious surprise when you taste Kellogg's Wheat Krispies. Never before, was a wheat cereal so wonderfully crisp. The reason is blending. Kellogg has found a way to blend the crispness of rice with the goodness of wheat. The result is a nourishing food. Full of flavor. Ready to eat with milk or cream. Wheat Krispies stay crisp — right down to the last spoonful. Try them. Enjoy them often. Buy a big package from your grocer. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

A LITTLE CHAT ABOUT MARKETS AND MENUS

Tender Young Squash and Many Kinds of Fish and Vegetables Add Color to Markets.

Fresh squash is on the market now, of course shipped from the South but very young and tender. Small sized squash is best for cooking as the flesh is usually very flavory and tender. The best squash we ever ate was prepared by a cook in Texas. She picked them right off the vines and took only the very smallest. None was larger than three or four inches in diameter. The stems were trimmed down to the flesh and these squashes were popped into boiling salted water and allowed to boil until tender. Then they were removed served whole with a lump of butter in the stem cavity and eaten right out of their tender skins.

Fish in Market Now.
Fish is arriving in great quantities. Lake trout, Lake Superior whitefish, fresh halibut and channel cat are outstanding. Baby lobster, too, are in the fish markets now and fresh and boiled shrimp continue steady.

Jellied consommé is an excellent way of beginning summer dinners and now all you need do is buy a can or two, store them in your refrigerator and turn them out whenever you want them.

Sherbets and iced melons make excellent summer desserts. Watermelon may be served in slices or may be scooped out with a little gadget and served in sherbet glasses with a bit of mint or with a dash of liqueur. Sherbets and ices are very inexpensive and easy to prepare. Ices are made with a sirup and a fruit juice whereas sherbets include the stiffly beaten whites of eggs.

Flank Steak for Saturday.
The flank steak with saute tomatoes suggested for Saturday's dinner is an inexpensive meat cut. If you prefer, use a round steak instead of the flank. Have the butcher pound it for you or score it and then rub in as much flour as it will take up. Heat about two tablespoons fat in a skillet and put the meat in, turning it often until done. Remove to a platter, slice some tomatoes without peeling, dip in flour and saute in the hot fat. Turn up the steaks carefully. Arrange the meat. Add one tablespoon butter to the fat left in the pan and when it bubbles add one small onion, minced, and one tablespoon minced green pepper. Cook until soft and add one-fourth cup of milk. Stir well, allow to boil up and pour over the meat and the tomatoes.

To Brown Pie Crusts.
Brush pie crusts with milk before putting them into the oven to bake.

Flavor for Doughnuts.
A few whole cloves in the kettle of frying fat will give the doughnuts a better flavor.

molasses).
Two and a quarter cups lukewarm water.
Five cups flour.
Three cups bran.
Two tablespoons shortening.
Crumble yeast into a bowl, add the salt, sugar and water. Mix until smooth. Add three cups of flour. Beat well. Add the shortening which has been softened. Beat well. Add bran and the remaining two cups of flour. Mix thoroughly, keeping sides of bowl clean. Sprinkle kneading board lightly with flour, turn dough on board and knead until dough is smooth and elastic. Put into greased bowl and turn it over several times until outside is covered with thin coating of shortening. Allow to rise until the dough is doubled in bulk or until blisters or gas sacs begin to appear on top of the dough. Punch dough down in center and fold over from four sides to center and punch. Turn the dough over. Let rise 45 minutes. Punch again and turn dough over. Let rise 15 minutes. Shape into loaves and let rise until light (about one hour) and bake in greases for 15 minutes then reduce heat to 380 degrees for remainder of baking period (50 to 60 minutes). Less yeast (as little as one-fourth cake) may be used if a longer time is given the bread to rise.

Yield: One two-pound loaf.

SWEET POTATO BALLS

Two cups mashed sweet potatoes.
One egg yolk.
One-half teaspoonful salt.
Six teaspoons melted butter.
Six marshmallows.
One cup fine crumbs.
To the mashed sweet potatoes which have been cooled, add egg yolk, salt and two tablespoonfuls of the butter. Mix thoroughly and divide into six portions. Flatten each portion as in making potato cakes, place one marshmallow in center of each and put potatoes up around them so they are completely hidden. Add five crumbs to the remainder of the butter. Roll balls in the buttered crumbs, place on a buttered tin and bake in a hot oven (400 degrees Fahrenheit) for 10 minutes.

HomeEconomics
Baking America's Popular Fruit Pie Is an Art

To Keep the Under Crust From Becoming Soggy and the Juices in Are Important Points.

A long time ago some tuncful soul inquired, "Can she make a cherry pie, Billy Boy?" And that question still puts many a maid and many a housewife to a pretty test.

Not only cherry pie, of course. There are blackberry pie, blueberry pie, gooseberry, plum, peach and all the rest of the summer fruit pies to be considered at this season. If a census were taken to discover the most popular desserts in the United States it seems very likely that pie, most likely fruit pie of some kind, would show up far ahead in the returns.

Pie Making an Art.
The making of fruit pies is, indeed, an art. And, as with other arts, the most popular differ considerably about the best way to do it. They may agree that the pastry must be delicate and flaky, and that the chief problem in fruit-pie making is to keep the bottom crust from getting soggy. But as to ways of accomplishing that, there are different schools of thought.

The question between the two schools is whether to bake or not to bake the bottom crust before you put in the fruit. English cooks do not have to worry about this because they make their pies (they call them tarts) without any bottom crust, as we often make "deep-dish" pies. They make the famous English plum tart that way. Typical American pies, however, and American tarts as well, have a bottom crust. And in a good pie the bottom crust is never soggy.

Heat Acts on Juices.
Berries, plums and cherries all have a great deal of juice. Heat makes the fruit juice flow. So does the sugar you use to sweeten the fruit. Juice soaks into the pastry unless you know how to prevent it. There are two ways to prevent it.

One school of pie making says, and this is probably the way your grandmother did it, a way that is hard to beat: Line your pie pan with a thin sheet of dough big enough to come fully over the edge of the pan. Put in the fresh fruit, sweetened, dot with butter and sprinkle with a little flour. Moisten the edge of the bottom layer of dough and cover the pie with another thin sheet of dough, pricked or slashed to make a pretty little pattern of openings that will let the steam out of the pie as it cooks. Press the edges of the dough together and "crimp" them, either with your fingers or a fork, and slip the pie immediately into a hot oven (400 to 450 degrees).

Oven Must Be Hot.
You need a hot oven here, because the dough in the bottom of the pan must cook before the fruit juice can soak in. But after about 15 minutes, when the dough has cooked some, but is not yet brown, lower the heat until you have only a moderate oven, and cook until the pie is nicely browned. By that time your fruit is cooked enough, and it should not have boiled over on the crust and spoiled the looks of your pie.

The other school of pie making says (and in a series of tests in the experimental kitchens of the Bureau of Home Economics, this method was successful more often than any other): Bake your bottom pastry shell before you put in the fruit. (We are not talking of apple pie now.) But bake the shell very lightly until it just begins to brown, for it has to go into the oven again, with the fruit in. Heat the fruit before you put it in the pie, but heat it only until the juice flows. Then strain off the juice, add to it a little (just a little) cornstarch, well mixed with sugar, and cook this mixture until it thickens. Then stir the fruit itself into the thickened juice. Put this filling into the baked pastry shell, cover with pastry dough, and bake the pie in a moderately hot oven (375 to 400 degrees).

Control Temperature.
When you make your fruit pie this way you cannot have the oven as hot as you would if you had not already partly baked the pie shell. But you must control the temperature carefully, also the cooking time, or the fruit, which is hot when it goes into the pie, may boil over. In fact, there is some danger of its boiling over anyhow, so you may wish to stick a little paper funnel in the top crust, to let the juice boil up in there, if it must boil, and fall back harmlessly inside the pie. Your moderately hot oven here, however, is intended to prevent this boiling over while the upper crust bakes.

Another question comes, however, on the kind of thickening for your pie. Some cooks say flour. Others say cornstarch. Still another kind of thickening is tapioca. To make your pie filling with tapioca you can let the fresh fruit stand in some sugar, with a little of the tapioca sprinkled in, the sugar to draw out the juice and sweeten the pie, and the tapioca to blend with and thicken the juice.

Avoid Soggy Crust.
Still another way to avoid a soggy pie crust is to make tarts, or open pies, for which you bake the shells in advance. Just before serving, put in the filling, heat the tart to fill crisp it, and serve it hot. Or fill the crisp baked shell with fresh berries, or fresh sliced peaches, or stewed rhubarb, and serve it so. Individual tarts, in shells baked on muffin pans turned upside down, are easiest to serve.

And now that we have put the pie together and baked it, let us go back to the pie crust and see how that should be made. For one pie, use 1½ cups of sifted flour, 1 teaspoon of salt, 5 to 6 tablespoons of fat, and about 2½ tablespoons of water. Use any kind of fat you wish, but fat has better shortening power than lard. If you like a flaky crust, use some solid fat like lard or hydrogenated vegetable oil. If you like a crumbly crust, you will get it by using melted fat or a cooking oil for shortening—corn, cottonseed, or peanut oil.

To Make Pie Crust.
Mix the flour and salt and work in the fat with the tips of the fingers or a fork or biscuit cutter. When the flour and fat are "grainy," add the water slowly, and use no more than absolutely necessary to make a stiff dough. On a lightly floured board roll out a little more than half the dough into a thin sheet large enough to line the pie pan. Pat the sheet of dough very lightly into the pan so there will be no air bubbles underneath, put in the pie filling, and moisten the rim of the dough. Roll out the dough for the upper crust, allowing about a half inch extra around the edge. Fold the sheet of dough in half, make a few slashes through both thicknesses near the center, lift onto the pie, and spread out over the filling. Press lightly around the edge of the pan, and if the filling is juicy allow enough dough to fold under well. Lift the pan up and trim off the surplus dough, holding the knife slantwise underneath the pan. With the tines of the fork, press the rim lightly down to the pan, and the pie is ready to bake.

If the undercrust is to be baked before the filling is added, as with berries and other juicy fruits and custard mixtures, line the pie pan with the dough as directed, in cutting off the surplus dough leave a generous turn-over around the rim, prick the dough every two or three inches over the bottom and sides, and bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees) for 10 minutes, or until the crust is delicately browned. Or instead of pricking the dough, put another slightly smaller pie pan on top of the dough after it is fitted into the pan, and remove after it has been in the oven for five minutes, so that the pastry will brown delicately. If the pie is to have an upper crust, moisten the edge of the baked lower crust before adding the top sheet of dough and tuck it well over the edge.

TOMATO SANDWICH DISGUISES A FAMILIAR SALAD

The familiar tomato wears a new disguise and gets away with it. To vary the well-known tomato and lettuce salad, try serving them like this:

Tomato Sandwich Salad.
Six tomatoes.
One tablespoon chopped green pepper.
One package cream cheese.
One-half teaspoon finely chopped onion.

Dip the tomatoes in boiling water for a moment to loosen the skins or sears over a gas flame to crack the skins open. Peel, chill thoroughly and cut in halves. Mash cheese to a paste with a little mayonnaise and mix with the green pepper and onion. Put the cheese mixture between the halves sandwich fashion and put sprigs of parsley into tops. Arrange on crisp lettuce leaves and serve with the following dressing:

To one cup French dressing add two tablespoons capers, one tablespoon chopped stuffed olives, and one teaspoon chopped parsley. Mix thoroughly and serve with the salad.

SERVE FISH APPETIZERS WITH THOSE NICE COOL DRINKS

Appetizers are always good and especially now when cooling drinks are in such demand. You may serve these with slices of lemon which the guests may use as they see fit.

Sardine Canape.
Six rounds of toasted bread.
Six slices of tomato.

One can sardines. Lemons. Minced Parsley. Mayonnaise.

Remove tails and bones from one can of sardines and mince with a fork and flavor to taste with lemon juice. Have ready slices of tomato, place on the toast rounds and spread tomatoes with sardine paste. Sprinkle with minced parsley and garnish with a dot of mayonnaise.

TROPICAL FRUITS COMBINE TO MAKE THIS MOUSSE

Pineapple is still plentiful in the markets, so we think it is a good idea to take advantage of this plentiful tropical fruit. And while we are talking of tropical fruits, the calavo makes a splendid partner for it, especially in a frozen dessert.

Tropical Mousse.
One cup finely diced pineapple.
One cup diced calavo.
One cup sugar.
One-fourth cup pineapple juice.
One cup whipping cream.
Peel and dice enough pineapple to yield one cup. Sprinkle with sugar and let stand until it has drawn at least one-fourth cup of juice. Put on fire and bring to a boil the diced pineapple, sugar and juice. Cool. Whip cream until thick but not stiff, and then whip pineapple into cream. Add diced calavo and blend lightly. Pour into freezing trays and let stand in freezing unit for about two and one-half hours. If freezer method is used pack in salt and ice and let stand for the same length of time to ripen.

HERE'S TO MIDNIGHT SNACKS

by THE FLAVOR TWINS

Our idea isn't to give you a lot of fancy new concoctions. Rather, we present that lively pair, Zest and Tang, for your own favorite snack.

If you've a weakness for midnight sandwiches, here's a flavor touch that'll make you like them even more—spread the bread with Durkee's Dressing instead of butter. And if you like to pick around with bits of cold meat or fish or cheese, just keep the Durkee's Dressing bottle handy so you can dab a bit on each piece. Durkee's Dressing has a knack for coaxing out the true hidden flavors of everything it touches. And it brings new pep to the feast. It's Durkee's secret flavor-formula that gives you such Tang and Zest.

SHAD ROE IS UNCURED CAVIAR AND IS SERVED AS A SALAD

IF YOU don't know what shad roe is, well explain for your benefit that it is a kind of uncured caviar which may be served variously as a salad or an appetizer. Here is a recipe for

Shad Roe Salad.
Open two cans of shad roe that have been chilled and cut the roe into small pieces. Arrange a nest of lettuce or watercress on a plate, place a portion of the roe in the nest and serve with French dressing. Garnish with slices of lemon.

SWEET ROLLS ARE WELCOME NO MATTER WHAT THE WEATHER

Hot sweet rolls are always in demand no matter what the weather. This is a recipe for cinnamon rolls which are often called Swedish rolls if raisins are citron are used:

Cinnamon Rolls.
Two cups scalded milk.
Three tablespoons butter.
Two tablespoons sugar.
Two teaspoons salt.
One cake yeast dissolved in one-fourth cup warm water.

One egg.
Five and one-half cups flour (about).
Add butter, sugar and salt to milk. When lukewarm add dissolved yeast cake and work in about three cups of flour. Beat thoroughly, cover and set aside until light. Cut down, beat in the egg and the remaining flour to make a dough that is stiff enough to be handled. If a richer dough is desired two additional tablespoons of melted butter may be worked in with the egg.

Roll one-fourth inch thick and spread with a mixture of Two tablespoons butter.
Two tablespoons sugar.
One-half teaspoon cinnamon.

One-half cup raisins.
Two tablespoons chopped citron.
Spread this mixture over the surface and roll the dough into a long roll like a jelly roll. Cut in inch-wide pieces and set, cut side down in a greased pan. Let rise until double in bulk and bake for 20 minutes in a hot (400 degrees) oven. Raisins and citron may be omitted.

Fat is quickly removed from gravy or soup by going over the surface of the gravy or soup with a cloth wrung in cold water.

The water drained from rice will make good starch for thin materials.

FRESH VEGETABLES FIND MANY USES

New Guise Will Help Even the Most Prosaic of Them to Disappear.

Now that the vegetable season has burst upon us in full glory, it is a good idea to use the various kinds as often and in as many ways as are possible. To the resourceful cook this is a comparatively simple matter. There is no reason why everyone should not get a sufficient amount of health-giving foods when there are so many ways of cooking and preparing them.

Perhaps the most healthful way of eating vegetables is raw in cocktails and salads. Of course, every vegetable does not admit of this form of preparation but carrots, celery, tomatoes and cabbage with perhaps a slightly suggestion of string beans are excellent marinated and served with an additional dressing.

Cooking Time Important.
When vegetables are cooked the time and method of cooking are highly important. Gone are the days when the cook used enormous quantities of water which were then poured off, taking most of the important minerals and vitamins along. Now one uses a minimum of water and cooking time has been shortened. As a result our vegetables are no longer limp and anemic things blanketed generously with cream sauce.

Green vegetables should be cooked in an uncovered vessel if their fresh green coloring matter is to be retained. Whenever possible the skin should be retained. Some authorities recommend scraping instead of peeling, but here a concession to looks does little harm. Head vegetables should be soaked in cold salt water to remove any foreign matter. Vegetables should not be allowed to stand for any length of time after they have been prepared and sliced. The air too has a way of depriving them of some of their food value. From the garden to the table is a splendid maxim but so few of us can follow it.

If you know more than one way of preparing a vegetable you are to be congratulated. Even the most prosaic will admit that a splendid murmur when served in a new guise.

Glazed Carrots.
Drain cooked carrots thoroughly. Melt three tablespoons butter in a skillet and stir in three tablespoons sugar. When well blended and bubbling add the carrots. Cook for about 25 minutes until all the pieces are well browned and glazed. Shake the pan frequently during the cooking as the sugar caramelizes. A border of glazed carrots and onions makes an excellent vegetable garnish for broiled steak.

Harvard Beets.
One-half cup sugar.
One tablespoon cornstarch.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One-third cup vinegar.
One-third cup boiling water.
Two cups freshly cooked, sliced beets.

Mix the sugar, salt, cornstarch, vinegar and water and cook the sauce until it is clear. Add the beets and heat over a low flame for at least 15 minutes, so that the spicy flavor permeates the beets. Add two tablespoons butter just before serving.

Baked Cucumbers (With Stuffing.)
Two cucumbers.
Four tablespoons bread crumbs.
Four tablespoons finely chopped ham.

Two tablespoons grated cheese.
Three tablespoons tomato sauce or juice.
Salt and pepper to taste.

One cup meat or bread crumbs.
Buttered bread crumbs.
Wipe and pare cucumbers and cut in two-inch pieces crosswise. Remove seeds. Mix bread crumbs, ham and cheese, moisten with sauce or tomato juice and season. Fill the cucumber cups with the mixture, set in a shallow baking dish, pour in the meat stock and bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. Cover with buttered crumbs and continue baking until brown.

Spinach Loaf.
One and one-half pounds raw spinach.
Three-fourths teaspoon salt.
One-fourth teaspoon pepper.
Two and one-half teaspoons lemon juice.

One egg.
One-fourth pound mushrooms, peeled and diced.
One tablespoon butter.

One cup cracker or bread crumbs.
Wash spinach carefully and cook slowly without water for 10 minutes. Chop finely, retaining all liquid and season with salt, pepper and lemon juice. Add half the cracker or crumbs, the beaten egg and the mushrooms which have been sautéed in butter for five minutes. Mix together and fill into greased loaf pan. Sprinkle with the remaining crumbs and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 30 minutes.

LEMON MAYONNAISE
One egg yolk, slightly beaten.
One-half teaspoon salt.
Two tablespoons lemon juice.
Two cups salad oil.

Stir egg yolk, salt and one tablespoon lemon juice until well mixed. Beat in oil, slowly at first until one-fourth cup is added. Then add oil more rapidly. When dressing becomes thick, add remaining lemon juice and oil.

When a recipe calls for melted shortening, measure after it is melted.

LUNCHEON A POPULAR WAY OF ENTERTAINING

Most Women Interested in Trim Figures Appreciate Simple Cooling Menus.

The bridge luncheon is one of the most satisfactory ways of entertaining women friends. Old ideas of playing bridge all afternoon or evening, followed by refreshments of sticky sweets or fancy sandwiches served at just the wrong time of day, have given way to this popular luncheon idea.

Very few women, who are interested in trim figures, like the idea of a heavy noon day meal, and eating between meals is becoming practically taboo. Keeping these factors in mind, you can see how simple it is to plan and serve a luncheon that will satisfy all the diet fancies yet be well balanced, colorful and interesting in flavor.

Serve Simple Food.
For summer months a cold meat salad, a club sandwich, a cold meat assortment or assorted dainty meat sandwiches make the substantial part of the menu. Lean meat supplies the protein which is so essential to the well balanced, non-fatening diet and which is so often missing from women's menus.

The meats which best fit into this picture are the cold sausages, the various canned spreads or canned meats to be served cold, ham baked throughout several following days, cold chicken or cold roast lamb, which may be sliced very thin.

Meat Salad.
A meat salad such as ham salad served in large tomato cups is a delicious main dish for your luncheon. Add to it a couple of glazed whole carrots, a pickled peach or pear, a plate of hot rolls and a cool beverage and you have won your laurels with your guests.

A sandwich loaf made of two kinds of meat, such as ham spread and veal loaf, cheese and a relish or nut filling, put together like a

CHOCOLATE SAUCE IS FINE PARTNER FOR A PLAIN ICE CREAM

A CHOCOLATE sauce for plain ice cream needs little to recommend it. It goes grand on vanilla ice cream.

Chocolate Sauce.
Two squares of chocolate unsweetened.
One cup dark syrup.
One-half teaspoon vanilla.
Few grains salt.

Put the squares of chocolate in the syrup and cook over hot water, stirring occasionally until the chocolate is melted. Remove from the fire, add vanilla and salt and serve hot.

loaf of bread and frosted all over with softened cream cheese is delicious to carve and serve at the table, to a smaller group of friends, with a crisp vegetable salad bowl passed at table, a dish of assorted relishes and a very light fruit dessert cut together, then you have another type of luncheon altogether.

Buffet Luncheon.
You might try a buffet and salad luncheon with a huge bowl of veal salad, or platter of cold ham or roast lamb garnished with cress and tiny squares of currant or mint jelly as your special offering. With such a beginning one should follow with a delicate fruit salad combination, a relish dish of sliced cucumber, raw carrots and raw cauliflower, perhaps a sweet nut of loaf coffee. Later nuts or bonbons may be served at the table in lieu of dessert.

Remember that any well-planned menu will include, besides tart fruit, crisp vegetables and some bread, a generous offering of lean protein foods such as are suggested above.

Ham Salad in Tomato Cups.
Remove a slice from the stem ends of eight large tomatoes and scoop out the centers. Chill the tomatoes.

Mix two and one-half cups diced cooked ham with one and one-fourth cups chopped celery, four chopped pickles, one-half green pepper and the meaty parts from the tomatoes. Mix with mayonnaise to moisten and heap into tomato shells. Serve on a chop plate on lettuce garnish. Serves eight.

Veal Salad.
One square cold cubed veal (prepared by roasting or simmering a shoulder cut of veal).
Three cups cut celery.
One-half cup nut meats.
Three oranges cut in cubes.
Mayonnaise.

One head shredded lettuce.
Cut cold veal in even cubes. Add oranges, celery and nuts and coarsely cut lettuce with mayonnaise to moisten. Heap into a wooden salad bowl and garnish with watercress. Serves ten or twelve.

STRAWBERRY JELLY
Four cups (2 lbs.) juice.
Two tablespoons strained lemon juice.
Eight cups (3 1/2 lbs.) sugar.
One bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare juice, crush thoroughly or grind about three quarts fully ripe berries. Place in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. Squeeze and strain juice from one medium lemon.

Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard one-half minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about 12 glasses (six fluid ounces each).

Do not mix salads until shortly before serving them.

BLACKBERRIES MAKE GOOD IN JAMS

A Splendid Adjunct to the Hot Buttered Breakfast Toast.

If your family likes blackberry jam and jelly you must be sure to put some up this year since all indications point to a plentiful crop. For those members of the family who object to the seeds cook a jelly and for the rest cook jam and preserves.

Once Under Suspicion. You may not know it, but the blackberry was treated with the same kind of suspicion that the tomato so unwittingly earned for itself. In the Highlands of Scotland and in some parts of Ireland the blackberry is still called the "devil's berry."

Whatever the superstitions, America is perfectly free of them, the natives here having realized that the blackberry just like the tomato is one of the finest things that you can eat on white, mornings with lots of hot buttered toast.

Preserved Blackberries. Four pounds blackberries. Four pounds sugar.

Look over berries and wash. Cover with sugar and let stand for two hours. Simmer until the boiling point is reached, boil one minute. Cool, bring to the boiling point again and boil one minute. Skim out the fruit, pack in sterilized jars and fill with the juice and seal.

Blackberry Jelly. Four cups (two pounds) berry juice. Two tablespoons lemon juice. Eight cups (three and one-half pounds) sugar. One bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare juice, crush thoroughly or grind about three quarts fully ripe berries. Place in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. Squeeze and strain juice from one medium lemon. Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard one-half minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin at once. Makes about 12 glasses (six fluid ounces each).

Blackberry Jam. Four cups (two pounds) prepared fruit. Seven cups (three pounds) sugar. One-half bottle fruit pectin. To prepare fruit, grind about two quarts fully ripe berries or crush completely one layer at a time, so that each berry is reduced to a pulp. Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, mix well, and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard three minutes. Remove from fire and stir in bottled fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for just five minutes, and cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once. Makes about 10 glasses (six fluid ounces each).

Gelatin Note. When pineapple is used in a gelatin mixture be sure that it is cooked. Raw pineapple contains a substance which acts on gelatin in such a way that it will not get firm.

BRIDGE FRUIT SALAD

Eight cupsful of fruit. Two cups diced pineapple (four large slices). Two cups diced canned peaches. One cup diced canned pears. One and one-half cups seeded cherries. One and one-half cups sliced bananas (two large). One package cherry flavored gelatin. One cupful hot water. One-half cupful whipping cream. Cooked fruit salad dressing. Prepare fruits and chill thoroughly. Dissolve gelatin in hot water and pour into pan to one-fourth inch in depth. Chill. Whip cream until stiff and fold into cooked fruit salad dressing. Arrange fruit in eight large cups of lettuce. Cut gelatin into one-fourth inch cubes and sprinkle over fruits. Top with cooked fruit salad dressing and garnish each salad with a cube of gelatin. Serves eight.

CAULIFLOWER SERVES IN VARIOUS WAYS

Use It in Soups or Fritters and Vary the Methods of Preparation.

With cauliflower coming into the markets it is a good idea to take stock and find out how many ways you can cook this very excellent vegetable. You serve it creamed or buttered, or perhaps with a sprinkling of cheese. So far so good but there the methods end. The French use cauliflower in a variety of ways. There is a delicious soup which over there is called "creme de choux-fleurs" and which means nothing more nor less than cream of cauliflower soup. Cauliflower may be cooked au gratin in a casserole. It may be served with delicious sauces which will completely disguise it and last but not least there are fritters to be considered.

Before cooking remove the leaves, cut off the stalk and soak for at least half an hour, head down, in cold water. The water in which it is cooked should be slightly salted and boiling. The head should be right side up. Drain and reheat in well seasoned cream sauce, or dress it with butter and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese.

An Gratin Variations. Separate a cooked head of cauliflower into flowerets, lay in a buttered casserole, sprinkle with buttered crumbs and pour in a little cream sauce, then a sprinkling of grated cheese. Repeat until the dish is full. Bake in a moderate oven until the crumbs are brown. This dish is excellent with chicken, sea food and cold meats. To vary the dish add chopped sautéed mushrooms, ripe olives, minced ham or chopped cooked giblets with a seasoning of Worcestershire sauce or sherry.

Cauliflower With Curry Sauce. Two teaspoons mustard. One teaspoon powdered sugar. One and one-fourth teaspoons salt.

One-fourth teaspoon paprika. Three eggs. One-fourth cup oil. One-half cup vinegar. One-half teaspoon curry powder. Two tablespoons butter. Chopped parsley. Blend together the dry ingredients with the exception of the curry powder, add the yolks of eggs which have been beaten until they are smooth and light colored. Slowly stir in the oil and vinegar and cook in the upper part of a double boiler, stirring all the while until thickened. Remove from fire and stir in the curry powder, malted butter and about one teaspoon of finely chopped parsley. Pour over the hot cooked cauliflower which has been separated into flowerets.

Two Sauces. Prepare the cauliflower as for au gratin and in place of the cream sauce prepare the following sauce. Two egg yolks. One-fourth cup cream. One-half teaspoon salt. One-eighth teaspoon nutmeg. Juice of half a lemon. Two tablespoons butter.

Mix the slightly beaten egg yolks with the cream and salt, add nutmeg and stir in the lemon juice, stirring all the while the mixture cooks. Add the butter and when melted and blended pour the sauce over freshly cooked cauliflower.

Another sauce which may be used when baking cauliflower is made with Two egg yolks. Two tablespoons butter. Two tablespoons flour. One cup chicken broth. One teaspoon salt. Dash of pepper. Grated cheese. Melt the butter, add the flour and stir until blended. Pour in the chicken broth and stir until smoothly mixed. Bring to the boiling point and add the salt and pepper. Remove from fire, stir in the well beaten egg yolks and then the cheese, pour over the cauliflower in a baking dish, sprinkle with more cheese and bake until thoroughly heated.

Cauliflower Fritters. Break a cooked cauliflower into flowerets. Dip each piece in a thick white sauce and then in fritter batter. Fry in deep hot fat until light brown. Serve with meat or chicken.

The fritter batter is made by sifting together one and one-third cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder and one-fourth teaspoon salt. Add gradually two-thirds cup milk and then one egg which has been well beaten.

SERVE THESE COOKIES WITH REFRESHING SUMMER DRINKS

These cookies are just the thing to serve with those cool drinks when guests drop in to share the coolness of your inviting porch or backyard.

Peanut Strips. One cup sugar. One tablespoon butter. One egg well beaten. One cup warm water. Two cups flour. Four teaspoons baking powder. Pinch of salt. One teaspoon vanilla. Cream sugar and butter and add beaten egg. Mix well. Add warm water. Sift flour, salt and baking powder together three times and add slowly. Beat hard and stir in the vanilla. The batter will be very thin. Pour into a large pan about three-eighths inch thick and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 10 or 12 minutes. Make a thin powdered sugar icing with sugar, hot water, vanilla and butter. Ice cakes which have been cut in strips while still warm and roll in chopped peanuts.

SUMMER TIME IS PICNIC TIME FOR ALL

Whether Its on the Porch, the Lawn or in the Woods a Different Menu Helps.

Summer is the proverbial time when the out of doors calls work-a-day folk to come out and enjoy the sunshine and informal meals.

Whether you take your picnic to the front porch, the lawn or the woods, its fun to make the menu just a little different from the usual sandwich and potato salad meal.

One substantial dish, either a big bowl of meat and vegetable salad, a jellyed meat loaf, a covered bean jar of baked beans and bacon, or a big casserole of beef, rice, and tomatoes makes a foundation dish which everyone will enjoy and which serves well on porch, lawn or in true picnic fashion. Make meat the basis of this substantial dish, whether hot or cold.

No Sandwiches Needed. With such a foundation there is no necessity of spreading sandwiches. Just supply plenty of rye bread, some rolls or buns and lots of fresh butter.

Vegetables for this informal feast are best raw, and there is a marvelous assortment to choose from, raw carrots cut in long fingerlike strips, cauliflower broken into small flowerlets, cucumbers, tomatoes, green onions and radishes.

A big jar of jam or jelly, plenty of a generous dessert of fresh berries, cool beverage, and some crisp ice box cookies makes this a completely satisfying menu.

Set Table Buffet Style.

If it is to be served on the porch, set up a table in buffet style with colored cloth and napkins, your main dish served in wooden bowl or casserole, bread and rolls on the bread board, a big plate of the raw vegetables and a big pitcher of iced tea, or mixed fruit juices. Let everyone help himself. If you are averse to washing dishes you can even use paper or thin wooden plates and bowls.

If you carry your meal to a picnic spot it is easy enough to pack the meat and salad in a big covered crock or casserole, the butter in one of your covered refrigerator dishes, the raw vegetables and berries in screw top jars to keep them fresh. Put into the basket a cloth to spread over the sand or grass, the necessary plates and cups which are disposable after the lunch, and plenty of paper napkins and you're set to go.

Here are some main dish suggestions for these picnic meals.

Veal Salad.

One quart of cold veal—cubed. Two cups of cooked peas. Two cups of cut celery. One cucumber.

Six sweet pickles. Cut all ingredients together, add a little lemon juice and enough mayonnaise dressing to thoroughly moisten. Line a large salad bowl with the meat salad, chill thoroughly with endive or leaf lettuce and fill with and garnish with slices of sweet pickles or olives and strips of pimiento.

Jellied Ham Loaf.

Two cups finely diced ham. One tablespoon plain gelatin. One-fourth cup cold water. Three-fourths cup boiling water. One-fourth cup vinegar. Two hard cooked eggs, sliced. One-half teaspoon salt. One-half cup diced celery. One chopped pimiento. One-half chopped green pepper. Two tablespoons finely minced onion.

One-half cup mayonnaise or boiled salad dressing.

Soak the gelatin in cold water, then dissolve in the boiling water. Add vinegar and salt. Cool. When mixture begins to jell mix in all the other ingredients excepting the egg. Rinse a mold in cold water, arrange the egg slices on the bottom and sides, then pour in the ham mixture. Set in cold place until firm. Serve on a bed of shredded lettuce.

OLD-FASHIONED COOKIES MAY BE STORED IN STONE JAR

These are the old fashioned cookies. That may be stored in an old-fashioned cookie jar for safe keeping. If you make them before a holiday they are guaranteed to last at least until the day is over, if you make enough.

Bachelor Buttons.

One-half cup butter or shortening. One cup brown sugar. One egg well beaten. Three-fourths teaspoon baking powder.

One and three-fourths cup flour. One-half cup chopped nuts. Cream the butter, add sugar slowly and then the egg. Beat all well. Sift the flour, measure and sift again with the baking powder. Add to the first mixture and then add the nuts. The dough should be stiff enough to handle. If the flour is not dry enough to make a stiff dough, sift in a little more. Shape into marbles and set on a greased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) until straw colored.

Fried Chicken Is a Great Favorite in Summer Food

Choose Fryers or Broilers Carefully If You Want Best Results for Chicken Dinner.

You may not count your chickens before they are hatched but it is a good idea to choose them well before you cook them. Not out of the frying pan, with milk gravy made with top milk or sour cream and you have about the best fried chicken in the world.

Fryers are in the markets now. Housewives may ask: What are fryers? How do they differ from broilers? For the benefit of the many who are not quite certain the Bureau of Home Economics of the Department of Agriculture passes on certain information regarding chickens.

Season for Fryers. Fryers are not the youngest chickens used for the table. They come on the market around the first of July and continue until October. They are a little older than the broilers but have the advantage of having more meat. As the dealer weighs the frying chicken it is usually undrawn with head and feet and weighs about two and one-half to three and one-half pounds. This weight is called "dressed weight" by dealers. You must bear in mind that chickens which are ready to cook weigh about 25 per cent less than their "dressed weight" and 30 per cent less than their live weight.

Broilers are at the top of their season in June, July and August. They are young, soft meat birds and weigh generally about two and one-half pounds after they are plucked and bled.

So far there has been no label affixed to chicken for the consumer's benefit. The wholesale trade uses four U. S. Government grades but these are stamped on the boxes or barrels and not on the individual bird. For quality, therefore, you will have to do your own judging or take someone's word for it.

Breast Bone Is Soft. Good quality chickens usually have a broad, well rounded breast with thick layers of white meat on either side of the breast bone. Thighs are well covered with meat and fat is well distributed over the entire carcass.

The breast bone is soft and flexible which means that the chicken is young. Flexibility can be ascertained by pressing the bone to test this. If it is soft and springy you may be sure that the fowl is young. The meat is usually fine grained, soft and light colored and resembles somewhat fillets of fish. The skin is soft and oily, velvety to the touch. Milk fed chickens are white

ICE CREAM FAVORITE DESSERT OF CHILDREN

They Prefer It With Chocolate While Grown-ups Like the Complicated Kind.

Ice cream and frozen desserts are prime favorites with children of all ages. While little children prefer plain ice cream with a luscious chocolate sauce, the grown-up children are apt to call for something a bit more complicated. And now that the hot weather is here and we have enough recruits from whose ranks we can draft the freezer turners, let's have ice cream!

If you use the refrigerator be sure to stir the freezing mixture often as this is the one thing that keeps those large sized crystals from forming in the mixture. Personally, our idea of heaven is one of those new fangled freezers that goes right into the freezing compartment of the refrigerator and turns itself. Tell that to the young son of the family!

Maple Nut Charlotte. One-half pint heavy cream. Four tablespoons maple sugar. One egg white beaten stiff. One-half cup chopped nuts. Few grains salt.

Whip the cream until stiff and sweetened with the crushed maple sugar. Add a few grains of salt to the egg white, whip until stiff and fold into the stiffly beaten cream. Fold in chopped nuts, flavor with a few drops of vanilla and fill parfait glasses which have been lined with halved lady fingers. No cooking required.

Vanilla Ice Cream. Two-thirds cup condensed milk. One-half cup water. One and one-half teaspoons vanilla. One cup whipping cream. Blend thoroughly condensed milk, water and vanilla. Chill. Whip cream to custard-like consistency and fold into chilled mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit. After mixture is about half frozen remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat until smooth but not until melted. Smooth out and replace in freezing unit until frozen for serving. Serves six.

Frozen Party Loaf. Twelve marshmallows. Two tablespoons pineapple juice. One-half cup whipped cream. Six lady fingers. Three tablespoons crushed pineapple. Two bananas. Heat the pineapple juice and fleshed, corn fed are yellow fleshed. All birds should be dressed properly. If they are not well bled the skin will be reddened and blue spots will show through the skin of the neck. Such poultry does not keep well nor does it have the flavor of well bled birds. The skin should not be stuffed or torn from hanging or from improper cooling.

Short-legged Type Best. For table use a short-legged round-bodied type is better than the long-legged, rangy type. Dry picked poultry is preferable to hard scaled.

Most cooks have their own particular way of frying chicken and preparing gravy. Here are a few points for the cooks who are more or less untalented.

Use a generous quantity of fat or olive oil, enough to cover the pan about half an inch deep. Have fat hot but not hot enough to smoke.

Fry Large Pieces First. Salt and pepper chicken and coat it with flour. Some cooks prefer frying chicken without flour, while others prefer a batter.

Fry the large pieces first. Turn them as soon as they are lightly browned, reduce the temperature and finish the cooking slowly. This moderate temperature is the way to keep chicken juicy. Watch closely and turn the pieces occasionally. Don't over cook chicken. Too much cooking at too high a temperature makes fried chicken dry and stringy and gives it a hard crust that can scarcely be cut. As the chicken cooks, partially cover the pan to keep the fat from splattering.

To Make Gravy. For gravy, allow two tablespoons fat and tasty brown bits for each cup. Stir in one and one-half tablespoons flour and mix thoroughly with the brown drippings. Now add one cup of cold water, milk, or sour cream and stir vigorously until the gravy is smooth. Have the fire rather low as the secret of good gravy is slow cooking. If you prefer a thinner gravy add more liquid and cook a little longer.

For a fried chicken dinner we would suggest hot biscuits which go perfectly with a good creamy chicken gravy, new potatoes if you like, creamed fresh peas and carrots, a garden salad of lettuce, radishes and young onions and for dessert large slices of cool crisp watermelon. Here is an inexpensive dinner and a most delicious one.

That you can ask any company to share.

marshmallows until dissolved. Remove from fire and beat until cool. Add the whipped cream and beat again. Line automatic refrigerator tray with lady fingers, then the crushed pineapple, then the beaten mixture. Freeze from two to three hours, until set. When frozen, remove to a plate, cover with whipped cream and garnish with slices of ripe bananas. Serves six.

Vanilla Ice Cream. (Freezer method.) One can condensed milk. Two cups thin cream. One cup cold water. One teaspoon vanilla.

Thoroughly blend condensed milk, thin cream, cold water and vanilla. Freeze in two-quart freezer. Remove dasher. Pack in ice and salt for one hour or more after freezing. Makes one and one-fourth quarts.

Chocolate Sauce. Two squares unsweetened chocolate. One can condensed milk. One-eighth teaspoon salt. One-half to one cup hot water. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add condensed milk and stir over boiling water five minutes until mixture thickens. Add salt and hot water, amount depending on consistency desired. Makes two or two and one-half cups.

GOOD MAYONNAISE One whole egg. One teaspoon powdered sugar. One teaspoon salt. One teaspoon mustard. One teaspoon vinegar. One-eighth teaspoon pepper. One-eighth teaspoon paprika. Dash of cayenne. Two cups oil.

Three tablespoons lemon juice or vinegar. Break egg into bowl, add dry ingredients and one teaspoon vinegar. Beat. Add one-half cup mayonnaise by tablespoonful, beating constantly. Mixture will be thick and remainder of oil may be added one-fourth cup at a time. Beat vigorously after each addition. (Use oil which has been thoroughly chilled.) Beat in lemon juice, or vinegar if preferred, for about 10 minutes. Makes one pint thick fluffy mayonnaise.

Mushroom Stuffing. Sauté for a few minutes in four tablespoons butter four tablespoons chopped onion and mushrooms from one-fourth ounce can of mushrooms which have been chopped up. Add to one and one-half quarts of dry bread. Then add two tablespoons salt, one-half teaspoon pepper, two tablespoons sage and one teaspoon thyme. Mix with the mushroom liquor and as much water as is needed. This is enough to stuff a four to five pound chicken, and the ingredients should be doubled for stuffing a large turkey.

STATE RIGHTS UPHELD BY GOV. TALMADGE

Attacks "New Deal"—Talk Regarded as Bid Against Roosevelt Renomination.

By the Associated Press. CANTON, Ga., July 5.—Gov. Eugene Talmadge raised the issue of state's rights yesterday in a bitter speech against the Roosevelt administration.

Here for an Independence day dedication of a new highway bridge, the Governor made what many observers believe to be a bid for Georgia's vote against Roosevelt's renomination in 1936.

"State's rights is the bulwark of protection for the people of Georgia," he said in a prepared address. "It is also the bulwark of protection for the people in New York, Maine, California, Oregon and all of the other states of the Union."

"When the time ever comes for the sovereignty of the several states of this Union to be ignored and forgotten, then this Union is ready for dissolution."

It is fitting for us on July Fourth to take stock and see how we have departed from the old land lines and foundation stones of government.

Georgia, being ever alert to protect the sovereignty of the State and state's rights, not only helps and protects the people of Georgia but protects every other State in the Union and every citizen in Georgia.

Gov. Talmadge said experimental legislation of President Roosevelt had been a failure, had retarded progress and called for immediate abandonment of the entire program.

The agricultural program with its processing taxes, he said, "had bled the people white" and while the taxes filled the national Treasury "with more money than the widest dreams of Croesus, the nation was faced with famine and had to turn to multiplied imports to meet demands for products 'the present Administration deliberately destroyed'."

Hamilton Fish Speaks on States Rights in Virginia. By the Associated Press. RUCKELSHAE BEACH, Va., July 5.—Representative Hamilton Fish of New York here yesterday attacked what he called the New Deal's efforts to deprive states of their constitutional rights and privileges.

The New York Representative came here to attend the inaugural meeting of the National League of America, which was organized in Richmond six months ago.

"The New Deal's proposal," he said, "to change the United States from a federal union into a dictatorial nation which would become more provinces ruled by dictatorial government at Washington is a direct violation of the states' rights as embodied in the Constitution."

He asserted that the American people had no intention to surrender their rights and liberties to erect a Fascist or Communist super-government without a widespread political battle.

Cole L. Blease Denounces Administration Policies in Speech. By the Associated Press. FOREST CITY, N. C., July 5.—Cole L. Blease, former United States Senator and twice Governor of South Carolina, denounced the Roosevelt administration in an address here yesterday for what he termed its encroachment on states' rights.

He said he had retired from politics but might re-enter "to fight for states' rights if the occasion demands." The day before at Columbia he had said he might oppose Senator James F. Byrnes of South Carolina for renomination.

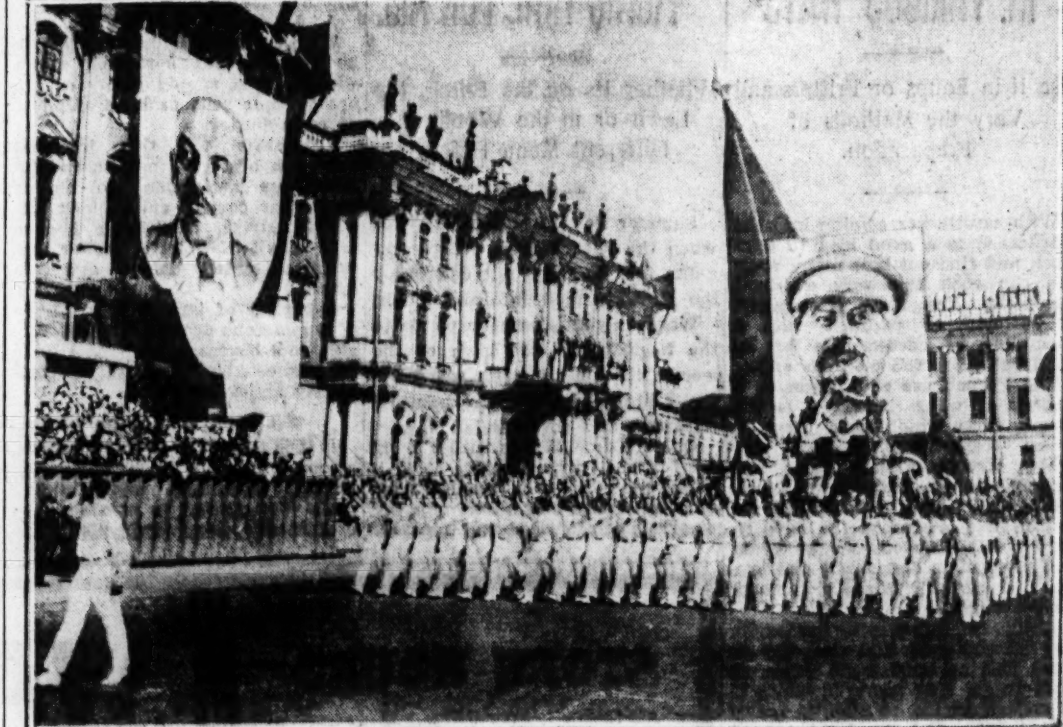

Blease attacked the Wagner labor bill as "a curse to the South," and denounced the administration for its refusal to pay the soldiers' bonuses.

"I can't see how they can stand there and say the United States is not able to pay the bonus and yet vote five billion dollars to give jobs to people who are too damned lazy to work," Blease said. "There are too many cowards in Congress. Every lawyer in Congress knew the NRA was unconstitutional when it was up for consideration."

DR. BRINKLEY'S YACHT SEIZED Halifax, N. S., Sheriff Attaches Goat Gland Specialist's Craft. By the Associated Press. HALIFAX, N. S., July 4.—Dr. John R. Brinkley, Kansas goat gland specialist, ran into trouble with Canadian authorities yesterday when his yacht, the Dr. Brinkley II, was seized by the sheriff here.

A salvage suit for $5000 entered by the owners of the Nova Scotia motor vessel Shanahan, which refueled the big yacht after she struck Chebogue Point, N. S., in fog several days ago led to the seizure. The doctor and six other passengers took to lifeboats when the yacht grounded, all reaching shore safely. The yacht was towed to Yarmouth, N. S., but reached Halifax last night under her own power. Brinkley was aboard.

FAMILY OF FOUR IN AUTO KILLED IN HEAD-ON-CRASH

Bodies of Ohioans Recovered From Crushed Car After Collision With Bus. GEORGETOWN, Ky., July 5.—Four persons killed when their automobile was crushed under a bus in a highway collision here Wednesday were named by Coroner Kean Ashurst today as a family from Dayton, O.

The victims, Ashurst said, were believed to be William H. Walters, 26 years old; Mrs. Mabel Walters, 26; and their daughters, Wanda, 3, and Katherine, 8. Papers on Walter's body bore his name. A further check of the license plate brought confirmation from Dayton that the family drove into Kentucky yesterday. Relatives were reported on the way here to claim the bodies.

The car was thrown down a bank and so badly caved in that it took an hour and 40 minutes to get the bodies out. At first only three bodies were removed. Only after word was received that there were four in the family was the body of Katherine found, wedged under cushions in the rear of the car.

Passengers on the bus said the bus and car collided on a sharp curve on which the car was traveling on the wrong side of the road. Inquest has been set for Monday.

Sheriff Accused by Girl. STOCKTON, Mo., July 5.—Bond of $2000 has been posted by Sheriff J. Tom Elliott for a girl, 12 years old, who was arrested on a charge brought by a 15-year-old girl. The complaint in the case charged the Sheriff took the girl riding and attacked her. Coroner Melvin Church served the warrant. Preliminary hearing is scheduled for Monday.

Cole L. Blease Denounces Administration Policies in Speech. By the Associated Press. FOREST CITY, N. C., July 5.—Cole L. Blease, former United States Senator and twice Governor of South Carolina, denounced the Roosevelt administration in an address here yesterday for what he termed its encroachment on states' rights.

He said he had retired from politics but might re-enter "to fight for states' rights if the occasion demands." The day before at Columbia he had said he might oppose Senator James F. Byrnes of South Carolina for renomination.

Blease attacked the Wagner labor bill as "a curse to the South," and denounced the administration for its refusal to pay the soldiers' bonuses.

"I can't see how they can stand there and say the United States is not able to pay the bonus and yet vote five billion dollars to give jobs to people who are too damned lazy to work," Blease said. "There are too many cowards in Congress. Every lawyer in Congress knew the NRA was unconstitutional when it was up for consideration."

DR. BRINKLEY'S YACHT SEIZED Halifax, N. S., Sheriff Attaches Goat Gland Specialist's Craft. By the Associated Press. HALIFAX, N. S., July 4.—Dr. John R. Brinkley, Kansas goat gland specialist, ran into trouble with Canadian authorities yesterday when his yacht, the Dr. Brinkley II, was seized by the sheriff here.

A salvage suit for $5000 entered by the owners of the Nova Scotia motor vessel Shanahan, which refueled the big yacht after she struck Chebogue Point, N. S., in fog several days ago led to the seizure. The doctor and six other passengers took to lifeboats when the yacht grounded, all reaching shore safely. The yacht was towed to Yarmouth, N. S., but reached Halifax last night under her own power. Brinkley was aboard.

LAMBERT YACHT WINS RACE American Defeats Sopwith's Endeavour at Plymouth. By the Associated Press. PLYMOUTH, England, July 5.—Gerard Lambert's American yacht, Yankee, won another race in the Royal Yacht Club regatta yesterday, coming home first in the 37-mile Royal West Yacht Club race in 2 hours, 58 minutes and 30 seconds.

T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavour was second, with Velisheid third. Shamrock, Astra and Britannia started, but retired.

POWER PROJECT STARTED

Garner Touches Off Blast on Passamaquoddy Undertaking. By the Associated Press. EASTPORT, Me., July 5.—Touched off by Vice-President John Garner in Washington, 600 pounds of dynamite broke the ground yesterday for the $38,000,000 Passamaquoddy tidal power project.

The car was thrown down a bank and so badly caved in that it took an hour and 40 minutes to get the bodies out. At first only three bodies were removed. Only after word was received that there were four in the family was the body of Katherine found, wedged under cushions in the rear of the car.

Passengers on the bus said the bus and car collided on a sharp curve on which the car was traveling on the wrong side of the road. Inquest has been set for Monday.

WALTHER LEAGUE CONVENTION TO BE HELD HERE JULY 14-18

3000 Delegates From United States, Canada and Brazil Are Expected. The International Walther League, an organization of 75,000 young Lutherans, will hold its forty-third convention at the Municipal Auditorium, July 14 to 18. Three thousand delegates from the United States, Canada and Brazil, are expected to attend.

The first concert of the Choral Union, composed of 1000 voices from choirs throughout the country, will be part of the opening service. Prof. O. P. Kretzmann of Chicago, executive secretary, will speak on the convention motto, "Thy Kingdom Come." A pageant showing the missionary activities of the Lutheran Church will be staged the first evening.

It will be the third time the league has held an international convention in St. Louis since the organization of the local Walther League in 1912.

MAN COMPLAINS OF LOW TAXES Batavia (Ill.) Manufacturer Asks to Pay $175 Additional. By the Associated Press. GENEVA, Ill., July 5.—The Kane County Board of Review faced a new tax problem today. H. N. Wade, Batavia manufacturer and bank director, complained that his taxes were too low and demanded that he be allowed to pay $175 additional.

The board finally rejected the offer on the ground that the assessment had been completed. Wade said he would turn the money over for the charity because "it doesn't belong to me."

Travelers Auditor to Move. Special to the Post-Dispatch. CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., July 5.—Fred S. Strutzman who has been elected auditor for the Supreme Council of United Commercial Travelers of America, will remove within a few weeks to Columbus, O., to devote his entire time to the Church, served the war years as grand secretary of the Missouri Council of U. C. T.

SISTER DEAD 14 DAYS IN HOME WITH HERMIT

Police Find Man, 85, Apparently Deranged—Two Lived in Seclusion 30 Years.

SPRING LAKE, N. J., July 5.—Police found the body of Miss Jennie A. McCloskey, 87 years old, in the bedroom of her home yesterday. Dr. Harvey W. Hartmann, county physician, said she had been dead between two and three weeks.

In an adjoining room, was the woman's brother, John M. McCloskey, 85, suffering from malnutrition and apparently deranged. He was taken to Filkin Memorial Hospital, Neptune.

McCloskey had lived in virtual seclusion for 30 years, police said. He never appeared on the streets and his sister went out only at intervals of three or four months, and then briefly.

Food and even clothing were delivered to the house by Allen Smith, a mail carrier. Smith told police McCloskey had greeted him at the door several days ago but said nothing of his sister's death.

A laundry concern solicitor, George Powers, summoned police yesterday, saying there was "something strange" about the house. Police Chief Russell Hurdon investigated and questioned McCloskey. Hurdon said McCloskey was voluble but apparently irrational.

"How is your sister," Hurdon asked. "Oh, she's fine. I go in and cover her up every night," McCloskey said.

Hurdon said the two had lived on income from the estate of John Cardin McCloskey, who died in New York in 1885. The Rev. Thomas Reilly, pastor of St. Catherine's Catholic Church, said they came from Ohio but he was unable to name the town. Until a few years ago, the two occasionally went to early mass at Father Reilly's church, speaking to no one along the way nor even to each other. For the rest they kept indoors.

Futures closed steady, 25-28 lower. July, 11.58; Oct., 11.52-53; Dec., 11.54; Jan., 11.50; March, 11.57; May, 11.59-62. Spot quiet; melting, 12.20.

Trading was active at the start with liquidation and foreign selling promoted by easy Liverpool cables. Pre-holiday advances also appeared to have developed some reactionary tendency above the 12-cent level for July but offerings were absorbed by buyers previously credited with operating either for profit or co-operative account. After a lull, the market rallied to 11.66 with active months generally showing a recovery of 8 or 9 points from the lowest.

Rallies from the opening decline carried July up to 12.02 and October to 11.71, while active months generally sold within 20 or 25 points of the opening quotations. Demand tapered off on this bulge, however, and there were recessions. Another of the private and spot report was issued placing the average at 28.933, the average of the 1935-36 season and the indicated crop at 10,100,000 bushels.

CARL H. FESENFELDT, POLITICAL FIGURE, DIES

City Employee, Who Went to Jail for His Ideals Succumbs at 75.

Carl H. Fesefeldt, city employee, one-time North Side Democratic chieftain and idealist who was willing to go to jail for his ideals, which he did once, died of infirmities early yesterday at his home, 2819 North Twenty-fifth street. He was 75 years old.

He had been in poor health since Christmas time, 1933, when he fell on the ice at Eleventh and Olive streets, when dodging an automobile. For the last six months he was unable to work and for the last two months he was bedridden.

Born in St. Louis, the son of a tent and awning dealer, he was well educated. Going to Wyoming as a young man, he became a political associate of the late Senator Warren, Gen. Pershing's father-in-law, and for a time he was the Senator's secretary. Returning, he became a clerk for a brewing concern later taken over by the Hyde Park Brewery. Eventually he became Hyde Park's office manager. He achieved considerable means, but lost most of his money in investments.

Left Democrats, joined G. O. P. Many years ago he wielded influence in Democratic affairs of North St. Louis. During President Wilson's administration, in which prohibition began, he sought some Federal appointment without success. Feeling that the Democrats were ungrateful, he turned to the Republicans, joining the forces of Victor J. Miller.

Miller gave Mr. Fesefeldt a job as clerk in the Hospital Commission's office. Later he was trans-

"I Suffered Years With Itching Eczema"

"...and after spending hundreds of dollars to clear it up, I tried Zemo and got relief," writes G. C. G., of Texas. Soothing and cooling, Zemo relieves itching quickly because of its rare ingredients. Also wonderful for Rash, Pimples, Ringworm and other irritations. Zemo is worth the price because you get relief. ## CITY WORKER DEAD

ferred to the City Plan Commission office, where he remained in clerical and miscellaneous work even after the Democrats took over the city administration.

In 1927 Mr. Fesefeldt attracted public notice during a three-week period when the old United Railways was collecting an 8-cent carfare instead of 7 cents, under a court order. Going to work on the first day of the increase, he dropped 7 cents in the box and refused to give another penny, because he thought the lower rate was plenty. The conductor had him arrested, although officials were nonplussed at first as to what offense he had committed. He declined to seek bail, but later permitted his friends to furnish bond. A peace disturbance charge against him was dismissed on recommendation of company counsel. He sued the company for $8000 damages for false arrest but a Circuit Court jury decided against him.

At the time of the incident, Mr. Fesefeldt was trying to organize the Association of Street Car Patrons to oppose higher fares. Several years later he was on a committee which proposed to try the initiative to bring about municipal ownership of the transit system. He always advocated municipal ownership of utilities and went so far as to borrow money on his life insurance to support that principle. His objection to the practice of letting policemen and firemen ride free on street cars and buses was almost an obsession.

Believer in Fiat Money. Interested in various public movements, he usually was prepared to discuss remedies for all economic problems with anyone who would listen. Out of his slender purse he sometimes paid for printing pamphlets on his ideas. Once he went to Arkansas as a delegate to a meeting of "Coin" Harvey. A believer in fiat money, he thought the city could end the depression locally by issuing it. At his home today there remained a stack of liberal and economic publications, including tracts of the English Commonwealth Land Plan.

Mr. Fesefeldt, who was called Charles by some, never married. He resided with a sister, Miss Lena Fesefeldt, 78 years old. Another sister, Mrs. Mary Vossmeier, 84, lives in Los Angeles. The funeral will be at 2 p. m. tomorrow at the Welch Bros. undertaking establishment, 2201 South Grand boulevard, with burial in New Picker Cemetery.

FOUR AUTO RACERS KILLED WHEN CARS LEAVE TRACK

Two Fatalities at Hatfield, Pa.; Driver Impaled on Fence

By the Associated Press.

HATFIELD, Pa., July 5.—Two automobile racers were killed on a dirt track here yesterday.

Robert Nelson, 26 years old, of Maple Shade, N. J., lost control of his car during the last preliminary, crashed through the rail into a concrete wall and was killed.

Nevin Witte, 26, of Baltimore, went through an outside fence while warming up his car three hours before the races began. He suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries and died a few hours later.

Allen Skwarlo, 23, of Melrose Park, was injured. His car crashed through the rail at the same point as Nelson's.

EX-GOV. RITCHIE ASSAILS PROPOSED NEW TAX POLICY

Says Share-Wealth Idea Is Visionary; Objects to "High-powered Economic Planning."

By the Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, July 5.—Former Governor Albert C. Ritchie, in an Independence day address said that the "bureaucratic centralization of Government in Washington will, unless it is checked, end by deadening, if not by destroying, the self-governing functions of the sovereign states on which rests our entire Governmental structure."

"All this high-powered national economic planning will, unless it is checked, end by curbing business initiative and incentive," he said. "The concentration of power in the hands of the executive has already involved the surrender by Congress of much of its constitutional right to legislate."

Starting the "prodigious expenditures of public funds have already gone billions of dollars beyond the resources of the people to pay," and asserting "national and state bankruptcy" will result unless the expenditures are checked, he added.

"New tax policies are proposed, under which the people would be taxed not only to defray the legitimate cost of Government, but with the idea of inaugurating a share-your-wealth social program, which, to my mind is visionary, but in any event can scarcely be called sound Americanism."

DANCER FALLS TO DEATH

Plunges From Fifth Floor of Hotel in Chicago.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 5.—Sophie Urbanski, 26 years old, employed as a dance hall hostess, was killed yesterday in a plunge from the fifth floor of a South Side hotel roof.

Police said she registered Wednesday with a man who signed the register "Mr. and Mrs. Boof of Chicago." The hotel clerk said she called him to her room at 10 a. m. yesterday morning, and complained that a man had stolen her diamonds. Shortly afterward, other guests of the hotel saw her falling past their windows. Her friends said that she tried to commit suicide several months ago.

Remember the Turtle.
New Declaration.
Fourth of July Talk.
Selassie Says Please.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

THIS is nearly all about fiery, Fourth of July speeches, but first, a tactless, commonplace observation.

Young men, this hot mid-summer season is the best time to work, if you want to get ahead. The turtle won his race while the hare was asleep. The man who works in July and August will take a lead not easily overcome.

In Washington, the United States "Flag Association" broadcast a new "Declaration of Independence Against Crime and Communism." The "Declaration" holds these statements to be true:

"United States people are normally the most prosperous and happiest on the planet."
"Wages of the American workman are the highest in the world, and the American standard of living far above any other, the masses normally enjoying the comforts and conveniences unknown even to the well-to-do of other lands."

These American blessings in America were acquired "at a tremendous cost in blood and treasure, trial and toil, suffering and sacrifice."

The new declaration goes on: "Every year several thousand citizens are murdered, and many thousands kidnaped, robbed and assaulted... more than 100,000 crimson-handed assassins are today roaming at large, half a million men and women, constituting the scarlet army of the United States, make their living through crime."
Jails and penitentiaries are filling to overflowing, with newer, bigger jails constantly built. America's annual crime bill amounts to billions.

To make things worse, "communists and radical forces are spending $6,000,000 a year in propaganda, to undermine and destroy the republic." There are "communist summer camps, where the red flag is hoisted daily."

The declaration calls upon every man to "show his colors, red or pink, or black or blue, brown or silver, or the red, white and blue." All law-abiding Americans are urged to "rise and join hands in the great brotherhood of Americanism... wage relentless war on our country's enemies."

The declaration adopts for a battle cry: "Crime and Communism must perish." No definite plan is suggested.

Signatures on the new "Declaration of Independence" make it interesting; they include Theodore Roosevelt, son of the first President Roosevelt; Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion; former Gov. Al Smith; P. G. Glavin, California banker; Admiral Byrd, who went far South; Arthur Capper, Senator from Kansas; Charles Curtis, formerly Vice-President; and William Green, head of the American Federation of Labor.

Such names should make crime, racketeering and Communism tremble in their deepest lair.

Gov. Talmadge of Georgia, in his Fourth of July speech, called the New Deal "pure Communism," demanded an immediate, sharp reduction in national expenses and recognition of industry's right to operate without Government competition.

Gov. Talmadge, a Georgia farmer, says: "Paying farm benefits for not planting acres is the first step toward making peons of American farmers," adding: "The Government cannot support the people. The people have to support the Government. The Government can and is robbing Peter to pay Paul."

Gov. Talmadge expects this administration to be defeated at the next election, demands taxes 25 per cent lower than under Hoover, and would discourage increased state taxation. Gov. Talmadge, old-fashioned, says: "Economic, moral and religious prosperity can only come from honesty, hard work and saving. There is no prosperity from scarcity. Scarcity breeds corruption, thievery and crime."

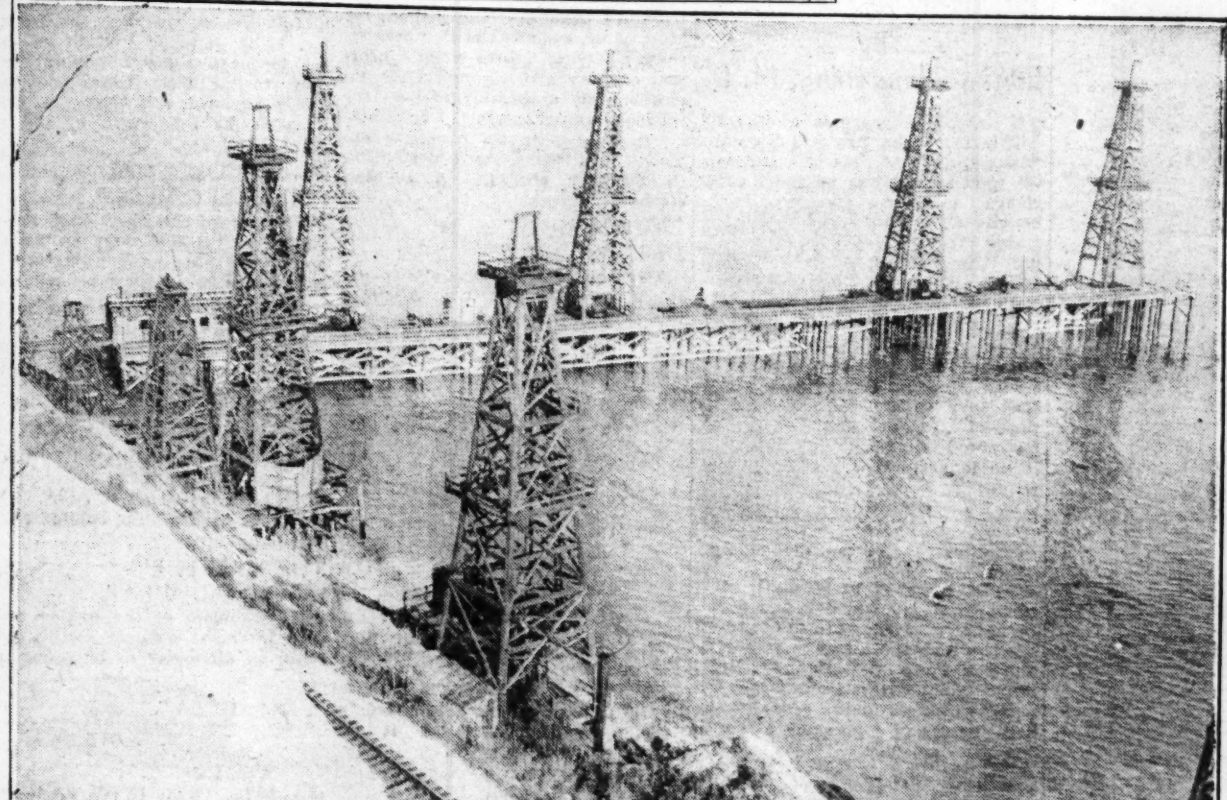

In his Fourth of July speech, former President Hoover deplored man's inclination to a "sort of slave psychology." Some "would rather be safe than free, and it has turned out that they are not safe." He deplored "whole nations surrendering their liberty to dictators." He did not refer directly to Washington, but some think his thoughts were nearer home than Angora, Rome or Berlin.

The former President sees the world today, with deep regret, a "darkened eclipse of human freedom."

Halle Selassie, Emperor of Abyssinia, descendant, he thinks, of King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba, asks the United States to keep Mussolini out of his country. The British Cabinet will "sound

THAT Patriotic Feeling

By Alexander Woolcott

THE tale the cables told of something that happened in London one night in the spring of 1922, released suddenly from its cubby-hole in the memory an experience that had been mine in the now half-incredible days of 1918 when the German Empire was gathering its huge forces to strike a last blow at Paris. It was at the time when the sultry night of the Fourth of July parade of the Allies in Paris. This explanation at first was received with skepticism, for these troops and the wilder boys of the Rainbow were always laboring under the delusion that they were about to be sent somewhere to parade. Why, even on that desperate night of rain a fortnight later when Foch seized them all like a javelin and hurled them through the drenched forest of Villers Cotteret, the night when their crowded trucks hustled them without food or water along the black roads that led to Soissons, their innocent hearts were sustained by a secret conviction that they were being rushed to a port so that they could return to New York and be exhibited there as an advertisement of the A. E. F. And high time, too.

But on this occasion earlier in July the rumor happened to be right. And when this became apparent all of their camp followers started hooking rides on the ambulances that streaked down through La Ferte and Meaux to Paris. The morning of that anxious Fourth was overcast and a feathery mist hung above the Seine. But the holiday crowds in the Place de la Concorde and the Champs Elysees were enormous. And because the memory of Belleau Wood was fresh and the news was out that the Americans were landing in numbers sufficient to amount to something, there was a great craning of French necks to see how they would be represented in the parade.

Your correspondent stood on a trembling chair and watched the celebration across acres of bobbing heads. First came the little polus, scuffling along unpretentiously in their streaked and faded horizon blue. Then there were the French cavaliers, spirited and spectacular with their brandished swords. Then the Americans—the Sammies, as the French newspapers still revilingly described them. As the first of them trooped by, there was no more than the hubbub of ordinariness with the brassbands of their arms, all a little white and soft when compared with the battered French soldiers who had preceded them.

Then suddenly from far up the avenue came the sound of something different—a rumble of cheering that swelled till it was like a roar of oncoming waters. For a while it was impossible to see what was causing it, but the excitement was near, nearer. Then it engulfed us, for there under the shower of blossoms tossed down from the French planes that were swooping and circling just overhead, stepping along with magnificent unconcern, were the doughboys of the Second Division. The French men from Chateau-Thierry and the crowds knew them by their helmets and their faces and the look and air of them.

It was a much uplifted onlooker who felt himself that he might have disgraced himself by an outbreak of which the nation could never have approved had he not been overpowered at the moment by the deeper emotion of embarrassment. For just then a bevy of old French women with their gray children, frustrated in their fond efforts to get through the crowd and at the marchers, contented themselves by pelting him, instead, with roses. What he lacked as an approximation to their ideals of American soldierly behavior was, perhaps, in his excellence as a target. Anyway, he knew that every Frenchman in that tossing multitude was thinking: "Here is the real thing for America at last," and he was glowing with pride because those men were the ones in the strange whirligig of history, were filling along the avenue of the Elysian Fields that morning were his own countrymen.

Summer Frock for Home-Sewing

This shirtmaker frock is cut out to go places—shopping, calling, motor-ing, to business. It's tailored, yet feminine; youthful, yet dignified. The bodice is cut comfortably cool and full; the front skirt pleat (open below the knee) gives freedom in walking. You can get stunning effects from this easy-to-use pattern—with striped silk shirting, silk shantung or sheer wool. And in seersucker, cotton shirting or gingham—this model is perfect. Pattern is available in sizes 14 to 20; 32 to 42. Send 15c today for pattern X2150 to St. Louis Post-Dispatch Pattern Department, 243 West 17th Street, New York, N. Y.

American players with second rate American players should have felt the same emotion which strangled me that July morning in Paris five years before. There certainly was the real thing from America at last. The cheering was so great it could be heard in New York.

Even though it turned out that the London playgoers, used to the dramatic dishwater that had been his fare for so many seasons, proved unable to digest such strong and bitter meat as "Anna Christie" for longer than a brief diet, nothing could disturb our first contentment. London had now seen Pauline Lord in an O'Neill play, and so for the first time in this generation knew what the newspaper reviews had all the recognition for the strength of this actress that their friends at home could possibly have asked. Probably the satisfaction which all this recognition began in those watching from home had some of its origin in a knowledge of what a long, hard pull the theater had meant for Pauline Lord. When the battered leading woman of the Milwaukee stock company has the kind of great night in London of which the hungry newcomers who play the parlor maids dream at night in their cheerless hall bedrooms, the onlooker feels the glow of a happy ending and a renewed suspicion that there may be some justice in the world after all. Admittedly my own glow was greater because O'Neill and Pauline Lord were Americans doing us all proud in an alien land. And if that be patriotism, make the most of it.

Dusting Powder
The popular dusting powder if used in the bedroom certainly does play havoc with the rug or carpet in front of milady's dressing table. One of the pretty hooked rugs, rather light in color, may be placed over this spot. Then it can be shaken every day, whereas a powdered carpet means the sweeper or cleaner each time.

Miscellaneous Problems of Social Usage

Iced Tea Spoon Is Laid on Rim of Plate—Knife for Salad.

By Emily Post

Dear Mrs. Post: COUSIN's child, who is less than half my age, calls me Marion. To me this intimacy indicates a lack of respect and I can't bear to hear it. What could I do without upsetting the mother?
Answer: I would tell the child that your name is "Cousin Marion."

Dear Mrs. Post: What to do with an iced tea spoon after it has been used, seems to be my summer bug-bear. Very often there is nothing under the glass oyster. And certainly one can't drink tea from the glass with the spoon left in it.
Answer: Lay the spoon on the rim of your plate, or if the table is bare, dry the bowl in your mouth and lay it on the table. But if you have no plate, and table is covered with a cloth, then hold it with the index finger against the far side of the glass while you drink.

Dear Mrs. Post: What kind of knife is used for salad cutting, if any?
Answer: A silver bladed knife is proper.

Dear Mrs. Post: I'd like to be married in the cool of the evening but my relatives are talking about my "coming wedding." I'd never dreamed that mother cared so much about my having a conventional wedding. What can be done after six months? Can I go through the ceremony again and wear white and a train?
Answer: If you choose to have a second marriage after the secret one, I don't like to criticize you, since it is after all a matter that your own conscience must decide. Whether you can feel happy making a mockery of your family as well as all your dearest friends is something I can not answer. You can with propriety send out invitations to a wedding and you can have wedding cake. But honestly you cannot wear a bridal veil now unless your secret marriage was one of form only. In this case, you could have the service read again without deceit.

A little water and a lump of butter added to one cup of brown sugar and then put on the stove to simmer for about five minutes will result in a very good emergency table syrup for hot cakes or waffles.

An Accident Victim Offers Others Advice

Surgeon Who Lost Both Legs Has Recorded His Own Experiences.

By Logan Clendening, M. D.

IN LONDON there is a cheerful little man who has had both his legs amputated. He is a surgeon. He records his own personal experience for the benefit of others, under the heading, "The Criteria of Intolerable Pain."

He suffered that intolerable pain of both feet and demanded that they be amputated, because he could endure it no longer. He wrote:

"The clinical picture before operation is that of a man gradually wearing out in strength and spirit through pain, day and night, punctuated by bursts of acute agony which are a source of misery and anxiety to relatives and friends: immediately after amputation the patient rejoices in the sense of the daily access of increasing strength and good spirits."

Some Hints.
We must all have experienced that feeling some time of wanting to have some part of us that is undergoing pain actually cut off. A surgeon of my acquaintance told me not long ago of a patient who had walked into his consultation room that day holding out the pains themselves, although the memory of the circumstances and of the associated phenomena is vivid enough.

This patient has, however, not descended into Avernus in vain. He has some hints to help out the rest of humanity who may be suffering as he did.

"Within eight weeks or so the patient discovers a number of duties which he can perform, and his general health will proceed uphill continuously if he takes, say, four vigorous exercises daily in an arm-propelled chair—an exercise very nearly as satisfying as rowing."

"He will even take a sporting interest of a modest kind in learning to walk on artificial legs."

If any member of the profession with border-line cases on his hands cares to talk the problem over, and to learn sundry little devices for making the legless man's life comfortable and happy, I shall be only too glad to see him."

Questions From Readers.
L. S. G.: I am a girl; ever since I was 15 years old I have had unusually thick hair on my legs. I like to swim, and it is embarrassing to hear bystanders make remarks. I want something more permanent than depilatories. Is the X-ray reliable for this purpose?
Answer: The question of treating superfluous hair with the X-rays has long been a troublesome one to answer. In years gone by, many attempts have been made to devise a safe X-ray dose so as to avoid not only immediate but later changes affecting the skin. It has been found impossible to define such a dose that will remove hair and guarantee the patient no unpleasant skin effects later. Dermatologists, as well as radiologists, are quite in accord that electrolysis is the method of choice and a much safer procedure for removing superfluous hair. It is a tedious method and it takes a long time to produce results, but it is devoid of the insidious dangers that follow X-ray treatment.

Today

What would the United States do, bluff and back down, as it did, in an incident south of the Rio Grande, or send American soldiers to march around Africa, near the Equator, shooting Italian soldiers or being shot by them?
If Mussolini wants to go into Abyssinia, he will go. Washington knows it.

Uncle Sam sympathizes with Emperor Haile Selassie, of course. But he is the descendant of King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba, not of George Washington.

THE MAN OF FASHION

By ESQUIRE

IT MAY be true that the glowing descriptions in the travel ads of the cool, starlit nights at various summer resorts hold good throughout the Summer. Nevertheless, for most of us, even at the Summer resorts, a type of lighter weight informal evening attire is not only desirable, but quite imperative for thorough-going comfort. Fortunately, fashion gives its complete approval to several styles contributing to Summer comfort in evening clothes.

LIGHTWEIGHT DINNER COAT
Two dinner coats share equal favor for wear on hot Summer nights—one is conventional black or midnight blue constructed of light-weight worsted or tropical worsted.

CLUB-SHAPED BOW TIES
For evening wear with turned-down collars, the club shaped bow is favored, rather than the butterfly. The summer version of this features somewhat blunt corners rather than those too perfectly squared and makes a knot as wide as the width of the tie itself.

WINE COLORED HANDKERCHIEFS
Because of the fact that shawl collars on tuxedos carry no buttonholes, the popular boutonniere of either blue cornflowers or wine color.

THE HAT FOR INFORMAL WEAR
The problem of the hat to wear with informal summer clothes presents no difficulty as only one hat is suitable. This is the fairly fine weave sennit straw worn either with black band or with a band in one's club colors.

EVENING BRACES
The braces recommended for wear with the white or natural colored summer dinner jackets are preferably all white since black or colored braces are apt to show through the light weight materials.

EVENING WEAR FOOTNOTES
Particularly for those who plan an evening of dancing a pump of black patent leather offers the minimum of weight and maximum of comfort. However, the plain toe cap black patent leather oxford is the choice of most men for all evening occasions.

The casual murder of the day is supplied by Chicago. In his "disorder room," John Rose, 24 years old, a hotel cook, "husband of a toe-dancer at a local cafe," was found in a pool of blood, a nail file driven in his heart. The toe-dancer wife, popularly known as "Mae," coming home at 1 o'clock, finding her husband on the floor, decided that he was drunk, went to a nearby cafe, got a drink, returned to realize the worst.

What could Sherlock Holmes do about that, apart from fingerprints?

With attached soft collar made with a wide center pleat and with wide side pleats. Or another choice may be a white broadcloth or silk shirt with or without pleats worn with a turned down laundered collar. Both of these shirts were worn during the evening by well turned out men at smart gathering places, such as Palm Beach and Nassau.

of the Admiralty, Sir Bolton Eyres-McKenna, is "prepared to scrap the submarine force already built and those she is building. If other nations will do likewise."

That sounds peaceful, but do you believe it? England is anxious to believe anything that will quiet her mind about a submarine blockade of her food supplies. Would Hitler also scrap his airplanes? Floating ships can be destroyed as well from above as from below.

Summer Diet Suggestions For Children

Between-Meal Eating Worse for Undernourished Than Well-Fed Child.

By Angelo Patri

"AREN'T you going to eat your lunch, Shirley?"
"I don't care for any."
"But you must eat. If you don't eat you'll be sick."
"No, I won't. But I'd like an ice cream soda."
"Now, Shirley, you have had two ice cream cones and plenty of this morning already. You must eat your salad and bread and butter and drink your milk."
"All right, mother. I'll wait until afternoon. I'm not hungry, really."

Now what is to be done? The child needs to eat. It is warm weather and she has little appetite. What she ate has been settled by two ice cream cones and plenty of soda. It is impossible to force her to eat her lunch. If she does not eat she will lose weight and health. Then why the ice cream cone in the morning? Or why two?

Some children are husky enough to eat an ice cream cone in the morning and never know they are fat. When lunch time arrives, but the thin, underweight children who have little appetite for food can not have in-between sweets like that without getting into difficulties. For them it is best to stick to the schedule and embellish it with ice cream for dessert. The thought of the dish of ice cream is enough to carry a child through.

Be satisfied not to overfeed these non-eating children in warm weather. Let them eat a light meal if they wish, and supplement it by nourishing food in-between, not sweets, but dainty sandwiches, wafer thin and filled with chopped spinach leaves, flavoured with salt and lemon juice and sprinkled with grated hard boiled egg yolk. Some such thing as that helps, but a dish of sweets hinders appetite.

Ice cream is fine food for children in warm weather. If it is homemade much the better. The good milk, eggs, cream, sugar, and what the active youngsters need. Served as a dessert at the end of a light meal, which consists mostly of fruit and vegetables, it is just the right thing. It is only when it is abused that ice cream becomes a forbidden delight.

Give fretful children plenty of pure cool water to drink. If a little lime or lemon juice and a hint of sugar makes it go down better, add them. The warm weather brings the need for drinking water and the underweight children are likely to drink enough. A bottle of drinking water kept in the ice box is better than the ice water usually prepared for them.

A light nutritious diet of fruit, vegetables, milk and eggs, and plenty of pure cool water, served for dessert, nothing between meals, will go far toward making life easier for mothers and children during the warm spells.

An Ounce of Prevention
When children arrive at the investigating age, it is time to put matches, scissors, medicines and similar articles out of their reach and to keep them out of their reach until they fully understand the danger of each article and how to handle it.

My dear Mrs. Carr: I WAS particularly interested in the letter of "One Who Tried." This young chap's letter just reeks with the idea that "Poor little me has been terribly abused." Generally speaking, when such an idea pops into the head of a person it is only because this person is trying to justify his own behavior, which he knows is just as wrong as that of his offenders. Self-pity, to me, has always meant the inability of such a one to "take it on the chin like a man."

Has this young man stopped to think, if only one of his friends had changed on his return from California, it might be explained as merely a logical human shift; but when all of his friends have changed (as he implies in his letter) that he should take of the outer garment of self-pity and look at his true inner self? TRYING TO HELP.

Dear Mrs. Carr: I JUST want to let the "Stout Girl" know that some men like to take out stout girls. I am 25 years old and have gone with only two girls in my life—and, in my life, I have seen some stout girls with a nicer figure than some of the thin girls.

But tell me how are the good men and the good girls ever going to meet? A GOOD ONE.

Dear Martha Carr: I HILE I was away on my vacation I met a very nice boy. We liked each other very much and went everywhere together. When we parted we did not mention anything about writing to each other. I would like to know if I could write him first or wait for him to write to me.

I think it would be better policy to wait until he writes you. Of course if there is any real reason for you to write him, you could do so. As a rule, if a boy is eager to follow up such an acquaintance, he asks the girl to write or takes this initiative himself.

Dear Mrs. Carr: I WANT to present myself as an example of what the younger generation is up against. Two years ago, at the age of 18, I was graduated from high school. I was very lucky in obtaining work the first week I was out of school. It was common labor, but I was glad of the chance. About three months later I was laid off. Since then I have had just about one month's work. Both factories where I have been employed gave me excellent references, but though I have tried every way I know, I cannot get a thing to do.

My father was a part time and my mother was a full time. I am very tall and strong and better able to work than he. He goes to work while I must lie around the house and be an added expense and burden. My father is understanding that I am doing the best I can, but it makes me feel like a loafer. I get moody and when I go out I imagine everyone thinks I am no good. My parents made many sacrifices to put me through school. Now I should be repaying them. I had four years of mechanical drafting and I am used to be merry and carefree, and now I am ashamed to go out. Most of my friends are working and a fellow couldn't have more loyal friends than I. They call for me every time they go anywhere and offer to pay all my expenses. Now, I am normal and like to date girls and again my friends offer to stand my expense, but it makes me feel cheaper than ever.

I am so fortunate in having such loving friends, and all I want is an opportunity to look people in the face again.

Now, Mrs. Carr, I realize that your column isn't an employment agency—but I have tried everything else and can furnish all the references anyone wants. There may be some more intelligent fellows, but there are none more earnest. I am leaving my address, but please do not publish it.

PLUGGING ALONG.
Your principles are right and your sensibilities do you credit. But you must not allow your time to be wasted and your mental ability to be stunted by being moody, and, besides, shake this off if it takes every effort you can put into it. That is your test right now. Look up new spare-time occupations and interests and keep up your physical condition with some kind of work at home or elsewhere and what we call a "hobby." And let me suggest that when you do apply for work, be as definite as possible. I am mailing you the Community Council booklet "Adventures in Spare Time," which I am sure will be an inspiration to you. If I have any letters for you they will be forwarded. Meantime accept a few of the offers of your friends (not many) and keep an accounting, considering them as a tie of friendly return, which you should try to return as soon as you are in a position to do so.

Dear Mrs. Carr: THE "Scher's Manguan Orchestra" extends an invitation to the young lady signed "R. S." of June 24 in your column. ## SNAPSHOTS FROM HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, July 4.
TAKES a lot of money for William Powell to keep up that mansion he built in Beverly Hills, but Bill makes a lot of money, because at the moment he probably is as much in demand as any actor in the movies. RKO now is doing a little boasting, because they have persuaded him to star in another picture, "Two O'Clock Courage"—a sort of man-about-town role something on the order of "Star of Midnight."

Rex, the wild horse, is coming back into pictures for Universal. And that reminds me that Elinor Glyn said that Rex had "it," and much more than any star in the movies. I suppose that is beside the point, but it is interesting to know that Rex and his colt will be starred in "Stormy," an original story by Carey Wilson and, of course, it isn't a Western, it's a tale of wild horses and will be made at Tuba, Ariz. are all a part of this horse opera and horse opera is what I mean.

More Drama.
Jock Whitney may have the title "Hamlet" tied up for the screen, but he has no strings on it for the stage, and Leslie Howard is trying to persuade Warner Brothers to finance him in a stage production of the Shakespearean classic. If the public is sufficiently Shakespeare-minded to accept the popular matinee idol as Hamlet, it will then be brought to the screen. This little experiment, however, will not be made until Leslie finishes "The Petrified Forest," which is his next picture for Warners after he reaches Hollywood. Diana Bourne, whose chief job in life is radio, is doing a lot of authoring on the side. Diana's picture, "Atlantic Adventure," is now in production at Columbia studios and it stars lovely Nancy Carroll, who is back from New York and who, by the way, is seen more and more with Van Smith. It wouldn't surprise me if these two slipped away to Yuma as soon as Nancy is legal-

By MARTHA CARR

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest but, of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for personal reply.

He goes to work while I must lie around at home and be an added expense and burden. My father is understanding and realizes I am doing the best I can, but it makes me feel like a loafer. I get moody and when I go out I imagine everyone thinks I am no good. My parents make many sacrifices to put me through school. Now I should be repaying them. I had four years of mechanical drafting.

I used to be merry and carefree, but now I am ashamed to go out. Most of my friends are working and a fellow couldn't have more loyal friends than I. They call for me every time they go anywhere and offer to pay all expenses. Now, I am normal and like to date girls and again my friends offer to stand by my expense, but it makes me feel cheaper than ever.

I am so fortunate in having such parents and friends, and all I want is an opportunity to look people in the face again.

Now, Mrs. Carr, I realize that your column isn't an employment agency—but I have tried everything else and can't furnish all the references anyone wants. There are more intelligent fellows, but there are none more earnest. I am leaving my address, but please do not publish it.

PLUGGING ALONG.

your principles are right and your sensibilities do you credit. But you must not allow your time to be wasted and your mental ability to be stunted by being moody, and endless. Shake this off if it takes every effort you can put into it. That is your test right now. Look up new spare-time occupations and interests and keep up your physical condition with some kind of work at home or elsewhere and what remedies you can find. And let me suggest that when you do apply for work, be as definite as possible.

I am mailing you the Community Council booklet "Adventures in Spare Time," which I am sure will be an inspiration to you. If I have any letters for you they will be forwarded. Meantime accept a few of the offers of your friends (not many) and keep an accounting, considering them as a friendly debt, which you should try to return as soon as you are in a position to do so.

Dear Mrs. Carr:
"Scher's Manguiban Orchestra" extends an invitation to the young lady signed "R. S." of June 24 in your column. This orchestra, as the name suggests, consists of mandolins, guitars, banjos, and also other stringed instruments such as cello, mando-cello, etc., directed by Harry Scher. It is a non-profit organization, giving entertainment for churches and charitable institutions. We play standard and classic mu-

My dear Mrs. Carr:
I WAS particularly interested in the letter of "One Who Tried." This young chap's letter just reeks with the idea that "Poor little me has been terribly abused." Generally speaking, when such an idea pops into the head of a person it is only because this person is trying to justify his own behavior, which he knows is just as wrong as that of his offenders. Self-pity, to me, has always meant the inability of such a one to "take it on the chin like a man."

Has this young man stopped to think, if only one of his friends had changed on his return from California, it might be explained as merely a logical human shift; but when he implies in his letter that he should take off the outer garment of self-pity and look at his true inner self? TRYING TO HELP.

Dear Mrs. Carr:
I JUST want to let the "Stout Girl" know that some men like to take out stout girls. I am 25 years old and have gone with only two girls in my life—and, in my life, I have seen some stout girls with a nicer figure than some of the thin girls.

But tell me how are the good men and the good girls ever going to meet? A GOOD ONE.

Dear Martha Carr:
I HILE I was away on my vacation I met a very nice boy. We liked each other very much and went everywhere together. When we parted we did not mention anything about writing to each other. I would like to know if I could write him first or wait for him to write to me.

BLUE EYES.

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest but, of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for personal reply.

I think it would be better policy to wait until he writes you. Of course if there is any real reason for you to write him, you could do so. As a rule, if a boy is eager to follow up such an acquaintance, he asks the girl to write or takes this initiative himself.

Dear Mrs. Carr:
I WANT to present myself as an example of what the younger generation is up against. Two years ago, at the age of 18, I was graduated from high school. I was very lucky in obtaining work the first week I was out of school. It was common labor, but I was glad of the chance. About three months later I was laid off. Since then I have had just about one month's work. Both factories where I have been employed gave me excellent references, but though I cannot get a thing to do.

My father works part time and earns enough just to keep us going. I am very tall and strong and better able to work than he. He goes to work while I must lie around at home and be an added expense and burden. My father is understanding and realizes I am doing the best I can, but it makes me feel like a loafer. A close-up photograph of a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and a small dark spot near the center. A faint horizontal line is visible near the top edge, possibly a fold or a binding artifact. The page is set against a dark background.

Will Take a 12-Foot Dinghy

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

THE French have the biggest floating tourist camp now. But the English are busy hammering the bonnets on the Queen Mary.

That will be the most tremendous front porch that ever floated away from the house. And will be about 90,000 wet tons in its stocking feet.

She will smack the surface in 1936, just when our presidential candidates are bobbing up for the third time. Provided, of course, that nobody bombs her at the wharf. They have a quaint idea of business competition in forgetful old Europe.

She will probably be finished before she sails. The passengers on the Normandie danced to an orchestra of 300 carpenters who hammered all the way over and all the way back again. We used to have some pretty nice boats ourselves. There was a time when the Yankee tea clipper raced everything off the seven seas. But now we are out of business and the whole racket is as lop-sided as a one-finned whale.

LEGATION ORDERS U. S. CITIZENS TO LEAVE ETHIOPIA

Americans Told to Get Out as Quickly as Possible—New Developments Apparently Expected.

125 THERE, 110
ARE MISSIONARIES

Note Keeping Washington Government Out of Kingdom's Dispute With Italy Is Received.

By the Associated Press.

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, July 6. —The United States Legation ordered all Americans today to leave Ethiopia as quickly as possible. Diplomatic circles take the order to mean that the United States expects immediate developments in the controversy between Ethiopia and Italy.

The United States' reply to Ethiopia's appeal invoking the provisions of the Briand-Kellogg pact was received at the Legation at noon.

It was not immediately transmitted to the government and indications were it might not be handed to the Foreign Minister until Monday.

Three American Missionary Groups in Ethiopia.

State Department records indicate there are 125 United States citizens in Ethiopia, 110 of whom are missionaries. The missionaries represent the Seventh Day Adventists of Tacoma Park, Md., the Sudan Frontier Mission, with headquarters at Brooklyn, N. Y., and the Women's General Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, with headquarters in Pittsburgh.

Recently, since the list of Americans in Ethiopia was compiled, press dispatches reported that some of the missionaries had begun to leave in anticipation of trouble.

The most important American business interest in Ethiopia is that of the J. G. White Engineering Co., engaged in constructing the great dam at Lake Tsana at the headwaters of the Nile.

Everett W. Colson, a citizen of the United States, has been financial adviser to the Ethiopian Government since 1931 and makes his home in Addis Ababa with his wife. The other known Americans permanently resident there are 12 Negroes.

The American legation staff consists of William Perry George of Gadsden, Ala., secretary and acting Charge d'Affaires, and William M. Crump of Philadelphia, third secretary. George Hanson, veteran diplomatic agent of the State Department, is en route to Addis Ababa to become permanent Charge d'Affaires.

U. S. Replies; Refuses to Take Hand in Ethiopian Dispute.

WASHINGTON, July 6. —The United States has sidestepped entanglement in the Italian-Ethiopian controversy by suggesting that the League of Nations, which already is arbitrating the dispute, continue its efforts to achieve a peaceful solution.

Secretary of State Hull, in a note dispatched late yesterday to Haile Selassie I, Emperor of Ethiopia, added that this Government has "loath to believe" either Italy or Ethiopia "would resort to other than peaceful means."

Hull sent the note to William George, United States Charge d'Affaires in Addis Ababa, for delivery.

The text: "I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of Your Imperial Majesty's note of July 3, 1935, and to inform Your Imperial Majesty that I immediately communicated its contents to my Government. I have been instructed by my Government to reply to your note as follows: "My Government, interested as it is in the maintenance of peace in all parts of the world, is gratified that the League of Nations, with a view to a peaceful settlement, has given its attention to the controversy which has unhappily arisen between your Government and the Italian Government and that the controversy is now in process of arbitration. "My Government hopes that whatever the facts, merits of the controversy may be, the arbitral agency may be able to arrive at a decision satisfactory to both of the governments immediately concerned. "Furthermore, and of great importance, in view of the provisions of the Pact of Paris, to which both Italy and Abyssinia are parties, in common with 61 other countries, my Government would be loath to believe that either of them would re-
